ARTICLES

ARTICLE 1

DEFINITIONS

1.01 Employee

Means any person included in the bargaining unit who works for the employer in return for remuneration. This term also designates "a union officer on leave" as provided in Article 7 of this collective agreement.

An employee who temporarily holds a position outside the bargaining unit continues to be covered by the collective agreement. However, the employer's decision to return that employee to their regular position cannot be grieved.

1.02 Full-time employee

Means any employee who works the number of hours stipulated for their job title.

Employees on the recall list who have a full-time assignment scheduled to last for six (6) months or more are considered to be full-time employees for this period. The parties may agree otherwise in local arrangements.

1.03 Part-time employee

Means any employee who works fewer hours than the number stipulated for their job title. A part-time employee who from time to time works the total number of hours stipulated for their job title continues to have part-time status.

1.04 Promotion

Means the transfer of an employee from one position to another with a pay scale that has a higher maximum.

1.05 Transfer

Means the transfer of an employee from one position to another, with or without a change in job title, with a pay scale that has an identical maximum.

1.06 Demotion

Means the transfer of an employee from one position to another with a pay scale that has a lower maximum.

1.07 Spouse

"Spouse" means persons:

- a) who are married and living together;
- b) who are in a civil union and living together;
- c) of the same or different sex who are living as if they were married and are the father or mother of the same child;

- d) of the same or different sex who have been living as if they were married for at least one (1) year.

1.08 Dependent child

Means the child of an employee, of the employee's spouse or of both who is neither married nor in a civil union and resides or is domiciled in Canada, who is dependent on the employee for support and who meets one of the following conditions:

- is less than eighteen (18) years old;
- is twenty-five (25) years of age or younger and attends a recognized educational institution as a duly registered full-time student;
- regardless of their age, became totally disabled at a time when they met one of the above conditions and has remained continuously disabled since then.

1.09 Probation period

All new employees undergo a probation period. During this period, they are entitled to all the benefits of this collective agreement. A new employee who is dismissed during this period is not, however, entitled to the grievance procedure.

The terms and length of the probation period are negotiated and agreed upon locally.

An employee acquires seniority once their probation period has ended in accordance with the terms of Article 12.

1.10 Displacement

When the term "displacement" is used, its definition is what has been negotiated and agreed upon locally.

1.11 Position

When the term "position" is used, its definition is what has been negotiated and agreed upon locally.

During an initiation and trial period, an employee who decides to return to their former position or who is asked to do so by the employer does so without prejudice to their vested rights in that former position.

1.12 Service

When the term "service" is used, its definition is what has been negotiated and agreed upon locally.

1.13 Position temporarily without an incumbent

When the term "position temporarily without an incumbent" is used, its definition is what has been negotiated and agreed upon locally.

1.14 Recall list

When the term "recall list" is used, its definition is what has been negotiated and agreed upon locally.

Before employing a person from outside the institution, the employer uses the employees on the recall list, in accordance with the terms and conditions agreed upon locally.

ARTICLE 2

PURPOSE

The purpose of these provisions is, on the one hand, to establish orderly relations between the parties as well as to encourage good relations between the employer and employees and, on the other hand, to define good working conditions for the employees, including the promotion of their safety and welfare.

ARTICLE 3

GENERAL PROVISIONS

3.01 The employer takes the necessary steps to prevent accidents, ensure safety and promote employees' health.

3.02 For the purposes of applying this collective agreement, neither management, nor the union nor their respective representatives may use threats, exercise constraint or discriminate against an employee on the basis of their race, colour, nationality, social background, language, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, marital status, age, religious beliefs or lack thereof, political opinions, handicap, family relations, parental status or the exercise of a right conferred upon them by this collective agreement or the law.

Discrimination exists when such a distinction, exclusion or preference denies, compromises or restricts a right conferred upon an employee by this collective agreement or the law on one of the grounds mentioned above.

Despite the above, a distinction, exclusion or preference based on the aptitudes or qualifications required to perform the duties involved in a position is considered to be non-discriminatory.

When the context so requires, any word in the masculine form also denote the feminine.

3.03 Employees exercise their rights under the name given to them that appears on their birth certificate.

3.04 An employee who is a member of the board of directors of a health and social services council is given time off without loss of remuneration in order to attend health and social services council board meetings upon request to their immediate supervisor, who may not refuse it without a valid reason.

Upon request to their immediate supervisor, an employee who is a member of the institution's board of administration is given time off without loss of remuneration in order to attend board meetings.

3.05 Psychological harassment

The provisions of articles 81.18, 81.19, 123.7, 123.15 and 123.16 of the Act respecting labour standards (CQLR c N-1.1) are an integral part of this collective agreement.

3.06 Psychological harassment is not tolerated in any form. To this end, the employer and the union co-operate to prevent psychological harassment by establishing appropriate measures of information and education, to be agreed upon by the local parties.

3.07 The employer and the union agree not to publish or distribute sexist posters or brochures.

3.08 Local parties may agree upon a procedure for handling complaints of psychological harassment.

3.09 Despite the time limit stipulated in clause 10.01, any complaint regarding psychological harassment must be filed within ninety (90) days of the last manifestation of such conduct.

Valuing, promoting and preserving public services

3.10 The parties recognize the importance of:

- maintaining quality public services and identifying where savings can be made;
- working to maintain and develop the expertise of employees in the public health and social services system;
- having the objective of preserving jobs in the public health and social services system and giving preference to having work done in-house;
- discussing concrete proposals for improving how things are done outside the formal context of collective bargaining.

ARTICLE 4

MANAGEMENT RIGHTS

The union recognizes the employer's right to exercise its executive, management and administrative duties in a manner that is compatible with the provisions of this collective agreement.

ARTICLE 5

UNION RECOGNITION

5.01 The employer hereby recognizes the union as the sole bargaining agent for the purpose of negotiating and reaching a collective agreement on behalf of all employees covered by the certification.

5.02 If a difficulty arises in interpreting the text of the certification, no arbitrator may be asked to interpret the meaning of that text.

5.03 No individual agreement between an employee and the employer on working conditions different from those provided in this collective agreement or on working conditions not provided for in this agreement is valid unless it has received the union's written approval.

5.04 Security guard

A security guard must not give any orders to employees in other job titles covered by the certification in the accomplishment of their work.

5.05 Files

Upon request to the personnel manager or the manager's representative, employees may always consult their file as soon as possible, in the presence of a union representative if they so desire.

This file includes:

- the employee's job application;
- the hiring form;
- all authorizations for deductions;
- applications for promotions, transfers or demotions;
- copies of degrees, diplomas and attestations of studies or experience;
- health office reports sent to the personnel department;
- copies of disciplinary reports;
- copies of work accident reports;
- the notice of departure;
- administrative measures listed in clause 5.12;
- formal and periodic appraisal reports, after a copy has been given to and discussed with the employee;
- notices of appointments to a position;
- documents about experience acquired or recognized.

5.06 Right to be accompanied

An employee called in for a meeting with a representative of the employer regarding their employment relationship or job status, a disciplinary matter or the settlement of a grievance may demand to be accompanied by a union representative.

5.07 Disciplinary measures

An employer who suspends or dismisses an employee has four (4) calendar days to inform the employee in writing of the facts and reasons for the dismissal or suspension.

The employer has the same four (4) calendar days to notify the union in writing of any suspension or dismissal.

5.08 No offence can be held against an employee if one (1) year has passed since it was committed, providing that no similar offence has been committed within the year (12 months).

5.09 A decision to suspend or dismiss must be communicated within thirty (30) days of the incident giving rise to the decision, or no later than thirty (30) days after the employer becomes acquainted with all the facts relevant to the incident.

The thirty (30)-day time limit stipulated above does not apply if the decision to suspend or dismiss is the result of a repetition of certain facts or of chronic behaviour on the employee's part.

5.10 Resignation

An arbitrator may weigh the circumstances surrounding an employee's resignation and the significance of the latter's consent.

5.11 Admission

An admission signed by an employee may not be used against them before an arbitrator unless:

- 1- the admission was signed in the presence of a duly authorized union representative;
- 2- the admission was signed in the absence of a duly authorized union representative but was not repudiated in writing by the employee within seven (7) days of when it was signed.

5.12 Administrative measures

An employer who implements an administrative measure other than a disciplinary measure or layoff that has a temporary or permanent effect on an employee's employment relationship has four (4) calendar days to inform the employee in writing of the basic facts and reasons for the measure.

The employer has the same four (4) days to notify the union in writing of the measure imposed.

5.13 Vacant and newly created positions

The employer informs the union of any vacant or newly created positions, in accordance with the terms negotiated and agreed upon locally.

ARTICLE 6

UNION SYSTEM AND CHECKOFF OF UNION DUES

6.01 All employees who are members in good standing of the union at the time this collective agreement comes into force, and all who become members of the union afterwards, must maintain their union membership for the duration of the collective agreement as a condition of their continued employment.

6.02 All new employees have ten (10) calendar days from their first (1st) day of work to become members of the union as a condition of continued employment. Upon hiring, the employer informs employees of this provision.

6.03 The employer is not, however, obliged to dismiss an employee whom the union expels from its ranks. Such an employee nevertheless remains subject to the stipulations on the checkoff of union dues.

6.04 For the duration of this collective agreement, the employer deducts the union dues set by the union or an equal amount from the pay of every employee who has completed ten (10) calendar days of employment and remits the amounts deducted to the union treasurer once per accounting period (minimum twelve (12) periods per year), within fifteen (15) calendar days of when they are collected.

Along with the remittance of dues, the employer prepares and provides a detailed statement of the names of employees for whom dues have been deducted, their pay and the dues checked off.

The employer is responsible for seeing that this clause is implemented in full.

6.05 Upon receiving a new member's written authorization, the employer deducts the initiation fee set by the union and remits it to the union together with regular dues.

6.06 If either party requests that the Tribunal administratif du travail rule on whether a person is part of the bargaining unit, the employer checks off the employee's union dues or the equivalent until the Tribunal's decision has been rendered and then remits them in accordance with that decision.

This checkoff is done starting the beginning of the month following when such a motion is filed.

The employer is responsible for seeing that this clause is implemented in full.

6.07 Once a month, the employer provides the union with two copies of a list of new employees, indicating the following information: hiring date, address, job title, service, rate of pay, employee number, social insurance number and status; as well as a list indicating departure dates. The list of departures must indicate the service in which the employee worked.

6.08 The amount of union dues must appear on the T-4 and Relevé 1 forms in accordance with the various regulations of the department or ministry concerned.

ARTICLE 7

LEAVE FOR UNION WORK

7.01 Within thirty (30) calendar days of when this collective agreement comes into force, the union provides the employer with a list of its local representatives (officers, directors, union officers on leave, grievance officers).

The union provides the employer with a list of its official delegates within ten (10) calendar days of their appointment or election. Any changes to the lists mentioned in this article are communicated to the employer within ten (10) calendar days of the change.

7.02 Official union delegates may, upon written request by the union ten (10) calendar days in advance, take leave from work with no loss of pay in order to attend conventions of the Confédération des syndicats nationaux (CSN), the Fédération de la santé et des services sociaux – CSN (FSSS-CSN) and central councils, as well as FSSS-CSN federal councils.

The employer continues, however, to pay the employees concerned remuneration equal to what they would receive if they were at work, providing that the union reimburses the pay, additional remuneration provided in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O, applicable premiums, benefits and the employer's share of employee benefit plans. The reimbursement must be made within thirty (30) days of the employer's claim.

7.04 The written requests stipulated in clauses 7.02 and 7.03 must state the name of the employee(s) on behalf of whom the leave is requested, as well as the nature, duration and location of the union activity for which the leave is requested.

7.05 In the event that the ten (10) calendar days of notice stipulated in clauses 7.02 and 7.03 cannot be given for an unforeseeable or urgent reason, the union indicates in writing the reasons why the ten (10) days of notice is not respected.

The work schedules of these employees are in no way modified as a result of the above leave unless the parties so agree.

7.06 The employer grants union leave with no loss of pay to an employee or employees designated by the union for any internal union activities.

This leave for union work, except that provided under clauses 7.07, 7.11, 7.12, 7.13 and 7.14, is deducted from the annual bank of days of leave for union work, capped at the following maximum number of days:

Number of employees in the bargaining unit on January 1 of each year	Number of days of paid union leave per year
	Institution that is not the result of an amalgamation under Bill 10 ¹	CISSS or CIUSSS with a distance of less than 240 km between the two (2) facilities furthest apart	CISSS or CIUSSS with a distance of 240 km or more between the two facilities furthest apart

The distance between the two (2) facilities the furthest apart of a Centre intégré de santé et de services sociaux (CISSS) or a Centre intégré universitaire de santé et de services sociaux (CIUSSS) is calculated by road within the territory covered by the institution.

After the number of days of leave set out above has been used up, the days of leave provided for in clause 7.02 may be used for internal union activities.

If the bargaining unit has fewer than fifty (50) members, a local union representative may be given leave with no loss of pay, with the authorization of the employer or the latter's representative.

7.07 Union representatives may be given leave to meet with the institution's authorities by appointment.

7.08 Union representatives may also be given leave to meet with employees in the institution during working hours concerning grievances to be discussed or investigations of working conditions, following a request to the personnel manager or the latter's representative five (5) days in advance. The union representatives and employees concerned do not incur any loss of pay as a result.

7.09 Upon request to the personnel manager or the personnel manager's representative five (5) days in advance, an outside union representative may meet with any employee covered by the certification during working hours in an office in the institution reserved for this purpose, without any loss of pay for the employee.

7.10 The employer provides the union with a suitable office that the union or union officer on leave may use in order to meet with employees and discuss investigations, requests for information or any other union matter.

If the office cannot be used exclusively for union purposes, the employer provides the union with a filing cabinet that locks.

7.11 The union representative, the employee concerned and witnesses in an arbitration case are given leave with no loss of pay.

However, witnesses only have time off work for the time the arbitrator considers necessary.

7.12 For group grievances, the group is represented by a person mandated by the union.

7.13 An employee who is a member of a joint committee composed of a representative appointed by the government and/or the employer on the one hand and union representatives on the other, as well as an employee asked by the committee to take part in its work, is entitled to take leave from work upon notice to the employer with no loss of pay in order to attend meetings of the committee or to do work required by the committee.

7.14 For the purpose of attending all local or regional bargaining sessions, the employer gives leave with no loss of pay to employees designated by the union.

The number of employees to be given union leave is as follows

Number of employees in the bargaining unit on January 1 of each year	Number of employees to be given union leave
1,001 or more	4

For the purpose of preparing for sessions on local arrangements and the local or regional bargaining sessions provided for in this clause, the parties may, by local arrangement, agree on union leave for employees.

7.15 For the purpose of applying this article, employees who are granted leave with no loss of pay receive remuneration equal to what they would receive if they were at work.

7.16 When a part-time employee is given paid union leave, this leave is taken into account for the purpose of calculating disability insurance benefits as well as allowances provided by the article on parental rights and job security benefits for layoffs.

7.17 The reference period for the purpose of applying the union leave quanta runs from April 1 to March 31.

7.18 Any employee called upon by the union, the FSSS-CSN or the CSN to take on permanent union duties (for a minimum of three (3) months) retains and accumulates seniority and retains the vested rights they had on the date of their departure.

The union must request this leave without pay in writing at least fifteen (15) days in advance and provide the employer with details as to the nature and probable length of the employee's absence.

7.19 If the duties do not constitute an elected position, the employee must return to the employer's service within fifteen (15) months of going on leave. If they do not so, they are considered to have resigned on the date on which they left the institution.

