SOLIDARITY WITH MEDICAL DEVICE REPROCESSING ATTENDANTS!

Medical device reprocessing attendants have been waiting for more than 10 years for the government to recognize the real value of their work. The Fédération de la santé et des services sociaux (FSSS-CSN) filed pay equity grievances for the attendants in 2010 and the government has been fighting the case ever since.

Reprocessing attendants are mission-critical

The attendants play a key role in hospitals: their work makes it possible for surgeries to be performed safely. With the pandemic, their responsibilities have increased because they have to sterilize PPE as well. Their work has also grown much more complex over the years.

Pay equity: 10 years is too long!

The time has come for the government to settle the pay equity complaints for workers such as the medical device reprocessing attendants, who have been waiting for years.

FSSS-CSN reprocessing attendants launched a campaign several weeks ago to pressure the government to move on the issue.

Support their fight and demand recognition for the attendants!
