

Waiting for pay equity:
~~1~~¹² years
is too long!

Waiting for
pay equity:
~~1~~¹² years
is too long!

Waiting for
pay equity:
~~1~~¹² years
is too long!

Waiting for
pay equity:
~~1~~¹² years
is too long!

The fight against pay discrimination isn't over!

Office staff have been waiting for more than ~~1~~¹² years for their pay equity complaints to be resolved and their salaries to be adjusted.

We need a settlement now!

The health care system is struggling to attract and retain staff. It will face major challenges especially as it strives to catch up after the pandemic-related delays. Ending the wage discrimination that affects thousands of workers is an easy way for the government to recognize the value of their work at last—and to comply with its own law.

The fight against pay discrimination isn't over!

Office staff have been waiting for more than ~~1~~¹² years for their pay equity complaints to be resolved and their salaries to be adjusted.

We need a settlement now!

The health care system is struggling to attract and retain staff. It will face major challenges especially as it strives to catch up after the pandemic-related delays. Ending the wage discrimination that affects thousands of workers is an easy way for the government to recognize the value of their work at last—and to comply with its own law.

The fight against pay discrimination isn't over!

Office staff have been waiting for more than ~~1~~¹² years for their pay equity complaints to be resolved and their salaries to be adjusted.

We need a settlement now!

The health care system is struggling to attract and retain staff. It will face major challenges especially as it strives to catch up after the pandemic-related delays. Ending the wage discrimination that affects thousands of workers is an easy way for the government to recognize the value of their work at last—and to comply with its own law.

The fight against pay discrimination isn't over!

Office staff have been waiting for more than ~~1~~¹² years for their pay equity complaints to be resolved and their salaries to be adjusted.

We need a settlement now!

The health care system is struggling to attract and retain staff. It will face major challenges especially as it strives to catch up after the pandemic-related delays. Ending the wage discrimination that affects thousands of workers is an easy way for the government to recognize the value of their work at last—and to comply with its own law.