7.20 If the duties do constitute an elected position, the leave without pay is automatically renewable from year to year, providing the employee continues to hold elected office.

7.21 An employee who wishes to return to their job and who fulfills the conditions mentioned in clauses 7.18, 7.19 and 7.20 must give the employer at least fifteen (15) calendar days of notice if the union duties constituted an elected position, or thirty (30) calendar days of notice for a staff position.

7.22 If, however, the position the employee held at the time of going on leave is no longer available, the employer offers them another comparable position.

7.23 An employee performing union duties has the right to apply for a position that is posted and obtain it in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement as if they were at work, providing that they can begin work within thirty (30) days of being appointed to the position.

7.24 An employee performing union duties may be covered by group insurance and/or the pension plan in force at the time if they pay the entire premium for the insurance and/or pension plan every month and if the contract clauses allow them to do so.

Subject to the provisions of clause 23.14, participation in the basic health insurance plan is mandatory and the person must pay the full amount of the required contributions and premiums.

7.25 No later than December 31 of each year, the FSSS-CSN sends the Comité patronal de négociation du secteur de la santé et des services sociaux (CPNSSS) the list of employees who are officers for a national body, identifying the institution from which each one comes. This list may be modified by written notice from the FSSS-CSN to the CPNSSS at least fifteen (15) days in advance.

There are no more than thirty (30) days per year per employee of leave for this purpose, for a total of no more than three hundred (300) days per year for all institutions in the health and social services system.

An employee may take time off work with no loss of pay to perform their duties as an officer at a meeting of a national union body upon written request by the union to the employer at least ten (10) days in advance. A copy of the request is also sent to the CPNSSS.

7.26 Any paid or unpaid leave for an employee for union work stipulated by the collective agreement is granted providing that the employer can ensure the continuity of activities in the service, except for the leave for internal work agreed upon at least ten (10) days in advance.

7.27 — Transitional clauses

A) For amalgamated institutions

~~a) The transitional clauses regarding the number of days of union leave under clauses 7.02 and 7.06 for institutions resulting from an amalgamation under Bill 10 are established as follows:~~

~~However, for the period between the beginning of this application and the end of the reference period for the application of the quanta set out in clause 7.17, this number of days is prorated to the number of days remaining in this reference period.~~

REMUNERATION

8.01 Employees receive the pay for the position they hold, unless provided otherwise by the parties at the national level.

8.02 In the case of a temporary displacement, an employee does not incur any reduction in pay.

8.03 Any provision granting an employee a pay guarantee or non-reduction in pay must be interpreted and applied as guaranteeing an hourly rate of pay or a non-reduction of the hourly rate of pay.

Despite the above, the pay guarantee or non-reduction in pay is on a weekly basis if an employee is transferred in the same status or bumps another employee who has the same status in the course of the application of the bumping procedure or a special measure provided for in Article 14.

No employee incurs a reduction in pay as a result of a promotion or a transfer.

8.04 An employee who is promoted starts at the rate of pay provided on the scale for the new job title that is immediately higher than the one they received in the job title they are leaving.

If the pay received by an employee in their new job title in the twelve (12) months following a promotion is less than what they would have received in the job title they left, the employee receives the pay they would have received in the job title they left from that date on until they advance through the scale on the anniversary of their promotion.

8.05 In the case of a demotion, an employee is located on their new pay scale at the echelon that corresponds to their years of service in the institution.

8.06 In the case of a promotion, the date of the statutory increase is the anniversary date of the employee's promotion.

8.07 In the case of a transfer or a demotion, the date of the statutory increase is the anniversary date of the employee's hiring.

8.08 In the case of a promotion, transfer or demotion, the employee is entitled to the provisions of Article 17 (Years of prior experience), if applicable.

8.09 When there is a shift change, there must always be a minimum period of sixteen (16) hours between the end and the resumption of work; if not, the employee is remunerated at time-and-one-half for the hours worked within the sixteen (16)-hour period.

The parties may in local arrangements reduce the minimum number of hours between the end and the resumption of work.

8.10 An employee on steady evening or night shifts who is assigned to a day shift for the purpose of acquiring training, skills or practical experience required to perform their duties on the evening or night shifts receives remuneration for the training period equivalent to what they would have received had they stayed on the evening or night shift.

Employee working in more than one position

8.11 An employee who works in different positions during a week receives the pay for the highest-paid position, providing they have worked in that position for half the normal work week.

This clause does not apply to employees on the recall list.

8.12 An employee who works in different positions during one (1) week but is not entitled to the benefits of clause 8.11 receives the pay of the highest-paid position for the hours worked in that position, providing they have worked in it for the equivalent of one (1) regular day of work.

The equivalent of one (1) regular day of work must include a minimum period of two (2) continuous hours.

Part-time employees

8.13 Part-time employees are entitled to all the provisions of this collective agreement.

8.14 Their earnings are calculated in proportion to the hours worked.

8.15 Statutory holidays and annual vacation leave for a part-time employee are calculated and paid as follows.

1- Statutory holidays

5.7% applied to:

- pay, premiums¹ and additional remuneration provided for in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O, paid with each pay cheque;
- the pay the employee would have received if they had not been absent on unpaid sick leave when scheduled to work in their position or on an assignment, paid with each pay cheque;

1.27% applied to disability insurance benefits received and paid with each pay cheque during the first twelve (12) months of disability.

2- Annual vacation leave:

One of the following percentages:

Years of service on April 30	Number of working days of annual vacation	Percentage %
Less than 17 years	20 days	8.77
17 years -18 years	21 days	9.25
19 years - 20 years	22 days	9.73
21 years - 22 years	23 days	10.22
23 years - 24 years	24 days	10.71
25 years or more	25 days	11.21

The percentage is applied to:

- pay, premiums¹ and additional remuneration provided for in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O;
- the pay that the person would have received if they had not been absent on unpaid sick leave when scheduled to work in their position or on an assignment;
- the pay used to establish maternity, paternity, adoption or protective leave allowances;
- the pay used to establish disability insurance benefits during the first twelve (12) months of a disability, including that provided for an employment injury.

Fondaction and Bâtirente

8.16 Within thirty (30) days of an employee's request for a deduction at the source, the employer deducts the amount identified by the employee for contributions to Fondaction, Bâtirente or both. This deduction may be a fixed amount or a percentage of each pay cheque or a single annual amount. If the payroll system allows it, the employer adjusts the income taxes deducted at the source as permitted by tax regulations.

The employer stops deducting contributions thirty (30) days after an employee gives written notice to this effect.

The list of changes to be made in deductions must reach the employer between October 1 and October 31 or between March 15 and April 15 of each year.

8.17 The employer remits the contributions monthly, accompanied by a statement giving the name, address, date of birth, social insurance number and amount deducted for each employee. A copy of the statement is sent to the union.

¹ Evening and night shift, enhanced evening and night shift, shift rotation and weekend premiums are not taken into account.

8.18 The employer cannot be held accountable for any damages resulting from its deeds or omissions in relation to the deduction to be made at the source from an employee's pay under the terms of this article.

The employer agrees to rectify the situation as quickly as possible as soon as it is informed of the deed or omission.

Job titles, job descriptions and pay scales

8.19 Job titles, job descriptions and pay rates and scales are provided in the List of job titles, job descriptions and salary scales stemming from the December 15, 2005 Sessional Paper no. 2575-20051215 and subsequent modifications to it.

This document is called the "List of job titles, job descriptions and salary rates and scales in the health and social services network" and constitutes an integral part of this collective agreement.

The job descriptions give the main characteristics of the job titles. No stipulation in the List of job titles, job descriptions and salary rates and scales prevents an employee from being required to perform the duties they are authorized to perform by their membership in a professional order.

8.20 The employer pays employees the rates of pay provided for their job titles in the List of job titles, job descriptions and salary rates and scales in the health and social services network.

The job titles are grouped as follows:

- Code 1000: Professionals;
- Code 2000: Technicians;
- Code 3000: Para-technical;
- Code 4000: Trainees and students;
- Code 5000: Office employees;
- Code 6000: Trades and auxiliary services.

8.21 The number of weekly hours of work is the number provided for each job title.

The employer and the employee may, however, agree to a different distribution of work from the weekly hours of work for each job title, as long as the average weekly number of days and hours of work does not exceed the maximum number of days for a regular work week, which is five (5) days. The terms and conditions will be determined by the local parties. These terms and conditions do not affect stability of work teams and do not create overtime for the employee with a different distribution of work.

For the purpose of qualifying for overtime, the regular day of work for a full-time or part-time employee or an employee working on a replacement assignment is the one provided on the new schedule. The regular work week for a full-time employee or an employee replacing them fully is the one provided on the new schedule. For an employee who does replacement work on two (2) kinds of schedules, the regular work week is the one regularly scheduled for the job title.

8.22 When more than one (1) number of weekly hours of work is provided for a job title, the applicable number is the one that was provided for the job title or position in the 2000-2003 collective agreement. However, the number of hours in the work week applicable for an employee in the nursing and cardio-respiratory care class of personnel covered by Schedule 1 of the Act respecting bargaining units in the social affairs sector (CQLR c U-0.1) and working in a Centre intégré de santé et de services sociaux or a Centre intégré universitaire de santé et de services sociaux may be one of the number of hours stipulated in the List of job titles and job descriptions or a number of hours falling between the minimum and maximum number of hours.

Despite the above and subject to Letter of Agreement no. 54 regarding modification of the List of job titles for certain job titles, when a vacancy is posted or a position is newly created, the number of weekly hours of work applicable to the following job titles may be one of the number of weekly hours of work set out in the List of job titles, job descriptions and salary rates and scales in the health and social services network:

- human relations officer (1553);
- lawyer (1114);
- educator (2691);
- psycho-educator (1652);
- psychologist (1546);
- specialized education technician (2686);
- social worker (1550).

Furthermore, subject to Letter of Agreement no. 47 regarding modification of the List of job titles and increase in the number of weekly hours of work for employees working in the computer sector, when a vacancy is posted or a position is newly created, the number of weekly hours of work applicable to the following job titles may be one of the number of weekly hours of work set out in the List of job titles, job descriptions and salary rates and scales in the health and social services network:

- computer analyst (1123);
- specialized computer analyst (1124);
- computer technician (2123);
- specialized computer technician (2124);
- data processing operator, Class I (5108);
- data processing operator, Class II (5111).

The local parties may decide to apply a different number of weekly hours than what is prescribed for the job title or position as long as that number of hours is stipulated in the List of job titles.

In the case of a job title that has no prescribed number of weekly hours of work, the local parties may agree to make a joint request to the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux (MSSS) to modify the job title in order to stipulate a new number of weekly hours of work, as authorized under clause 31.02.

8.23 Integration into pay scales

An employee employed by the institution on the date this collective agreement comes into force is integrated into the pay scale provided for their job title at the echelon corresponding to the one they had on the pay scale in force at the end of the previous collective agreement.

An employee who took on duties corresponding to one of the new job titles prior to the date this collective agreement comes into force is integrated into the pay scale provided for their new job title on the basis of the number of years of experience recognized in accordance with the provisions of Article 17 (Years of prior experience).

An employee hired after the date on which this collective agreement comes into force is integrated at the echelon corresponding to the number of years of experience recognized in accordance with the provisions of Article 17 (Years of prior experience) on the pay scale provided for their job title.

8.24 Application of pay scales

As of April 1 of each year, an employee is classified on the pay scale that becomes applicable on that date at the echelon corresponding horizontally to the one they had on the preceding March 31.

Advancement on the pay scale

8.25 If the number of echelons on the pay scale permits it, each time an employee completes one year of service in their job title they advance to the echelon immediately higher than their current one.

For the purpose of applying the previous paragraph, each day of work by a part-time employee equals 1/225th of a year of service. However, for an employee entitled to twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty-four (24) or twenty-five (25) days of annual vacation, each day of work equals 1/224th, 1/223rd, 1/222nd, 1/221st or 1/220th of a year of service.

A part-time employee's days of leave for union work, excluding those provided for in clauses 7.18 to 7.20, are deemed to be days of work for the purpose of advancement on the pay scale.

Furthermore, valid experience acquired in a comparable job title is recognized for a part-time employee. The employee may ask the employer for an attestation of experience once each calendar year.

However, the year or fraction of a year of service acquired as well as days of work accumulated in 1983 are not credited for the purpose of determining an employee's date for advancement to the next echelon on the pay scale.

8.26 For part-time employees, days worked since January 1, 1989 in the same job title in another institution in the system are recognized for the purpose of advancing on the pay scale. A part-time employee may request a written attestation of days worked from each employer once each calendar year.

When the number of days accumulated in this way equals one year of service, the employee is credited, as of the date the attestation is remitted, with one year of service for the purpose of advancing on the pay scale.

Each day of work equals 1/225th year of service. However, for an employee entitled to twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty-four (24) or twenty-five (25) days of annual vacation, each day of work equals 1/224th, 1/223rd, 1/222nd, 1/221st or 1/220th of a year of service.

In no case, however, may the application of this clause enable a part-time employee to advance more than one echelon within a twelve (12)-month period.

Classification and reclassification

8.27 Within ninety (90) days of the date this collective agreement comes into force, the employer will:

- a) specify each employee's job title in writing;
- b) proceed with the necessary reclassifications.

8.28 An employee may request a reclassification at any time during the term of the collective agreement. The employer proceeds with the necessary reclassification as applicable.

8.298 The adjustment of a reclassified employee's earnings under the terms of the preceding clause is retroactive to the date the employee began to perform the duties that warrant their reclassification, but not prior to the date this collective agreement comes into force.

8.30 An employee who has a bachelor's degree in nursing and holds a nursing position is reclassified in that position to the job title of nurse clinician, providing that they undertake to perform the duties of that job title. The reclassification is completed when the employee provides the employer with their diploma or a final transcript attesting that they completed the degree.

An employee who has a bachelor's degree in nursing and who is excluded from the incumbency process provided under Appendix V of this collective agreement is reclassified to the job title of nurse clinician, on the same condition as in the first (1st) paragraph.

8.3129 Employees off the rates or scales

A) An employee whose rate of pay on the day preceding the date when rates of pay and pay scales are increased is higher than the flat rate or maximum of the pay scale in effect for their job title is, on the date that pay rates and scales are increased, entitled to a minimum rate of increase equal to half of the percentage increase applicable on April 1 of the period in question over the previous March 31 to the flat rate or top echelon on the scale corresponding to their job title on the previous March 31.

B) If the effect of applying the minimum rate of increase as defined in the above paragraph is to give an employee who was off the rate or off the scale on March 31 of the previous year a rate of pay that on April 1 is lower than the top echelon of the scale or the flat rate of pay corresponding to their job title or class, the minimum rate of increase is raised to the percentage necessary to give the employee the level of this echelon or flat rate of pay.

C) The difference between the percentage increase in the top echelon of the pay scale or flat rate corresponding to the employee's job title on the one hand, and the minimum rate of increase established in accordance with the two (2) preceding paragraphs on the other hand, is paid as a lump-sum amount calculated on the basis of the employee's rate of pay on the preceding March 31.

D) Payment of the lump sum is divided and spread over each pay period in proportion to the regular hours remunerated for each pay period.

8.320 An employee concerned by the provisions regarding the exemptions provided under clause 29 and following of Schedule 4 of the Act respecting conditions of employment in the public sector (R.S.Q., 2005, c. 43) and who is considered to be off the rate or off the scale is subject to the following provisions:

- 1- The full difference between the pay they received before reclassification and the new rate of pay to which they are entitled is paid to them as a lump-sum payment during the first three (3) years following the reclassification;

2- Two thirds (2/3) of the difference between the pay they received before reclassification and the new rate of pay to which they are entitled in the fourth (4th) year is paid to them in the same manner during the fourth (4th) year;

3- One third (1/3) of the difference between the pay they received before reclassification and the new rate of pay to which they are entitled in the fifth (5th) year is paid to them during the fifth (5th) year.

4- The lump-sum amounts are divided and paid with each pay period in proportion to the regular hours remunerated for each pay period.

5- The lump sum is considered to be part of pay for the purpose of applying the following provisions of the collective agreement:

- a) provisions on calculating allowances provided under parental rights;
- b) provisions on calculating disability insurance benefits;
- c) provisions on calculating layoff benefits;
- d) provisions granting an absent employee the same pay they would receive if they were at work;
- e) provisions granting part-time employee a percentage of their pay as remuneration for the various forms of leave provided for in the collective agreement.

8.334 General parameters of raises in pay

A) Period from April 1, 2020 to March 31, 2021

Each rate of pay and pay scale¹ in force on March 31, 2020 is increased by 2.00%,² effective April 1, 2020.

B) Period from April 1, 2021 to March 31, 2022

Each rate of pay and pay scale¹ in force on March 31, 2021 is increased by 2.00%,² effective April 1, 2021.

C) Period from April 1, 2022 to March 31, 2023

- a) Each rate of pay and pay scale¹ in force on March 31, 2022 is increased by 2.00%,² effective April 1, 2022.

b) Nevertheless, the applicable rates of pay and pay scales¹ are only those set out in the structure in Appendix CC.²¹

~~A) Period from April 1, 2015 to March 31, 2016~~

~~Each rate of pay and pay scale in force on March 31, 2015 stays the same without an increase.~~

8.342 Additional remuneration

A) Payment for work done between April 1, 2019 and March 31, 2020

An employee is entitled to additional remuneration⁴ according to their ranking in the following table for each hour remunerated between April 1, 2019 and March 31, 2020:

Ranking	Additional

² The increase in rates of pay and pay scales is calculated on the basis of the hourly rate. Until April 1, 2018, however, the increase for professionals and nurse clinicians is calculated on the basis of the annual rate of pay.

³ The clauses of the collective agreement concerning employees off the rate or off the scale apply, however. This is clause 8.29 in the FSSS-CSN collective agreement.

⁴ Remunerated hours are considered to include hours for which an employee received disability insurance benefits, maternity, paternity or adoption leave benefits, allowances provided for parental leave, as well as those paid by the CNESST, IVAC and SAAQ, and those paid by the employer for work accidents, if applicable.

1	$0.66
2	$0.63
3	$0.60
4	$0.57
5	$0.54
6	$0.51
7	$0.48
8	$0.45
9	$0.42
10	$0.39
11	$0.36
12 or higher	$0.33

This additional remuneration is paid in a single payment within thirty (30) days of signature of the agreement.

B) Payment for work done between April 1, 2020 and March 31, 2021

An employee is entitled to additional remuneration¹ corresponding to $0.30 for each hour remunerated between April 1, 2020 and March 31, 2021.

This additional remuneration is paid in a single payment with the pay preceding January 15, 2022.

A) Period from April 1, 2015 to March 31, 2016

Each employee is entitled to additional remuneration corresponding to $0.30 for each hour remunerated² between April 1, 2015 and March 31, 2016.

B) Period from April 1, 2019 to March 31, 2020

Each employee is also entitled to additional remuneration corresponding to $0.16 for each hour remunerated² between April 1, 2019 and March 31, 2020.

8.35 Indexation technique

² Remunerated hours are considered to include hours for which an employee received maternity, paternity or adoption allowances, allowances provided for parental leave and disability insurance benefits, including those paid by the CNESST, IVAC and SAAQ, as well as those paid by the employer for work accidents, if applicable.

Pay scale rates are expressed as hourly rates. When the general indexation parameters or other enhancements of pay rates and scales are applied, they apply on the hourly rate and are rounded off to the nearest cent, with the exception of regular teachers and teachers in aeronautics, for whom they apply on the annual rate and are rounded off to the nearest dollar.

For the purposes of publishing collective agreements, the number of weeks to be used for calculating the annual rate is 52.18. The annual rate is rounded off to the nearest dollar.

The job titles under clause 8.36 are increased as described in those paragraphs.

When an amount is rounded off to the nearest cent, it must be done as follows:

- When the decimal point is followed by three (3) digits or more, the third (3rd) and following digits are dropped if the third (3rd) digit is less than five (5). If the third (3rd) digit is equal to or greater than five (5), the second (2nd) is increased by one unit and the third (3rd) and following are dropped.

When an amount is rounded off to the nearest dollar, it must be done as follows:

- When the decimal point is followed by one (1) or more digits, the first (1st) and following digits are dropped if the first (1st) digit is less than five (5). If the first (1st) digit is equal to or greater than five (5), the dollar is increased by one unit and the first (1st) and following decimal places are dropped.

8.36 Determination of pay rates and scales applicable to special cases

The method set out in paragraphs 1 b) and 2 is used when an indexation parameter or other enhancement is applied so as to preserve the link with the structure of remuneration for all employees in the health and social services system, school service centres, school boards and colleges.

1. Integration officers (2688) and educators (2691)

a) Class 1

The pay scale for Class 1 of job titles 2688 and 2691 is that provided in accordance with their ranking in Appendix DD.

b) Class 2

Integration officers (2688) and educators (2691)

Echelons 2 to 13 for Class 2 of job titles 2688 and 2691 are respectively echelons 1 to 12 of the pay scale for Class 1 of the same job title.

Echelon 1 applicable to Class 2 is determined as follows:

Échelon 1, Classe 2 = Échelon 1, Classe 1 / (Interéchelon moyen, Classe 1)

All rounded off to the nearest cent.

$$\text{Interéchelon moyen, Classe 1} = \frac{\left(\frac{\text{Échelon maximum, Classe 1} - \text{Échelon minimum, Classe 1}}{\text{Nombres d'échelons, Classe 1} - 1} \right) + 1}{2}$$

The length of stay at this echelon is annual.

2. Tied jobs

The pay rate or scale for each of the job titles identified in Appendix EE is modified so as to ensure a differential with each echelon of the reference job title.

The pay rate or scale for the tied job is determined as follows:

Taux de l'échelon_n, Emploi-remorque = Taux de l'échelon_n, Emploi référence X % d'ajustement where n = the number of the echelon

All rounded off to the nearest cent.

The percentage of adjustment is set out in Appendix EE.

When a tied job title has only one echelon, the adjustment is calculated from echelon 1 of the reference job title.

In the case of trades apprentices, the reference job title corresponds to the average of flat rates for the reference job titles.

The provisions of this clause are not intended to modify the number of echelons for the tied job.

8.373 Increases in premiums and supplements

Every premium and every supplement, with the exception of fixed premiums and supplements expressed as a percentage, are increased starting on the same date and with the same general parameters for raises in pay as set out in clause 8.33 paragraphs A) and B) and the first sub-paragraph of paragraph C). The fixed premium is as follows:

- seniority.

~~Premiums and supplements in force are increased on the same dates and by the same percentages as those set out in paragraphs A) to E) of clause 8.31, with the exception of:~~

- ~~1— premiums and supplements expressed as percentages;~~
- ~~2— the seniority premium.~~

The rates of these premiums and supplements appear in the collective agreement.

8.38 Other terms and conditions

For temporary premiums expressed as percentages as set out in the Public Health Act (RSQ, c S-2.2),¹ no retroactivity will be paid between the dates the orders came into force and the date of signing of the collective agreement on increases set out in clause 8.33 paragraphs A) to C) as well as any other enhancements of pay rates or scales agreed on or identified as of April 1, 2020.

Furthermore, financial compensation, allowances, lump sum amounts and any other amount set out in the orders arising from the Public Health Act (RSQ, c S-2.2) are not covered by the increases set out in clause 8.33 paragraphs A) to C) and are therefore not retroactive.

8.394 Remuneration for Christmas and New Year's Day

The regular pay for an employee who actually works on Christmas Day or New Year's Day is the rate of pay provided on their pay scale increased by fifty per cent (50%).

8.4035 Special provision

Despite the phrases "as if they were at work," "without loss of remuneration," or any other wording to the same effect in this collective agreement, evening and night shift, enhanced evening and night shift and weekend shift premiums are only taken into account and paid if the shifts are actually worked. Similarly, the shift rotation premium is not taken into account or paid during any absence provided for under the collective agreement.

ARTICLE 9

PREMIUMS

9.01 Seniority premium

The pay of an employee with ten (10) or more years of seniority is raised by five dollars ($5.00) per week.

However, an employee whose pay is higher than the scale provided for in the collective agreement receives only the difference between their pay scale and the above-mentioned amount.

This article does not apply for employees whose pay scales have ten (10) echelons or more. For employees whose scales have ten (10) echelons or more, however, and for retroactivity calculation purposes only, the seniority premium is not considered to be part of pay.

9.03 Assistant team leader premium

Employee in the class of paratechnical, auxiliary services and trades personnel or in the class of office personnel and administrative technicians and professionals, with the exception of professionals and technicians (codes 1000 and 2000) who shares the responsibilities of the team leader and replaces the latter during their absence.

This employee receives a weekly premium of

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)

9.04 The duties of team leaders and assistant team leaders are assigned in accordance with the criteria provided in the provisions on voluntary transfers. Applications for these duties are limited, however, to employees in the class for which such duties are required.

9.05 Supervision and responsibility premium

Technicians or professional employees in the class of office personnel and administrative technicians and professionals (codes 1000 and 2000) or the class of health and social services technicians and professionals who are entrusted with supervision of and responsibility for a group consisting of at least four (4) employees, regardless of their job titles and class of personnel, receive a premium of 5% of their hourly rate of pay, plus the additional remuneration under Article 2 of Appendix O, if applicable.

This premium cannot be paid to employees whose job title includes responsibility for supervision and coordination.

9.06 Intern supervision premium

Employees in the class of paratechnical, auxiliary services and trades personnel, the class of office personnel and administrative technicians and professionals or the class of health and social services technicians and professionals receive a premium of 2% of their hourly rate of pay, plus the additional remuneration under Article 2 of Appendix O, if applicable, for every shift during which they are assigned to supervise one or more interns doing an internship as part of a recognized academic program required for a degree.

This premium cannot be combined with the supervision and responsibility premium and cannot be paid to employees whose job title includes training or teaching.

9.075 Evening and night shift premiums

Evening or night shift premiums, as the case may be, are as follows.

1- Employees working their entire shift between 2:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m.

Each time, such an employee receives an evening or night shift premium, as the case may be, in addition to their pay.

9.086 Enhanced evening and night shift premiums

A) Enhanced evening shift premium

An employee who offers and honours a minimum availability of sixteen (16) days per twenty-eight (28) days on evening and/or night shifts, including the shifts that are part of their position, as the case may be, receives an enhanced evening shift premium of 8% of their hourly rate plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O instead of the evening premium that would apply under sub-clauses 1, 2 or 3 of clause 9.07 or sub-clause 2 of clause 9.05.

B) Enhanced night shift premium

Except for employees covered by Appendix L, an employee who offers and honours a minimum availability of sixteen (16) days per twenty-eight (28) days on evening and/or night shifts, including the shifts that are part of their position, as the case may be, receives the following enhanced night shift premium instead of the night shift premium applicable under sub-clauses 1, 2 or 3 of clause 9.07 ~~or sub-clause 2 of clause 9.05~~:

- for an employee with between 0 and 5 years of seniority, fourteen per cent (14%) of their hourly rate plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided for in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O;
- for an employee with between 5 and 10 years of seniority, fifteen per cent (15%) of their hourly rate plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided for in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O;
- for an employee with 10 or more years of seniority, sixteen per cent (16%) of their hourly rate plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O.

For full-time employees working on steady nights, the parties may agree in local arrangements to convert some or all of the above-mentioned premium into time off, providing that such an arrangement does not entail any additional costs.

For the purpose of applying the previous paragraph, the rate for converting night shift premiums into paid days off is as follows:

- 14% equals 28 days;
- 15% equals 30 days;
- 16% equals 32 days.

The minimum availability requirements mentioned in this clause do not prevent a part-time employee from offering availability on the day shift.

The terms and conditions set out in clause 9.07~~5~~ apply to these enhanced premiums.

9.097 Day/evening, day/night or day/evening/night shift rotation premium

A) An employee who holds a position that involves rotating shifts receives a premium when the percentage of time worked on the evening or night shift in their position is equal to or greater than 50% of the rotation cycle.

1. Day/evening shift rotation premium

The day/evening shift rotation premium is equal to 50% of the evening shift premium for all hours worked on the day shift in the employee's position.

2. Day/night shift rotation premium

The day/night shift rotation premium is equal to 50% of the night shift premium for all hours worked on the day shift in the employee's position.

3. Day/evening/night shift rotation premium

The day/evening/night shift rotation premium is equal to 50% of the weighted average of the evening and night shift premiums, based on the number of hours worked on these shifts. The rate thus obtained is applied to all hours worked on the day shift in the employee's position.

The applicable evening and night shift premiums are established in accordance with the provisions of clauses 9.075 or 9.086.

At the end of their initiation and trial period on a position involving rotating shifts, an employee who is kept in the position is paid the premium retroactively to their first (1st) day of work on the day shift in the position.

B) An employee who does replacement work in a position covered by paragraph A) is entitled to this premium when the percentage of time worked on the evening or night shift is equal to or greater than 50% of the rotation cycle.

For the first (1st) rotation cycle, the employee is paid the premium retroactively to the first (1st) day worked on the day shift once they have worked the evening or night shift portion of the rotation cycle, as the case may be. In the case of a rotation cycle of six (6) months or more, however, the employee is paid the premium retroactively to the first day worked on the day shift once they have worked the equivalent of 50% of the evening or night shift portion of the rotation cycle, as the case may be.

If the employee does not work at least 50% of their rotation cycle on evenings or nights, the employer recovers the premium paid for the hours worked on the day shift.

"Rotation cycle" means the period during which an employee works a defined number of shifts alternating between days and evenings, days and nights or days, evenings and nights.

For the purpose of calculating the percentage of time worked under this clause, leave without pay for studies, part-time leave without pay for studies, leave under parental rights, leave for family responsibilities and all other authorized paid absences provided for in the collective agreement, with the exception of leave with deferred pay, are deemed to be time worked.

9.108 Weekend premium

The weekend premium is equal to four per cent (4%) of the hourly rate of pay plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O. This premium is paid to an employee required to work their full shift or shifts between the beginning of the evening shift on Friday and the end of the night shift on Monday.

Despite the above, in the case of a employee in the class of nursing and cardio-respiratory care personnel who holds a full-time position and works in a service in which service is provided twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week, the amount of the premium under the previous paragraph is eight per cent (8%) of their hourly rate of pay plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided for in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O, when the employee works their entire shift between the start of the Friday evening shift and the end of the Monday night shift, providing they work all the shifts on their schedule during that period.

9.1109 Evening and night shift, enhanced evening and night shift and weekend premiums are only taken into account or paid when the shifts are actually worked. Similarly, the shift rotation premium is not taken into account or paid during any absence provided for under the collective agreement.

9.120 Split-shift premium

An employee who must interrupt their work for a period of time exceeding the time provided to have meals, or who must interrupt their work more than once during the day except for rest periods provided for in clause 25.07, receives a split-shift premium of

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
4.13	4.21	4.29

per day in addition to their regular pay.

9.134 Premium for sorting soiled linen

An employee in a laundry service who is assigned on a continuous basis to sorting and dispatching soiled linen to the washing area receives a weekly premium of

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
27.30	27.85	28.41

in addition to their pay. An employee who is assigned on a non-continuous basis receives an hourly premium of

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
0.51	0.52	0.53

in addition to their pay for each hour spent doing this work.

9.142 Premium for operating an incinerator

A premium of

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
15.14	15.44	15.75

per week is paid to an employee who, within an area specifically equipped for this purpose, is continuously assigned to the operation and maintenance of incinerators.

9.153 Training incentive premium (youth and child protection centre mission)

Every full-time employee working for the employer on the date this collective agreement comes into force receives a training incentive premium each time they successfully complete a fifteen (15) - credit segment leading to a social work technician diploma in the amount of:

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
560.00	571.00	583.00

Each time an employee with the job title of social aide, social ~~work assistance~~ technician or contributions technician successfully completes thirty (30) credits), the employee advances an additional echelon on their pay scale.

If, however, an employee obtains an additional echelon following the completion of some or all of the 15 credits, they cannot receive the training incentive premium provided for in the first (1st) paragraph of this clause.

The premium is only paid once for a given set of credits completed.

Equivalences and exemptions are not taken into account.

9.164 Critical care and enhanced critical care premium

An employee in the class of nursing and cardio-respiratory care personnel or who has the job title of beneficiary attendant, beneficiary attendant (~~“A” certification~~) team leader, or psychiatric intervention officer or psychiatric intervention officer team leader receives the critical care or enhanced critical care premium, as the case may be, for hours worked in critical care.

The critical care covered by this premium includes the coronary unit and the following services or departments:

- emergency;
- intensive care unit;
- neonatal unit;
- major burn unit;
- air-borne medical evacuation service (ÉVAQ, for service d'évacuations aéromédicales du Québec).

A) Critical care premium

In the above-mentioned critical care units, an employee concerned receives a premium of 12% of their hourly rate of pay plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O.

B) Enhanced critical care premium

DISPUTE SETTLEMENT PROCEDURE

In the event of grievances or disagreements concerning employees' working conditions, the employer and the union use the following procedure.

10.01 An employee, acting alone or accompanied by one or more union representatives, has thirty (30) calendar days from learning of the facts from which a grievance arises, but within a period of no more than six (6) months from the occurrence leading to the grievance, to submit it in writing to the head of personnel or the latter's representative. The latter has five (5) calendar days to give the person filing the grievance a response in writing.

The union may also file a grievance on behalf of an employee unless the employee objects.

The time limits of thirty (30) days and six (6) months, as well as the ninety (90) days stipulated in clause 3.09, as the case may be, are mandatory.

10.02 The parties have ninety (90) days from when a grievance is filed to have a meeting during which they exchange information about the dispute. This meeting takes place within thirty (30) days of when a grievance is filed in cases of grievances on dismissals, disciplinary or administrative suspensions for five (5) days or more or psychological harassment.

Within seven (7) days of this meeting or the expiry of the time limit for having it, the parties inform each other of their respective positions on the grievance.

10.03 An employee nevertheless has six (6) months from the time of the occurrence giving rise to a grievance to submit the grievance in writing to the head of personnel or the latter's representative in the following cases, as well as the corresponding provisions in the appendices:

- 1- years of past experience;
- 2- pay and job titles;
- 3- premiums;
- 4- quantum of disability insurance benefits;
- 5- eligibility for disability insurance benefits.

10.04 If several employees collectively or the union as such deem they have been aggrieved, the union may submit a written request for an investigation and ruling by following the procedure described above.

10.05 The date of the latest occurrence leading to the grievance is deemed to be the starting date for calculating the six (6)-month time limit.

10.06 Filing of a grievance under clause 10.01 in itself constitutes an application for arbitration.

10.07 An employee who leaves the employer's service before receiving the total amounts due to them under this collective agreement may use the grievance and arbitration procedure to claim these amounts.

10.08 The negotiating parties may agree that one or more grievances are national in scope and consequently handle them in a single arbitration case.

Workload committee

10.09 A workload committee is struck within sixty (60) days of when the collective agreement comes into force.

10.10 The committee is composed of a maximum of three (3) members appointed by the employer and a maximum of three (3) members appointed by the union.

10.11 The committee's mandates are to:

- 1- examine employees' complaints about excessive workloads;
- 2- consult employees to identify problems related to workloads;
- 3- analyse and discuss workloads with a view to averting difficulties and solving problems experienced by employees;-
- 4- work to prevent excessive workload issues.

For the purposes of the above-mentioned mandates, each party may add resource people as needed.

The committee meets to handle the mandates set out in 10.11-1 and 10.11-2 within ~~ten~~ five (105) days of receiving a written request to this effect from either party.

The procedure set out in clauses 10.12 and following only apply for the mandate set out in 10.11-1.

Procedure in the event of a complaint about an excessive workload

10.12 The workload committee meets at the request of either party within five (5) days of receiving a written complaint about an excessive workload.

10.13 The committee must render a written decision within twenty (20) days of the request for a meeting if the request comes from one employee, and within twenty-five (25) days if it comes from more than one employee. Each party has one vote on the decision to be rendered.

10.14 A unanimous decision is binding. If there is no unanimous decision following a meeting of the workload committee, or if the workload committee has not met by the deadline stipulated in clause 10.11 through the employer's fault, the union may apply for arbitration within the following fifteen (15) days by sending the employer notice.

10.15 If the committee finds that there is an excessive workload, it may issue recommendations regarding the measures to be taken to remedy it.

10.165 The parties may proceed before an arbitrator chosen by mutual consent or, following a request to the registrar, before an arbitrator appointed by the Registry from the list of arbitrators drawn up for this purpose.

10.176 The arbitrator determines whether there is a work overload (excessive workload) and orders the employer to remedy it, as the case may be. The choice of methods for doing so is up to the employer.

10.187 The arbitrator has twenty (20) days from the date of the hearing to render a decision.

10.198 At the union's request, the arbitrator sits between the thirtieth (30th) and sixtieth (60th) day following the ruling to determine whether the measures taken by the employer have in fact eliminated the work overload (excessive workload). If they have not, the arbitrator determines ~~recommends to the employer~~ the measures to be taken to eliminate the overload (excessive workload).

10.209 An overload (excessive workload) is assessed in relation to the workload usually required in the institution.

10.210 The time limits stipulated in this procedure for excessive workloads may be modified with the parties' consent.

ARTICLE 11

ARBITRATION

11.01 If the parties do not reach a satisfactory settlement, either party may demand that the grievance or disagreement be heard in arbitration by sending the other party notice.

This notice may not be sent before the time limit stipulated in clause 10.02 expires or, if the meeting does not take place, before the ninety (90) or thirty (30) days stipulated in that same clause expires. This notice may be sent at any time if the parties agree that the meeting will not take place.

11.02 Unless they agree otherwise, the parties must use the summary procedure for the following matters covered by the articles of the collective agreement or corresponding articles of the appendices:

- recall list for claims of less than five (5) days;
- posting of notices;
- hours of work and work week;
- overtime, for claims of less than five (5) days;
- statutory holidays;
- choice of annual vacation leave;
- uniforms;
- meals, locker room and dressing room;
- transportation of users;
- health and safety;
- loss or destruction of personal belongings;
- activities with users outside the institution.

For other matters the parties may agree to proceed using the summary procedure or, if not, using the regular procedure.

11.03 The arbitration hearing takes place at the institution unless no room is available for this purpose.

Summary procedure

11.04 Within sixty (60) days of when the collective agreement comes into force or at any other time agreed upon by them, the local parties strive to agree on the choice of an arbitrator. The arbitrator is appointed for a period of two (2) years from the time the parties agree on the choice.

If the parties fail to agree on the choice of an arbitrator, either of them may send each grievance to the registrar, indicating that it is a grievance covered by the summary procedure.

As soon as notification is received, the registrar appoints an arbitrator from the list of arbitrators set out in the collective agreement. The registrar must appoint them in turn in accordance with their stated availability for the summary procedure, and give priority to assigning them in accordance with the following three (3) regional lists:

At the end of an arbitrator's two (2)-year mandate, the parties agree to renew the arbitrator's mandate or give the mandate to another arbitrator. If they fail to agree, the provisions of the second (2nd) and third (3rd) paragraphs of this clause apply.

11.05 Hearings on grievances under this procedure are limited to one (1) day per grievance.

11.06 The arbitrator must hear the dispute on the merits before rendering a decision on a preliminary objection, unless they are able to rule on the objection immediately; afterwards, at the request of either party, they must give the reasons for the decision in writing.

11.07 No document may be filed after the hearing has ended except for case law, which must be filed within a maximum of five (5) days.

11.08 The arbitrator must hold the hearing within fifteen (15) days of the date on which the case is assigned to them and render a decision in writing within fifteen (15) days of the hearing.

11.09 The arbitrator's ruling constitutes a specific case.

11.10 Arbitrators chosen in accordance with the summary procedure have the powers conferred upon them by the Labour Code (CQLR c C-27).

Regular procedure

11.11 The case is heard by a single arbitrator unless the parties agree to proceed before an arbitrator with an assessor appointed by each party.

11.12 The principal duty of the assessors appointed by each party, if any, is to assist the arbitrator and represent their respective parties during the hearing and deliberations.

11.13 The arbitrator may sit or deliberate in the absence of an assessor if the latter has been duly notified of the meeting in writing at least ten (10) days in advance.

11.14 The parties may proceed before an arbitrator who has been chosen by mutual consent rather than an arbitrator appointed by the chief arbitrator.

11.15 Either party may submit a grievance to arbitration by sending notice to the registrar and indicating the name of its assessor on the notice, if applicable.

11.16 In the case of grievances concerning the dismissal of an employee, an administrative measure permanently affecting their employment relationship or a disciplinary or administrative suspension of five (5) days or more, the following procedure applies.

At least thirty (30) days before the date of the hearing, the parties hold a preparatory conference call in which the arbitrator participates. The following elements are presented:

- 1- a general overview of the way the parties intend to proceed to adduce their evidence;
- 2- the list of documents that the parties intend to file;

- 3- the number of witnesses that the parties intend to call;
- 4- the nature of expert opinions and the experts called to testify, if applicable;
- 5- how long they expect the evidence to take;
- 6- admissions;
- 7- preliminary objections;
- 8- ways of proceeding quickly and efficiently at the hearing, including the scheduled dates of hearing.

If it becomes necessary for a party to make a change to one of the above-mentioned elements to support its case, it must first so inform the arbitrator and the other party.

11.17 In the case of a disciplinary measure, the burden of proof lies with the employer.

11.18 In any case involving a disciplinary measure, the arbitrator may:

- 1- reinstate the employee with full compensation;
- 2- uphold the disciplinary measure;
- 3- render any other decision deemed fair under the circumstances, including, if applicable, determining the amount of compensation and damages to which an unfairly treated employee is entitled.

11.19 In any case involving an administrative measure under clause 5.12, the arbitrator may:

- 1- reinstate the employee with full compensation;
- 2- uphold the administrative measure.

11.20 In the case of a grievance concerning the criteria for filling a position, the burden of proof lies with the employer.

11.21 If the arbitrator rules that a sum of money should be paid, they may order that the sum bear interest at the legal rate provided for by the Labour Code (CQLR c C-27) as of the date on which the grievance was filed.

11.22 In no case, however, may the arbitrator order more than six (6) months of retroactive payments from the date on which the grievance was filed.

11.23 When a grievance involves a claim for a sum of money, the union may first ask the arbitrator in the case to rule on the right to it without being obliged to establish the sum of money being claimed. If the arbitrator rules that the grievance is partly or entirely founded and if the parties do not agree on the sum to be paid, the dispute is submitted to the arbitrator for a final decision by simple written notice, with a copy of the notice sent to the other party. In such a case, the provisions of this article apply.

11.24 If the date on which the employee learned of the event leading to the grievance is challenged, the arbitrator decides it on the basis of the evidence.

11.25 The arbitrator does not have the power to modify the text of this collective agreement under any circumstances.

11.26 The arbitrator and assessors, if any, have the powers conferred upon them by the Labour Code.

11.27 Following the hearing on a grievance, the arbitrator must, at the request of either party, rule on whether the grievance or the refusal to allow it is frivolous.

Registry

11.28 A Registry is established to administer grievance arbitration.

11.29 In order to ensure its full operation, the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux grants the Registry an annual budget, after consultations with the parties, the chief arbitrator and the registrar.

11.30 The chief arbitrator and arbitrators are the following for the duration of the collective agreement:

or any other person on whom the parties agree.

If the position of chief arbitrator becomes vacant, the parties meet to appoint a new chief arbitrator.

11.31 The registrar is responsible for administering the Registry and its budget, after consultations with the parties and the chief arbitrator.

In the event of a vacancy, the chief arbitrator appoints a new registrar after consultations with the parties.

11.32 The chief arbitrator obtains each arbitrator's monthly availability. For consultation purposes and in order to set the arbitration rolls, the registrar regularly calls a meeting with the representatives appointed by each national party (in general, once a month). The chief arbitrator chairs these meetings and appoints an arbitrator for each arbitration case.

11.33 The registrar sets the date of the hearing, proceeding in chronological order of when the notice under clause 11.15 is received. The parties may, however, agree otherwise. Grievances on dismissals, suspensions of five (5) days or more, the creation of merged positions, contracting out or the choice of the applicable provision from those provided in clauses 14.01 to 14.07, as well as grievances concerning the reassignment procedure within an institution provided for in clause 15.05, are heard first, immediately followed by grievances filed under clauses 10.09 to 10.21.

11.34 The registrar notifies the parties of the arbitrator's name and the date of the hearing. The arbitrator may notify the parties of a peremptory date for the hearing.

11.35 The parties may agree to strike an arbitrator's name from the list.

11.36 The administrative costs of the Registry are not borne by the union party.

Arbitration costs

11.37 Each party pays its assessor's expenses and professional fees, if applicable.

11.38 The arbitrator's fees and expenses are borne by the party that has filed the grievance if the grievance is dismissed, or by the party to which the grievance was submitted if the grievance is upheld.

However, for a case submitted to arbitration under the dispute settlement procedure on a disability covered by clause 23.27 of the collective agreement or for a grievance on a dismissal, the fees and expenses of the medical arbitrator or arbitrator, with the exception of those provided for in the first paragraph of clause 11.42, are not borne by the union party or the employee.

11.39 When a grievance is only partially upheld, the arbitrator determines the proportion of fees and expenses to be paid by each of the parties.

11.40 If there is a settlement, the arbitrator's fees and expenses are shared equally between both parties.

11.41 In the case of a disagreement other than a grievance that is submitted to a third party for a decision, the fees and expenses of the person making the decision are borne equally by the employer and the union.

11.42 In all cases, fees and expenses pertaining to a postponement of a hearing or the withdrawal of a grievance are borne by the party requesting the postponement or withdrawing the grievance; if the request for a postponement of a hearing is made jointly, costs are borne equally.

11.43 In the case of a grievance on which the hearing began before December 16, 2005, however, fees and expenses are paid in accordance with the rules in effect before that date.

11.44 The fees and expenses payable to the arbitrator are those provided in the Regulation respecting the remuneration of arbitrators (CQLR c C-27, r. 6) or those declared by the arbitrator in accordance with that regulation.

ARTICLE 12

SENIORITY

Application

12.01 The provisions on seniority apply to full-time and part-time employees.

12.02 An employee may exercise their seniority rights for any job in the bargaining unit in accordance with the rules set out in this collective agreement.

12.03 Seniority is expressed in calendar years and days.

12.04 An employee may exercise their seniority rights once their probation period is completed.

12.05 Once their probation period is completed, a full-time employee's first day of service is used as the starting point for calculating seniority.

12.06 A part-time employee's seniority is calculated in calendar days. To this end, they are entitled to 1.4 days of seniority for a regular day of work stipulated for their job title, a day of annual vacation leave that is taken or a statutory holiday. For the purpose of calculating statutory holidays, 1.4 days of seniority are added to their seniority at the end of each financial period (thirteen (13) periods per year).

If a part-time employee works a number of hours that is different from the number of hours in a regular day of work stipulated for the job title, for each day worked they are entitled to the number of hours worked prorated to the hours of a regular day of work stipulated for the job title, multiplied by 1.4.

Overtime hours are excluded from the calculation of seniority.

12.07 A part-time employee may not accumulate more than one (1) year of seniority in a fiscal year (April 1 to March 31).

Whenever a full-time employee's seniority is compared with that of a part-time employee, the latter may not have more seniority recognized than a full-time employee for the period between April 1 and the date on which the comparison is made.

Retaining and accumulating seniority

12.08 A full-time employee retains and accumulates seniority in the following cases:

- 1- layoff, in the case of an employee entitled to the provisions of clause 15.03;
- 2- layoff, for twelve (12) months, in the case of an employee who is not entitled to the provisions of clause 15.03;
- 3- absence due to an accident or illness other than an industrial accident or occupational disease (mentioned below), for the first twenty-four (24) months;

- 4- absence due to an industrial accident or occupational disease, recognized as such under the provisions of the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases (CQLR c A-3.001), regardless of whether the injury is consolidated;
- 5- authorized absence, unless provided otherwise in this collective agreement;
- 6- parental leave.

12.09 A part-time employee is entitled to the provisions of the preceding clause in proportion to the weekly average number of days of seniority accumulated during their last fifty-two (52) weeks of service or since their first day of service, whichever date is closest to the start of the absence. These days of seniority are accumulated as they are acquired.

12.10 In the case of an absence due to an accident or illness other than an industrial accident or occupational disease (mentioned above), an employee retains but not accumulate seniority from the twenty-fifth (25th) to the thirty-sixth (36th) month following the accident or illness.

An employee who resigns from their position to go onto the recall list retains their seniority.

An employee retains seniority upon changing status.

12.11 An employee loses their seniority and job in the following cases:

- 1- voluntary resignation from the job;
- 2- in the case of students, returning to full-time studies constitutes voluntary resignation. Only students hired solely to do replacement work during the annual vacation period are affected by the provisions of this paragraph;
- 3- dismissal;
- 4- layoff exceeding twelve (12) months, except for employees entitled to the provisions of clause 15.03;
- 5- absence due to illness or an accident other than an occupational illness or accident (mentioned above) after the thirty-sixth (36th) month of absence.

12.12 An employee loses their seniority in the following case: absence for more than three (3) consecutive days of work without notice or a reasonable excuse.

Information

12.13 Within fifteen (15) days of the end of each financial period, the employer gives the union a list of part-time employees, specifying for each one the number of hours, excluding overtime, worked by job title, the number of days of annual vacation leave used, seniority credited for statutory holidays and the seniority accumulated by each employee since their first day of service.

12.14 Within thirty (30) calendar days of the date on which this collective agreement comes into force and subsequently each year no later than fourteen (14) days after the date of the end of the pay period that includes March 31st, the employer gives the union a list of all employees covered by the bargaining unit. The list is also provided in electronic file format, if the system allows for it. The list contains the following information:

- name;
- address;
- date of hiring;
- service;
- job title;
- pay;
- social insurance number;
- employee number;
- status (full-time, part-time);
- seniority accumulated on March 31.

12.15 This list, without employees' addresses and social insurance numbers, is posted in the usual places for a period of sixty (60) calendar days, during which time any employee concerned may ask the employer to correct the list. If the employer does correct the list, it notifies the union and the employee.

At the end of the sixty (60) calendar days, the list becomes the official record of seniority, subject to any challenges to the list made during the posting period.

If an employee is absent during the entire posting period, the employer sends them written notice indicating their seniority. An employee has sixty (60) days after receiving such notice to challenge their seniority.

12.16 If an employee's seniority is corrected following a challenge under clause 12.15, the new seniority is only retroactive in the following cases:

- 1- seniority premium as of the date on which the collective agreement came into force;
- 2- acquisition of entitlement to job security.

12.17 With respect to a provision that may be subject to local arrangements under this collective agreement or a stipulation negotiated and agreed upon at the local level, the local parties may agree to use seniority across all bargaining units combined.

ARTICLE 14

LAYOFF PROCEDURE

I) SPECIAL MEASURES

14.01 1- Change of mission with creation of a new institution or integration into one or more institutions taking on the same mission for the same population (whether or not it is a new legal entity)

The procedure set out in this sub-clause applies when the employer changes the institution's mission and one or more existing or newly created institutions simultaneously take on the mission formerly assumed by the institution whose mission has changed for the same population.

As long as there are vacant jobs in the same job title with the same status, employees must choose between keeping their job in the institution whose mission has changed and working in an identical job title with the same status in the new institution or another institution taking on the same mission. If employees do not make this choice, they are deemed to belong to the recall list of the institution whose mission is changing. These choices are made by seniority.

Employees who are unable to make such a choice due to a lack of available jobs in the same job title with the same status have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If they do not do so, they are deemed to belong to the recall list of the institution whose mission is changing.

If employees covered by the provisions of clauses 15.02 or 15.03 are in fact laid off following such a displacement, they are reassigned to another job in accordance with the procedure set out in Article 15.

2- Change of mission without creation of a new institution or integration into another institution

The procedure set out this sub-clause applies when the employer changes the institution's mission without the creation of a new institution or integration into another institution.

As long as there are vacant jobs in the same job title with the same status, employees have to choose a position. If they do not make this choice, they are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list. These choices are made by seniority.

Employees who are unable to make such a choice due to a lack of available jobs in the same job title with the same status have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If they do not do so, they are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

If employees covered by the provisions of clauses 15.02 or 15.03 are in fact laid off following such a displacement, they are reassigned to another job in accordance with the procedure set out in Article 15.

14.02 Complete closing of an institution with or without creation of or integration of part or all of the institution into another institution

- 1) Complete closing of an institution with creation of or integration of part or all of the institution into one or more other institutions

When an institution ceases operations and another existing or newly created institution takes over part or all of the same mission for the same population, the following procedure applies.

Employees working in the institution that is closed are transferred in the same job title with the same status to the other institution. If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is less than the number of employees to be transferred, the jobs must be filled by the employees with the most seniority. Employees who refuse such a transfer are deemed to have resigned.

If there are not enough jobs available in the same job title with the same status, the other employees have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure with respect to employees transferred under the preceding paragraph. If they do not do so, they are deemed to have resigned.

If there are employees covered by clause 15.03 who are not able to obtain a position in the same job title with the same status following the procedure described above, they are registered on the replacement team of the institution that takes over part or all of the mission formerly carried out by the institution that is closed.

- 2) Complete closing of an institution with creation of or integration of part or all of the institution into more than one other institution

When an institution ceases operations and more than one other existing or newly created institution take over part or all of the same mission for the same population, the following procedure applies.

Employees working in the institution that is closing are transferred in the same job title with the same status to the institutions that take over part or all of the mission formerly carried out by the institution that is closing, on the basis of available jobs. If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is less than the number of employees to be transferred, the jobs must be filled by the employees with the most seniority. Employees to be transferred under this paragraph must indicate their choice of institution. For this purpose, the employer posts a list of available jobs for a period of seven (7) days and the employees concerned indicate their preference on it, according to their status, by seniority. Employees who refuse such a transfer are deemed to have resigned.

If there are not enough jobs available in the same job title with the same status, the other employees have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure with respect to employees transferred under the preceding paragraph. If they do not do so, they are deemed to have resigned.

If there are employees covered by clause 15.03 who are not able to obtain a position in the same job title with the same status following the procedure described above, they are registered on the replacement team of one of the institutions that take over part or all of the mission formerly carried out by the institution that is closed.

- 3) Total closing of an institution without creation of a new institution or integration into another institution

When an institution ceases operations, the following procedure applies.

Up until the date on which the institution closes for good, when the employer abolishes a position in a service it is the employee with the least seniority in that service in the job title and with the status concerned who is laid off. If this employee does not have job security, they take the position of the employee in the same sector of work with the same status and with the least seniority in the institution, providing that they meet the normal requirements of the job. The employee thus affected or an employee who is not able to obtain a position is laid off.

On the date the institution closes for good, the employees still employed by the institution are laid off, and those covered by the provisions of clauses 15.02 or 15.03 are registered with the service national de main-d'œuvre (SNMO – national workforce service).

14.03 Amalgamation of Institutions

For institutions that are amalgamated, the following procedure applies.

Employees working in institutions that are amalgamated are transferred to the new institution in the same job title with the same status. If the amalgamation results in a reduction in the number of positions, the bumping and/or layoff procedure applies. If this is not done, the employees are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

14.04 Complete or partial closing of one or more services with creation of or integration of part or all of the service or services in one or more institutions

- 1) Complete closing of one or more services with creation of or integration into another institution

When the employer completely closes one or more services and another institution takes over or simultaneously creates the service or services in order to carry out the mission formerly carried out by the service or services closed for the same population, the following procedure applies.

Employees working in the service or services shut down are transferred in the same job title with the same status to the institution taking on the new service or services, on the basis of jobs available and in accordance with the following provisions:

- a) If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is less than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, these employees must choose by seniority between keeping their job in the institution and filling an available job in the new institution. This choice is made for a position in the same job title with the same status. If there are jobs that remain available, they are then filled by the employees with the same status with the least seniority among those with job security.
- b) If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is equal to or greater than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, the jobs must be filled by seniority by employees with or without job security.

Employees who refuse such a transfer are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

If there are not enough jobs available in the same job title with the same status, the other employees have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If this is not done, the employees are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

- 2) Complete closing of one or more services with creation of or integration into more than one other institution

When the employer completely closes one or more services and more than one other institution simultaneously takes over or creates the service or services in order to carry out the same mission that was formerly carried out by the service or services that are closed for the same population, the following procedure applies.

Employees working in the service or services shut down are transferred in the same job title with the same status to the institutions that take on the new service or services, on the basis of the jobs available and in accordance with the following provisions:

- a) If the total number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status in the other institutions is less than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, employees must choose by seniority between keeping their job in the institution and filling an available job in one of the new institutions. This choice is made for a position in the same job title with the same status. If there are jobs that remain available, they are then filled by the employees with the same status with the least seniority among those with job security.
- b) If the total number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status in the other institutions is equal to or greater than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, the jobs must be filled by seniority by employees with or without job security.

Employees to be transferred under this paragraph must indicate their choice of institution. For this purpose, the employer posts a list of available jobs for a period of seven (7) days and the employees concerned indicate their preference on it, according to their status, by seniority. Employees who refuse such a transfer are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

If there are not enough jobs available in the same job title with the same status, the other employees have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If this is not done, the employees are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

- 3) Partial closing of one or more services with creation of or integration into another institution

When the employer partially closes one or more services and another institution simultaneously takes over or creates part of the service or services in order to carry out the mission formerly carried out by the service or services partially that are closed for the same population, the following procedure applies.

Employees whose positions are abolished in the service or services that are partially closed are transferred in the same job title with the same status to the institution that takes on part of the new service or services, on the basis of the jobs available and in accordance with the following provisions:

- a) If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is less than the number of employees with job security whose positions are abolished, employees must choose by seniority between keeping their job in the institution and filling an available job in the new institution. This choice is made for a position in the same job title with the same status. If there are jobs that remain available, they are then filled by the employees with the same status with the least seniority among those with job security.

- b) If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is equal to or greater than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, the jobs must be filled by seniority by employees with or without job security.

Employees who refuse such a transfer are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

If there is a lack of available jobs in the same job title, the other employees concerned have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If this is not done, the employees are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

- 4) Partial closing of one or more services with creation of or integration into more than one other institution

When the employer partially closes one or more services and more than one other institution simultaneously takes over or creates part of the service or services in order to carry out the mission formerly carried out by the service or services partially closed for the same population, the following procedure applies.

Employees whose positions are abolished in the service or services that are partially closed are transferred in the same job title with the same status to the institutions that take on the new service or services, on the basis of the jobs available and in accordance with the following provisions:

- a) If the total number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status in the other institutions is less than the number of employees with job security whose positions are abolished, employees must choose by seniority between keeping their job in the institution and filling an available job in one of the new institutions. This choice is made for a position in the same job title with the same status. If there are jobs that remain available, they are then filled by the employees with the same status with the least seniority among those with job security.
- b) If the total number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status in the other institutions is equal to or greater than the number of employees with job security whose positions are abolished, the jobs must then be filled by seniority by employees with or without job security.

Employees to be transferred under this paragraph must indicate their choice of institution. For this purpose, the employer posts a list of available jobs for a period of seven (7) days and the employees concerned indicate their preference on it, according to their status, by seniority. Employees who refuse such a transfer are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

If there are not enough jobs available in the same job title with the same status, the other employees have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If this is not done, the employees are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

14.05 Total or partial closing of one or more services with creation of or integration of part or all of the service or services in one or more other services

- 1) Total or partial closing of one or more services with creation of or integration in another service

In the case of a total or partial closing of one or more services with creation of or integration of part or all of the service or services in another service, the employer gives the union at least two (2) months' written notice and the following procedure applies.

When the employer partially closes a service, the employees affected are the ones with the least seniority in a job title and status concerned.

Employees whose positions are abolished in the service or services concerned by the total or partial closing are transferred to the other service in the same job title with the same status, on the basis of the jobs available and in accordance with the following provisions:

- a) If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is less than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, employees must choose by seniority between using the bumping and/or layoff procedure and filling an available job in the other service. This choice is made for a position in the same job title with the same status. If there are jobs that remain available, they are then filled by the employees with the same status with the least seniority among those with job security.
- b) If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is equal to or greater than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, the jobs must be filled by seniority by employees with or without job security.

Employees who refuse such a transfer are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

If there are not enough jobs available in the same job title with the same status, the other employees have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If this is not done, the employees are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

- 2) Total or partial closing of one or more services with creation of or integration in more than one other service

In the case of the total or partial closing of one or more services with the creation of or integration of part or all of the service or services into more than one other service, the employer gives the union at least two (2) months' written notice and the following procedure applies.

When the employer partially closes a service, the employees affected are the ones with the least seniority in a job title and status concerned.

Employees whose positions are abolished in the service or services concerned by the total or partial closing are transferred to the other services in the same job title with the same status, on the basis of the jobs available and in accordance with the following provisions:

- a) If the total number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status in the other services is less than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, employees must choose by seniority between using the bumping and/or layoff procedure and filling an available job in another service. This choice is made for a position in the same job title with the same status. If there are jobs that remain available, they are then filled by the employees with the same status with the least seniority among those with job security.

b) If the total number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status in the other services is equal to or greater than the number of employees with job security to be transferred, the jobs must be filled by seniority by employees with or without job security.

Employees transferred under this paragraph must indicate their choice of service. For this purpose, the employer posts a list of available jobs for a period of seven (7) days and the employees concerned indicate their preference on it, according to their status, by seniority. Employees who refuse such a transfer are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

If there are not enough jobs available in the same job title with the same status, the other employees have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If this is not done, the employees are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

14.06 Closing of one or more services without creation of or integration into one or more other services

In the case of a closing of one or more services, the employer gives the union at least two (2) months' written notice and the bumping and/or layoff procedure applies.

14.07 Amalgamation of services

In the case of an amalgamation of services, the employer gives the union at least two (2) months' written notice, and the following procedure applies.

Employees working in the services that are amalgamated are transferred to the new service in the same job title and the same status, on the basis of the jobs available. If the number of jobs to be filled in the same job title with the same status is less than the number of employees to be transferred, the jobs must be filled by the employees with the most seniority. If they refuse, they are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

If there are not enough jobs available in the same job title with the same status, the other employees have to use the bumping and/or layoff procedure. If this is not done, the employees are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

14.08 Abolition of one or more positions

If one or more positions that are not vacant are abolished, the employer gives the union at least four (4) weeks' written notice, indicating the position or positions to be abolished. The notice may also include any other information relevant to this abolition. The parties meet at either's request for the purpose of agreeing, if appropriate, on alternatives likely to reduce the impact on employees.

The bumping and/or layoff procedure applies.

14.09 Once a year, on the date it sets, the employer notifies the union of reorganizations covered by clauses 14.01 to 14.07. If, however, circumstances do not allow the employer to foresee such reorganizations and notify the union on the date set by the employer, it proceeds with the reorganizations after having given at least six (6) months' written notice.

In cases covered by clauses 14.01 to 14.04, the employer gives at least four (4) months' written notice to the SNMO, the national joint committee on job security, the union and the employee.

Except for the employee, this notice and notice under clauses 14.05 to 14.07 include the names, addresses and job titles of the employees concerned. Notice to the SNMO also includes the telephone numbers of the employees concerned.

The notice sent to the union under the second (2nd) paragraph of this clause or clauses 14.05 to 14.07 also includes the following information:

- the projected schedule;
- the nature of the reorganization;
- any other information relevant to this reorganization.

An employee affected by a layoff receives at least two (2) weeks' written notice.

14.10 In the framework of the special measures provided for in clauses 14.01 to 14.07, the parties meet at the request of either one for the purpose of agreeing, if appropriate, on alternatives likely to reduce the impact of the measures on employees or on local arrangements providing other terms and conditions for applying these clauses.

14.11 Transfers of employees caused by the application of clauses 14.01 to 14.07 are carried out within a radius of seventy (70) kilometres from their home base or residence.

However, an employee transferred outside a fifty (50)-kilometre radius from their home base or residence receives the mobility premium provided in clause 15.05 and the moving expenses provided in Article 16, if applicable.

To be entitled to these reimbursements, the move must take place within a maximum of six (6) months of beginning work in the new position.

14.12 For the purpose of applying the preceding clauses, the word “institution” includes a community service.

14.13 The institution that takes over and/or creates one or more of the new services may not hire applicants from outside if the effect would be to deny a job in the same job title in the new institution or new service to employees of the service or services that are closing.

14.14 For the purpose of applying the measures set out herein, movements of personnel take place by status.

In the case of part-time employees, the provisions apply to positions with a number of hours equal to or greater than the number of hours in the position held.

II) BUMPING AND/OR LAYOFF PROCEDURE

The bumping and/or layoff procedure agreed upon at the local or regional level must take into account the seniority of employees, providing they meet the requirements of the job. It must also take employee status into account. The procedure must not result in the layoff of an employee who has job security as long as an employee who does not have job security may be laid off instead.

Unless the parties agree otherwise in local arrangements, bumping is done within a radius of fifty (50) kilometres from the home base or residence of the employee concerned. If there is no possibility of bumping within this radius of fifty (50) kilometres for the employee concerned, the applicable radius is seventy (70) kilometres.

14.154 The pay of a full-time or part-time employee who bumps another part-time employee is prorated to their hours of work.

14.165 An employee who as a result of the application of the preceding clause must bump outside a fifty (50)-kilometre radius from their home base or residence is entitled to the mobility premium provided in clause 15.05, as well as moving expenses under Article 16, if applicable.

To be entitled to these reimbursements, the move must take place within a maximum of six (6) months of beginning work in the new position.

~~14.16 The pay of a full-time employee who bumps a part-time employee is prorated to their hours of work.~~

14.17 The pay of an employee affected by the provisions of this article is determined in accordance with clauses 8.03 to 8.08. The employee does not incur a reduction in pay in any case, unless provided otherwise in this article.

14.18 If employees covered by clause 15.02 or 15.03 are in fact laid off as a result of bumping, they are reassigned to another job in accordance with the procedure provided in Article 15.

Definition of radius

14.19 For the purpose of applying this article, the radius of fifty (50) or seventy (70) kilometres, as the case may be, is calculated by road (using the normal itinerary) from the home base where the employee works or their residence.

ARTICLE 15

JOB SECURITY

An employee covered by clause 15.02 or 15.03 who is laid off as a result of the application of the bumping and/or layoff procedure or following the total closing of their institution or the total destruction of their institution by fire or otherwise is entitled to the provisions of this article.

15.01 REPLACEMENT TEAM

A) The replacement team is composed of employees who are in fact laid off and who have job security as provided in clause 15.03.

B) The replacement team is used to fill positions that are temporarily without an incumbent, to deal with temporary extra workloads, to perform work of limited duration (less than six (6) months unless the parties agree otherwise) or for any other purpose agreed upon locally by the parties.

C) For these purposes, employees registered on the replacement team are assigned with priority over employees on the recall list.

Employees on the replacement team are assigned in reverse order of seniority and to comparable positions.

Nevertheless, a full-time employee must have priority for any assignment to a full-time position, regardless of part-time employees' seniority.

D) During the first twelve (12) months following their layoff, the employer may assign an employee on the replacement team beyond a radius of fifty (50) kilometres, without exceeding seventy (70) kilometres, from their home base or residence.

After the period of twelve (12) months from their layoff, the employer may assign an employee on the replacement team beyond a radius of seventy (70) kilometres from their home base or residence.

The following conditions apply to these assignments:

- 1- The employer provides the employee with the travel and living expenses provided for in Article 27 (Travel allowances).
- 2- It may only assign the employee for a replacement assignment of at least five (5) days of work.
- 3- It may only assign the employee for a short-term replacement assignment (one (1) month maximum), limiting the number of assignments to a maximum of four (4) non-consecutive assignments per year.
- 4- The employee cannot be kept on such an assignment and must be reassigned to a replacement assignment within a radius of fifty (50) or seventy (70) kilometres as soon as such a replacement assignment becomes available, regardless of seniority rules stipulated in this clause.

- 5- A replacement assignment outside the radius of fifty (50) or seventy (70) kilometres, as the case may be, is only used exceptionally.

E) Employees on the replacement team may not refuse a proposed assignment. They are, however, allowed two (2) days per week when they are not required to be available. The employer informs an employee at least seven (7) days in advance of when these two (2) days are to be taken.

15.02 Employees with between one (1) and two (2) years of seniority who are laid off are entitled to employment priority in the health and social services sector. Their names are put on the list of the Service national de main-d'oeuvre (SNMO – national workforce service) and they are reassigned in accordance with the procedures set out in this article.

The employee must receive layoff notice in writing at least two (2) weeks in advance. A copy of the notice is sent to the union.

During the waiting period for reassignment, an employee cannot accumulate days of sick leave, vacation time or statutory holidays.

Moreover, the employee does not receive any benefits during this waiting period and is not entitled to the mobility premium, moving and living expenses or the severance pay provided for in this article.

15.03 An employee with two (2) years or more of seniority who is laid off is put on the SNMO list and is entitled to job security as long as they are not reassigned to another job in the health and social services sector in accordance with the procedures set out in this article.

Job security includes only the following benefits:

- 1- layoff benefits;
- 2- continuity of the following benefits:
 - a) standard life insurance plan;
 - b) basic health insurance plan;
 - c) disability insurance plan;
 - d) pension plan;
 - e) accumulation of seniority in accordance with the terms of this collective agreement and this article;
 - f) annual vacation leave;
 - g) transfer, if applicable, of the employee's bank of sick leave and of accumulated vacation leave to their new employer at the time of their reassignment, minus the days used during their waiting period;
 - h) parental rights under Article 22.

Union dues continue to be deducted.

Layoff benefits must be equal to the pay provided for by the employee's job title or to their off-scale pay, if applicable, at the time of their layoff. Evening and night shift, enhanced evening and night shift, shift rotation, split-shift, seniority, responsibility and inconvenience premiums not incurred are excluded from the basis of calculation for layoff benefits.

Benefits are increased on the date of a statutory raise and on the date of a pay scale change.

Until they are reassigned, part-time employees receive layoff benefits equal to the average weekly pay for the hours of work performed during their last twelve (12) months of service.

Employees covered by this clause are registered on the replacement team of the institution where they are employees in accordance with clause 15.01 (Replacement team). When an employee does replacement work in accordance with the provisions of clause 15.01, they are entitled to the provisions of the collective agreement. In this case, however, their remuneration may not be lower than the layoff benefits provided for in this clause.

15.04 For the purpose of acquiring the right to job security or employment priority, seniority is not accumulated in the following cases:

- 1- an employee who is laid off;
- 2- an employee benefiting from authorized leave of absence without pay after the thirtieth (30th) day from the beginning of the absence, except for leave under clauses 22.13, 22.14, 22.15, 22.19, 22.19A, 22.21A and 22.22A;
- 3- an employee on sick leave or accident leave after the ninetieth (90th) day from the beginning of the leave, excluding industrial accidents and occupational diseases recognized as such by the Commission des normes, de l'équité, de la santé et de la sécurité du travail;
- 4- an employee who is not the incumbent of any position in the institution. When, however, the employee becomes the incumbent of a position in accordance with the procedures provided in this collective agreement, their accumulated seniority in the institution is recognized for the purposes of job security or employment priority, subject to the restrictions stipulated in the preceding paragraphs.

15.05 Reassignment procedure

An employee is reassigned by seniority in the reassignment area to a position for which they meet the normal requirements of the job. The requirements must be pertinent and related to the nature of the duties.

During the first twelve (12) months after the date of the employee's layoff, the applicable reassignment area is fifty (50) kilometres. After this period, the applicable reassignment area is seventy (70) kilometres.

The reassignment area is a geographical area defined by a radius of fifty (50) or seventy (70) kilometres, as the case may be, by road (using the normal itinerary) from the home base where the employee works or their residence.

Reassignment is done using the following procedure.

Reassignment to a comparable position¹

A full-time employee covered by clause 15.03 is deemed to have applied for any comparable position with the same status for which they meet the normal requirements of the job that becomes vacant or is newly created in the institution in which they are employees located in the applicable reassignment area, based on the period of time since their layoff. A part-time employee is deemed to have applied for any comparable position for which they meet the normal requirements of the job involving a number of hours equal to or greater than the number of hours in the position that they used to hold.

If the employee is the only applicant, or the applicant with the most seniority, the position is awarded to them, and a refusal by the employee results in their being placed on the institution's recall list ~~is deemed to be a voluntary resignation~~.

If another applicant for the position has more seniority than the employee covered by clause 15.03, the employer awards the position in accordance with the provisions on voluntary transfers, providing that the applicant frees up a comparable position for which the employee covered by clause 15.03 with the most seniority is eligible.

Otherwise, the position is awarded to the employee who has the most seniority on the replacement team, and a refusal by this employee results in their being placed on the institution's recall list ~~is deemed to be a voluntary resignation~~.

The rules set out in the preceding paragraphs apply to other vacancies created by promotions, transfers or demotions following the first posting until the end of the process, in accordance with the rules on voluntary transfers.

If the position that must be awarded to an employee covered by clause 15.03 is located more than fifty (50) kilometres from their home base or residence, the following provisions apply:

- a) The employee may refuse the position as long as there is another employee covered by clause 15.03 with less seniority who meets the normal requirements of the job and for whom it is a comparable position located in the applicable reassignment area, based on the period of time since their layoff. In this case, the position is awarded to the latter employee.
- b) If there is more than one position that the employee can fill, they are reassigned to the position in the best location for them.
- c) Their reassignment to such a position may be postponed if foreseeable replacement needs are enough to ensure the employee continuous work and if a vacant comparable position in the institution located in the applicable reassignment area can become available within a stipulated period of time.

Until they are reassigned, an employee may be assigned to a comparable vacant or newly created part-time position for which they meet the normal requirements involving fewer hours than the number of hours in the position they used to hold.

During this period, such a position is not subject to the provisions on voluntary transfers.

An employee thus assigned continues to be covered by the provisions of this article. They are registered on the replacement team to round out their work week or, in the case of a part-time employee, to complete the weekly average number of hours they worked in their last twelve (12) months of service.

Reassignment to an available and comparable position¹

An employee covered by 15.03 is required to accept any available and comparable position that is offered to them in the applicable reassignment area, based on the period of time since their layoff.

If one or more available and comparable positions are available simultaneously in the applicable reassignment area, based on the period of time since their layoff, an employee is reassigned to the position in the best location for the employee concerned.

In specific cases, however, this rule may be contradicted by the SNMO, subject to the approval of the national joint committee on job security (CPNSE, for Comité paritaire national sur la sécurité d'emploi), or by the CPNSE or, if there is no unanimity, by the chairperson's decision.

However, an employee covered by clause 15.03 may refuse the position offered as long as there is another employee covered by the same clause with less seniority in the applicable reassignment area, based on the period of time since the date of their layoff, who meets the normal requirements of the job and for whom it is a comparable position.

Notice of the offer to the less senior employee must be sent to them in writing, giving them five (5) days to indicate their choice.

The SNMO may oblige an employee affected by the total closing of an institution due to fire or otherwise to move if there is no other institution in the applicable reassignment area stipulated in clause 15.05.

The SNMO may also oblige an employee to move if there are no comparable positions in the applicable reassignment area stipulated in clause 15.05.

In such cases, the employee is moved to a place as close as possible to their former home base or residence, and is entitled to the mobility premium equivalent to three (3) months of pay, plus moving expenses if applicable.

A part-time employee is reassigned to an available and comparable position providing that the weekly number of hours of work for this position is equal to or greater than the weekly average number of hours that the employee worked during their last twelve (12) months of service.

A full-time employee who is reassigned on an exceptional basis to a part-time position does not as a result incur any reduction in pay from the pay for their job title prior to being laid off.

An employer may grant an employee on the replacement team who requests it a postponement of their reassignment to another institution if foreseeable needs for replacement work are enough to ensure that the employee will have continuous work and that a comparable vacant position in the institution can become available within a stipulated period of time.

An employee who is offered a position in accordance with the terms and conditions set out above may refuse such a position. However, the employee's refusal will result in their being placed on the ¹ An available and comparable position in the institution or in another institution.

~~institution's recall list, is deemed to be a voluntary resignation, subject to the choices they may make under the preceding paragraphs.~~

Available position

For the purposes of applying this article, a full-time or part-time position is deemed to be available when there is no applicant or when none of the employees who apply meets the normal requirements of the job or when, in accordance with the provisions on voluntary transfers, the position would have to be filled by a candidate who is a part-time employee or on the recall list who has less seniority than an employee covered by clause 15.03 registered with the SNMO.

No institution may use a part-time employee or an employee on the recall list with less seniority than an employee covered by clause 15.03 who is registered with the SNMO or hire an outside applicant for an available full-time or part-time position as long as employees covered by clause 15.03 who are registered with the SNMO are able to meet the normal requirements of the job for such a position.

Comparable position

For the purposes of applying this article, a position is deemed comparable if the job offered under the terms of the preceding clauses is included in the same sector of work as the one the employee has left. These sectors are the following:

- a) nurses;
- b) graduate technicians;
- c) para-technical;
- d) auxiliary services;
- e) office jobs;
- f) trades;
- g) employees assigned to social work (social aides, social ~~work-assistance~~ technicians and contributions technicians);
- h) personnel assigned to education and/or rehabilitation (educators and specialized education technicians);
- i) nursing assistants;
- j) professionals.

Miscellaneous clauses

15.06 An employee must meet the normal requirements of the job for any position to which they are reassigned. It is incumbent on their new employer to show that an applicant reassigned by the SNMO is not able to meet the normal requirements of the job.

15.07 An employee covered by clause 15.03 may ask to be reassigned to a non-comparable position in their institution for which they meet the normal requirements of the job.

15.08 An employee who has to move under the terms of this article receives written notice and is allowed a period of five (5) days to make their choice. Copy of the notice is sent to the union.

15.09 An employee covered by clause 15.03 may accept a job outside the applicable reassignment area based on the period of time since their layoff. An employee who accepts a job outside a radius of seventy (70) kilometres from their home base or residence benefits from a mobility premium equal to three (3) months of pay, plus moving expenses if applicable.

15.10 Subject to clause 15.09, any employee covered by clause 15.03 who is reassigned under this article beyond a radius of fifty (50) kilometres from their home base or residence benefits from the mobility premium and, if they must move, is entitled to the moving expenses stipulated by Conseil du trésor regulation set out in Article 16 and/or the allowances provided by the federal labour mobility program, if applicable.

15.11 For part-time employees covered by clause 15.03, the mobility premium is prorated to the hours of work done during their last twelve (12) months of service.

15.12 An employee who is covered by clause 15.03 ceases to receive layoff benefits as soon as they are reassigned within the health and social services sector or as soon as they fill a job outside this sector.

15.13 Reassigned employees carry all the rights conferred upon them by this collective agreement with them to their new employer, except for vested privileges under Article 28 that are not transferable.

15.14 If there is no collective agreement with the new employer, each reassigned employee is covered by the provisions of this collective agreement, insofar as they are individually applicable, as if it were a personal contract of employment until a collective agreement is concluded in the institution.

15.15 An employee covered by clause 15.03 who finds work outside the health and social services sector on their own initiative between the time they are actually laid off and their notice of reassignment, or who decides to leave this sector for good for personal reasons, submits their resignation in writing to their employer and is entitled to an amount equal to six (6) months of pay as severance pay.

A part-time employee is entitled to severance pay prorated to their hours of work during their last twelve (12) months of service.

15.16 Service national de main-d'œuvre (SNMO)

1. A Service national de main-d'œuvre (SNMO – national workforce service) is set up, under the responsibility of the Comité patronal de négociation du secteur de la santé et des services sociaux (CPNSSS).

This service co-ordinates the reassignment of employees covered by clause 15.03 and is responsible for the implementation of retraining programs for them, in accordance with the rules of the collective agreement.

2. The SNMO sends CPNSE representatives full information about the implementation of its mandates at the end of each financial period. This includes in particular:

- the list of available positions;
- the list of employees covered by clause 15.03, including the information appearing on their registration form, distinguishing among the following situations:
 - employees registered during the financial period;
 - employees removed from the list during the financial period, the reasons for their removal and the name of the institution to which they have been reassigned, if applicable;
 - employees who are still not reassigned.

3. The SNMO also sends all the information about a reassignment to CPNSE representatives, the institutions concerned, the unions concerned and employees covered by clause 15.03 in the same sector of work who have more seniority than the reassigned employee.

15.17 Retraining

1. For the purpose of reassignment in job titles that are in demand in the health and social services system, retraining courses are available to employees covered by clause 15.03 for whom there are not many reassignment opportunities.

Retraining of employees with job security and registered with the SNMO may take the form of any academic or other learning process that enables the employee concerned to acquire the skills and/or knowledge necessary to work in their own or another job title.

2. An employee's access to retraining courses is subject to the following conditions:

- that the employee's job title be identified as a retraining priority;
- that the employee meet the requirements of the organizations giving the courses;
- that an available position can be offered to the employee who is retrained in the short term.

3. The following provisions apply to employees concerned by retraining:

- an employee taking retraining courses is not obliged to accept replacement work or a reassignment during retraining;
- tuition is paid by the SNMO;
- an employee who has completed retraining is subject to the rules on replacement work in both their job title and the job title for which they have been retrained;
- for the purposes of reassignment, an employee who has completed retraining is deemed to have the job title for which they have been retrained;
- an employee with valid reasons may refuse to take a retraining course thus offered; otherwise, they are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

15.18 Appeal procedure

Any employee covered by clause 15.03 who thinks they have been adversely affected by an SNMO decision may ask to have their case reviewed by the CPNSE by sending written notice to this effect within ten (10) days of the SNMO sending information about a reassignment in accordance with clause 15.16-3, or within ten (10) days of the SNMO sending information pertaining to the SNMO's assessment of the reasons invoked by the employee for declining the retraining offered.

The CPNSE has ten (10) days from receiving the written notice, or any other time limit agreed upon by the committee, to settle the dispute.

A unanimous CPNSE decision is sent in writing to the SNMO and the employees, unions and institutions concerned. The committee's decision is binding on all the parties involved.

When the members of the CPNSE fail to settle the dispute, they agree on the choice of an arbitrator. If they do not agree on a choice, the Ministère du Travail, de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale automatically appoints one. The arbitrator's fees and expenses are borne equally by the parties.

The arbitrator sends information about the place, date and time of the hearing on the appeal in writing to the parties sitting on the CPNSE, the SNMO and the employees, unions and institutions concerned. The arbitrator has twenty (20) days from when the case is assigned to them to hold the hearing on the appeal.

The arbitrator proceeds with the hearing and hear all witnesses and representations made by the parties (the FSSS-CSN and SNMO) and by any interested party.

If either of the duly convened parties involved fails to attend or be represented on the day set for the hearing, the arbitrator proceeds despite any absence.

The arbitrator has fifteen (15) days from the date scheduled for the hearing to render a decision. This decision must be given in writing, with reasons.

The arbitrator's decision is binding on all the parties involved.

The arbitrator has all the powers conferred by the terms of Article 11 of the collective agreement.

It is understood that the arbitrator may not add, remove or modify any text in the collective agreement.

If the arbitrator concludes that the SNMO has not acted in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement, they may:

- cancel a reassignment;
- order the SNMO to reassign the employee concerned in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement;
- render any decision on the assessment of the reasons for declining retraining;
- issue orders that are binding on all the parties involved.

15.19 Comité paritaire national sur la sécurité d'emploi (CPNSE)

1. A Comité paritaire national sur la sécurité d'emploi (CPNSE – national joint job security committee) is created. It is composed of three (3) representatives from the FSSS-CSN and three representatives from the CPNSSS. If a case to be handled concerns more than one union, the CPNSE is expanded and sits in the presence of three (3) representatives from each of the union organizations involved.

Ms. Nathalie Faucher¹ is appointed chairperson of the committee. She only participates in CPNSE meetings when the committee has not reached unanimity on a decision to be rendered under paragraphs 3 and 4 or if the CPNSE does not agree on the admissibility of a dispute on special measures.

2. The CPNSE's mandates are to:

- a) verify the application of the rules set out in the collective agreement for the SNMO's reassignment of employees covered by clause 15.03;
- b) settle a dispute regarding a decision by the SNMO;

¹ If she is unable to act, Mr. Claude Martin is designated as her alternate.

- c) cancel any appointment if the procedure for reassignment to an available and comparable position has not been applied;
- d) identify solutions in cases where:
 - employees covered by clause 15.03 have, during the first six (6) months of their layoff, been used less than 25% of the number of hours used to establish their layoff benefits;
 - employees covered by clause 15.03 have not been reassigned during the first twelve (12) months of being laid off;
 - reassignment problems arising regarding the reassignment area;
- e) analyse retraining possibilities for employees covered by clause 15.03 for whom there are not many reassignment opportunities, discuss the amounts to be devoted to these and, if applicable, identify selection criteria. The CPNSE submits its recommendations to the SNMO;
- f) discuss any matter pertaining to the job security system that falls within its mandate.

3. At the request of a union or employer, the CPNSE settles any dispute regarding applicable terms and conditions for a special measure not provided for in the collective agreement or any dispute regarding the choice of which provision set out in clauses 14.01 to 14.07 applies. In the latter case, the dispute must concern more than one (1) bargaining unit.

Such a request must be made within thirty (30) days of the employer sending notice of its intention to apply such a measure.

If the CPNSE does not agree on the admissibility of a dispute, the chairperson decides. If the CPNSE or the chairperson concludes that the dispute is admissible for the CPNSE, the measure contemplated is suspended until a decision is reached.

Each employer and each local union may be represented by two (2) persons from the institution (without legal counsel).

The CPNSE determines, if applicable, the rules that apply in the case of a special measure not provided by the collective agreement, or when different rules cannot be reconciled.

4. At the request of either party on the CPNSE, the committee meets to:

- a) agree on the means necessary to:
 - rule on any decision that would, by agreement or otherwise, cause the local parties to be relieved of their obligations concerning positions available for employees covered by clause 15.03;
 - rule on any decision at the regional level that may contradict the provisions on job security;
- b) verify if need be the possibility of reconciling the rules provided for the reassignment of employees covered by clause 15.03 when more than one (1) union organization is involved, and if they are not reconcilable, examine the reassignment of these employees;

- c) assess the validity of an SNMO registration for an employee covered by clause 15.03.

5. Each unanimous decision made by the CPNSE under paragraphs 3 or 4 is final and binding on all the parties involved. If the CPNSE does not reach agreement, the chairperson decides and the latter's decision must be rendered in writing within fifteen (15) days of the CPNSE meeting; it is final, without appeal and binding on all the parties involved. The chairperson has all the powers of an arbitrator under the terms of Article 11 of the collective agreement. It is understood that the chairperson of the CPNSE cannot add, remove or modify any of the provisions in the collective agreement, except in the following cases:

- when a special measure is not provided for;
- when they find themselves unable to reconcile the provisions of the different collective agreements on special measures or when the rules on reassignment cannot be reconciled under paragraph 4 b).

In such cases, the chairperson may determine the applicable rules and their decision then constitutes a specific case.

6. If either of the duly convened parties involved fails to attend a meeting of the CPNSE, the committee, or the president if need be, may proceed despite any absence.

7. Institutions undertake to cancel any appointment to a position following a decision by the CPNSE or its chairperson.

8. The fees and expenses of the CPNSE chairperson are borne equally by the parties.

9. The CPNSE establishes the rules required for it to operate smoothly. All committee decisions must be made unanimously.

15.20 An employee who contests an SNMO decision involving a move and does not begin work in their new job ceases to receive the benefits equal to their pay as of the fiftieth (50th) day of notice from the SNMO indicating the location of their new job.

The CPNSE or, failing unanimity, the chairperson disposes of any complaint made by an employee concerning a reassignment involving a move. For this purpose, the chairperson of the CPNSE has all the powers of an arbitrator under the terms of Article 11.

If the employee wins their case, the chairperson of the CPNSE orders the reimbursement of expenses incurred by the employee due to starting work with the new employer, or the reimbursement of lost income incurred if the employee did not begin work in the new position.

An employee covered by clause 15.03 who contests an SNMO decision involving a move is entitled to living allowances on the terms and conditions provided for in the Conseil du trésor regulations set out in Article 16 and/or to the allowances provided by the federal labour mobility program, providing that they fill the position within the time limit stipulated in the notice from the SNMO.

The permanent move of an employee and, if applicable, dependants cannot, however, be made before the CPNSE chairperson's decision is rendered.

15.21 An employee who, while contesting a decision by the SNMO requiring them to move, decides to take the position offered after the date specified by the SNMO is not entitled to the living allowance provided under the Conseil du trésor regulations set out in Article 16 and/or by the federal labour mobility program.

15.22 General clauses

The Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux (MSSS) provides the funding necessary for the administration and application of the job security system in accordance with the terms of this article.

The MSSS is responsible for ensuring the application of decisions made by the SNMO, the CPNSE, arbitrators or the chairperson.

15.23 For the purpose of applying this article, the health and social services sector includes all the centres operated by public institutions within the meaning of the Act respecting health services and social services (CQLR c S-4.2), private institutions under agreement within the meaning of this act, and any organization providing services to a centre or to users pursuant to this act and declared by the government to be comparable to an institution within the meaning of the Act respecting health services and social services, the James Bay Cree Health and Social Services Council, the Nunavik Regional Board of Health and Social Services, as well as, for this purpose alone, the Institut national de santé publique and the Corporation d'Urgences-santé bargaining units already covered by this current job security system.

ARTICLE 16

MOVING EXPENSES

16.01 The provisions of this article are aimed at defining what an employee entitled to reimbursement of moving expenses has the right to claim as moving expenses in the framework of job security under Article 15 of the collective agreement.

16.02 Moving expenses are only applicable for an employee if the national workforce e service (SNMO) agrees that the employee's relocation requires the employee to move.

Moving is deemed necessary if it is actually done and if the distance between the employee's new and former home bases is more than fifty (50) kilometres. The move is not, however, deemed necessary if the distance between the new institution and the employee's residence is less than fifty (50) kilometres.

16.03 Transportation expenses for furniture and personal belongings

Upon presentation of supporting documents, the SNMO agrees to refund expenses incurred for the transportation of such an employee's furniture and personal belongings, including packing and unpacking, as well as the insurance premium and fees to haul a mobile home, on the condition that the employee submit in advance at least two (2) detailed estimates of the expenses to be incurred.

16.04 The SNMO does not, however, reimburse the cost of transporting the employee's personal vehicle unless their new place of residence is not accessible by road. Similarly, expenses for the transportation of a boat, canoe, etc. are not reimbursed by the SNMO.

16.05 Storage

When an employee cannot move directly from one residence to another for reasons of force majeure other than the construction of a new residence, the SNMO reimburses the cost of storing the employee's and the employee's dependants' furniture and personal belongings for a period of up to two (2) months.

16.06 Related moving expenses

The SNMO pays any employee maintaining a dwelling who is moved a moving allowance of $750, or $200 if the employee does not maintain a dwelling, as compensation for related moving expenses (carpeting, drapes, disconnection and connection of electrical appliances, cleaning, child care, etc.), unless the employee is assigned to a placed where full facilities are made available to them by the institution.

16.07 Compensation for a lease

An employee covered under clause 16.01 is also entitled to the following compensation, if applicable: for leaving rental accommodations without a written lease, the SNMO pays the equivalent of one (1) month's rent. If there is a lease, the SNMO compensates an employee who must terminate a lease and is required to pay compensation to the landlord for up to a maximum of three (3) months' rent. In both cases, the employee must attest to the validity of the landlord's claim and provide supporting documents.

16.08 If the employee decides to sub-let their accommodations themselves, the SNMO covers reasonable advertising expenses for this purpose.

16.09 Reimbursement of expenses inherent in selling a house

The SNMO reimburses a relocated employee for the following expenses related to selling and/or purchasing their main residence:

- a) broker's fees, upon presentation of supporting documents after the sales contract has been signed;
- b) all notary fees owed by the employee for the purchase of a house in which to reside in the place to which they are assigned, providing that the employee already owned a house at the time of their move and that the house has been sold;
- c) mortgage cancellation penalties and transfer tax.

16.10 If the house of a relocated employee has not been sold at the time the employee must take on new obligations for housing despite being put up for sale at a reasonable price, the SNMO does not reimburse expenses for keeping the unsold home. In this case, however, the SNMO does reimburse the following expenses for a period of up to three (3) months, upon presentation of supporting documents:

- a) municipal and school taxes;
- b) interest on a mortgage;
- c) insurance premiums.

16.11 If a relocated employee decides not to sell their main place of residence, they may benefit from the provisions of this article to avoid a dual financial burden if the main place of residence is not rented out at the time the employee must take on new obligations for housing in the locality to which they are relocated. For the period of time the house is not yet rented, the SNMO reimburses the employee the amount of their new rent for up to three (3) months, upon presentation of the lease. In addition, the SNMO reimburses reasonable expenses incurred for advertising as well as travel expenses for a maximum of two (2) trips related to renting the house, upon presentation of supporting documentation and in accordance with existing SNMO regulations on travel expenses.

16.12 Living and assignment expenses

When an employee cannot move directly from one residence to another for reasons of force majeure other than the construction of a new residence, the SNMO reimburses the employee for living expenses in accordance with rules on travel expenses in effect at the SNMO for the employee and the employee's family for a period of no more than two (2) weeks.

16.13 When the move is delayed with the SNMO's authorization, or when the family (spouse, dependent child or children as defined in this collective agreement) is not relocated immediately, the SNMO covers travel expenses incurred by the employee to visit the family every two (2) weeks for up to four hundred and eighty (480) kilometres, if the return distance travelled is equal to or less than four hundred and eighty (480) kilometres, or once per month, up to a maximum of sixteen hundred (1,600) kilometres, if the return distance is more than four hundred and eighty (480) kilometres.

16.14 Moving expenses under this article are reimbursed within sixty (60) days of the employee submitting the supporting documentation.

ARTICLE 17

YEARS OF PRIOR EXPERIENCE

17.01 Child nurses, baby nurses, nursing assistants, ~~beneficiary attendants (“A” Certificate)~~, beneficiary attendants and stretcher bearers now in the employer’s service or hired in the future are, for pay purposes only, classified on the basis of the duration of their prior work in the health and social services sector.

17.02 Other employees now in the employer’s service or hired in the future are, for pay purposes only, classified as follows:

- i) on the basis of experience acquired in the health and social services sector, taking into account the duration of prior work in the same job title or valid experience in a comparable job title, as the case may be;
- ii) on the basis of experience acquired outside the health and social services sector, taking into account valid experience since January 1, 1989 in the same or a comparable job.

In all cases, an employee must not have ceased to hold the job providing them with this experience more than two (2) years previously.

17.03 Despite clauses 17.01 and 17.02, employees now in the employer’s service or hired in the future cannot be credited with experience acquired in 1983 for the purpose of classification on the pay scale.

17.04 At the time of hiring, the employer must require attestation of such experience from the employee, who obtains it from the employer where the experience was acquired. If this is not done, the employer may not impose any time limit for doing so on the employee. If it is impossible for the employee to supply written proof or attestation of their experience, they may, after demonstrating that this is in fact impossible, make a sworn statement that then has the same value as a written attestation.

17.05 On the day of an employee’s departure, the employer provides them with a written attestation of the experience acquired by the employee in the institution.

ARTICLE 18

LEAVE WITHOUT PAY AND PART-TIME LEAVE WITHOUT PAY

Leave without pay

18.01 During leave without pay not exceeding thirty (30) days, an employee continues to participate in the pension plan, and service and pensionable earnings corresponding to the leave are credited to them. To this end, the local parties may agree on terms and conditions for payment of the employee's contributions to the pension plan. If they do not agree, the employee pays the full amount of contributions normally due for the period of leave.

In the case of part-time leave without pay of more than twenty per cent (20%) of a full-time position or leave without pay of more than thirty (30) days, an employee may continue to participate in the pension plan providing that they pay the required contributions.

18.02 The following terms and conditions apply to leave without pay of more than thirty (30) days:

a) Seniority

An employee retains the seniority they have at the time of going on leave. In the case, however, of leave without pay for the purpose of teaching at a CEGEP, school board or university, the employee continues to accumulate seniority during the first (1st) year.

b) Group insurance

An employee is not covered by the group insurance plan during the leave, except for the basic life insurance plan provided for in this collective agreement. Upon returning from leave, they are readmitted to the plan. Subject to the provisions of clause 23.14, their participation in the basic health insurance plan is, however, mandatory and the employee must pay the full amount of all the necessary contributions and premiums for it.

An employee may maintain their participation in insurance plans by paying the full amount of all the necessary contributions and premiums for them, subject to the clauses and stipulations of the insurance policy in force.

c) Sick leave

If employment is terminated, sick leave under clause 23.28 and that accumulated under clause 23.29 is cashed out at the rate of pay in force at the start of the leave, in accordance with the quantum and terms and conditions provided in this collective agreement.

d) Exclusion

Except for the provisions of this clause and other provisions negotiated in local agreements, an employee on leave without pay is not entitled to the benefits of the collective agreement in force in the institution, just as if they were not employed by the institution, subject to their right to claim benefits acquired previously and the provisions of Articles 10 and 11.

18.03 If a course taken by an employee for the purpose of academic upgrading or job training requires leave without pay not exceeding sixty-two (62) weeks, the employee accumulates seniority.

If the leave without pay exceeds sixty-two (62) weeks, the employee only retains seniority from the sixty-third (63rd) week on for the duration of the studies undertaken.

An employee on leave without pay who wishes to work part-time during the leave is considered to be a part-time employee and covered by the rules applicable to part-time employees.

Part-time leave without pay

18.04 A full-time employee on part-time leave without pay is considered to be a part-time employee and covered by the rules for part-time employees for the duration of the part-time leave without pay. They accumulate seniority, however, and are covered by the basic life insurance plan as if they were a full-time employee for a maximum of fifty-two (52) weeks.

If part-time leave without pay for studies is extended beyond fifty-two (52) weeks, except as concerns the first (1st) paragraph of clause 18.03 and clause 6.03 of Appendix D of the collective agreement, the employee is deemed to be a part-time employee and covered by the rules for part-time employees, in particular with respect to contributions to the pension plan.

Leave without pay to work in a northern institution

For the purpose of facilitating recruitment for northern institutions, the parties agree to the following:

CÔTE-NORD (09)

- Centre intégré de santé et de services sociaux de la Côte-Nord
- CLSC Naskapi

NORD-DU-QUÉBEC (10)

- Centre régional de santé et de services sociaux de la Baie-James

NUNAVIK (17)

- Ungava Tulattavik Health Centre
- Inuulitsivik Health Centre

JAMES BAY CREE TERRITORY (18)

- James Bay Cree Health and Social Services Council

~~19.02 All work performed by an employee on their weekly days off, provided it is approved by or done with the knowledge of the employer or its representative, is deemed to be overtime and paid at time-and-a-half.~~

~~19.023~~ An employee who works overtime is remunerated as follows for the number of overtime hours worked:

- 1- at one-and-one-half times their regular rate of pay, as a general rule;
- 2- at double their regular rate of pay, if the overtime is worked on a statutory holiday, in addition to payment for the holiday.

- 1- a transportation allowance equal to one (1) hour of pay at straight time;
- 2- remuneration for at least two (2) hours at the overtime rate.

Even if prior notice has been given, however, an employee who is required to come back to perform specific or exceptional work outside of their usual schedule for a purpose other than replacing an absent employee is also be deemed to have been called back to work.

This clause does not apply if the overtime is worked continuously immediately before or after the employee's regular period of work.

19.045 It is agreed that calling back an employee on the recall list does not constitute a callback to work within the meaning of this article.

19.056 An employee who goes in to work while on stand-by duty is paid in accordance with the provisions of this article in addition to the stand-by allowance, if applicable.

19.067 An employee on stand-by duty after their regular day of work receives an allowance equal to one (1) hour of pay at straight time for each eight (8)-hour period.

19.09 The local parties may agree to convert any time worked as overtime, including calls back to work and availability, into paid time off.

ARTICLE 20

PAID STATUTORY HOLIDAYS

20.01 The employer recognizes and observes thirteen (13) statutory holidays during the year (July 1 to June 30), including the National Holiday (June 24).

In no case may there be more than thirteen (13) paid statutory holidays for the period between July 1 and June 30.

20.02 When there is a statutory holiday, the work week in which it is taken is, for the purpose of calculating overtime, reduced by the number of hours in a regular day of work, even if the statutory holiday coincides with a weekly day off.

20.03 When an employee is required to work on one of these statutory holidays, the employer gives them a compensating day off within four (4) weeks before or after the statutory holiday, unless the local parties have agreed that employees required to work on statutory holidays may accumulate them.

If the employer cannot grant the statutory holiday within the above-mentioned period of time and the employee has not accumulated it in a bank of time off, it agrees to pay the employee at double their regular rate of pay while at the same time paying them one day's regular pay for the statutory holiday lost.

20.04 When one of these holidays falls on a Saturday, a Sunday, a weekly day off, during an employee's the vacation period or during sick leave of not more than twelve (12) months, except in the case of industrial accidents, the employee does not lose the statutory holiday.

20.05 To be entitled to the preceding provisions, the employee must perform their regular duties on the working day preceding or following the statutory holiday, unless their absence is already scheduled on the work schedule, has already been authorized by the employer or is subsequently justified by a serious reason.

ARTICLE 21

ANNUAL VACATION LEAVE

21.01 An employee with less than one (1) year of service on April 30 is entitled to one and two thirds (1-2/3) days of paid vacation leave for each month of service.

An employee who is entitled to less than ten (10) days of paid vacation leave may complete up to two (2) weeks (fourteen (14) calendar days) at their own expense.

An employee with one (1) year or more of service on April 30 is entitled to four (4) weeks of annual paid vacation leave.

An employee with at least seventeen (17) years of service is entitled to the following quantum of annual vacation leave:

17 and 18 years of service on April 30	21 working days
19 and 20 years of service on April 30	22 working days
21 and 22 years of service on April 30	23 working days
23 and 24 years of service on April 30	24 working days

An employee with twenty-five (25) years or more of service on April 30 is entitled to five (5) weeks of annual paid vacation leave.

An employee ~~hired since May 14, 2006~~ who has not been out of the health and social services system for more than one (1) year has all their years of service accumulated in the health and social services system recognized for the purpose of determining the quantum of annual vacation leave to which they are entitled. For an employee with less than one (1) year of service in the new institution on April 30, the annual vacation quantum and corresponding remuneration is prorated to the number of months of service during the reference year (May 1 to April 30). An employee may, however, complete the number of days of annual vacation leave at their own expense, up to the number to which they would be entitled if they had been employed by the institution for the entire reference year.

21.02 For calculation purposes, an employee hired between the first (1st) and the fifteenth (15th) day of the month is deemed to have a full month of service.

21.03 The period of service entitling an employee to paid annual vacation runs from May 1 of one year to April 30 of the following year.

21.04 A full-time employee on annual vacation leave receives remuneration equal to what they would receive if they were at work.

If, however, an employee has had more than one job status since the beginning of the period of service entitling them to said annual vacation leave, the amount they receive is determined as follows:

- 1- remuneration equal to what the employee would receive if they were at work for the number of days of annual vacation leave accumulated during the full months when they had full-time status;

- 2- remuneration established in accordance with 8.15, sub-paragraph 2, calculated on the amounts provided in the said sub-paragraph and paid in the course of the months during which the employee had part-time status.

21.05 When an employee leaves the employer's service, they are entitled to the days of vacation leave accumulated up to the date of their departure, in the proportions set out in this article.

ARTICLE 22

PARENTAL RIGHTS

SECTION I GENERAL PROVISIONS

22.01 Maternity, paternity and adoption leave allowances are only paid as supplements to parental insurance or employment insurance benefits, as the case may be, or, in the cases provided for below, as payments during a period of leave for which the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or the employment insurance plan do not apply.

Subject to paragraph A) of clause 22.11 and clause 22.11A, maternity paternity and adoption leave allowances are only paid during the weeks when the employee receives, or would be entitled to receive benefits under the terms of the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or employment insurance if they applied for them.

When an employee shares the parental or adoption benefits paid by the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or employment insurance with their spouse, the allowances are only paid if the employee actually receives benefits from one of these plans during the maternity leave provided for in clause 22.05, the paternity leave provided for in clause 22.21A or the adoption leave provided for in clause 22.22A.

22.02 When both parents are women, the allowance that would normally be paid to the father is paid to the mother who has not given birth to the child.

22.03 The employer does not reimburse an employee for sums which might be required of them by either the Minister of Employment and Social Solidarity, under the terms of the Act respecting parental insurance (CQLR c A-29.011), or Employment and Social Development Canada, under the Employment Insurance Act (S.C. 1996, c.23).

22.03A Basic weekly pay,¹ deferred weekly pay and severance pay are neither increased nor reduced by payments received under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or supplemental employment insurance benefits.

22.04 Unless expressly stipulated otherwise, this article may not have the effect of conferring upon an employee any monetary or non-monetary benefits they would not have had if they had remained at work.

SECTION II MATERNITY LEAVE

22.05 A pregnant employee who is eligible for the Québec Parental Insurance Plan is entitled to twenty-one (21) weeks of maternity leave that must be taken consecutively, subject to clauses 22.08 or 22.08A.

An employee who is not eligible for the Québec Parental Insurance Plan is entitled to twenty (20) weeks of maternity leave that must be taken consecutively, subject to clauses 22.08 or 22.08A.

An employee who becomes pregnant while on leave without pay or part-time leave without pay as provided in this article is also entitled to this maternity leave and to the allowances provided in clauses 22.10, 22.11 or 22.11A, as the case may be.

An employee whose spouse dies has the remaining part of the maternity leave transferred to them and is entitled to the related rights and allowances.

22.06 An employee whose pregnancy comes to an end after the beginning of the twentieth (20th) week preceding the expected due date is also entitled to this maternity leave.

22.07 The distribution of maternity leave before and after the birth of the child is up to the employee. This leave is simultaneous with the payment of benefits under the Act respecting parental insurance and must start no later than the week following the first payment of benefits provided under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan.

In the case of an employee eligible for employment insurance benefits, the maternity leave must include the day of the child's birth.

22.08 When an employee has recovered sufficiently from giving birth but the child is not ready to leave the health-care institution, they may suspend their maternity leave by returning to work. The maternity leave is completed once the child is at home.

Furthermore, when an employee has recovered sufficiently from giving birth but the child is hospitalized after leaving the health-care institution, the employee may, after agreement with the employer, suspend their maternity leave by returning to work during the child's hospitalization.

22.08A At the employee's request, the maternity leave may be split into week-long periods if the child is hospitalized, or for a situation other than a pregnancy-related condition covered by clauses 79.1 and 79.8 to 79.12 of the Act respecting labour standards (CQLR c N-1.1).

The maximum number of weeks the maternity leave may be suspended is equal to the number of weeks the child is hospitalized. For other possibilities of splitting the leave, the maximum number of weeks that the leave may be suspended is that set out in the Act respecting labour standards for the situation in question.

During a suspension of maternity leave, an employee is considered to be on leave without pay and does not receive an allowance or benefits from the employer; they are, however, entitled to the benefits of clause 22.28.

22.08B When an employee resumes the suspended or split maternity leave under the terms of clause 22.08 or 22.08A, the employer pays the employee the allowance to which they would have been entitled if they had not suspended or split the leave for the number of weeks remaining under the terms of clauses 22.10, 22.11 or 22.11A, as the case may be, subject to clause 22.01.

22.09 To obtain maternity leave, an employee must give the employer advance written notice at least two (2) weeks before going on leave. This advance notice must be accompanied by a medical certificate or a report signed by a midwife attesting to the pregnancy and the expected date of birth.

The prescribed period of advance notice may be reduced if the medical certificate attests that the employee must leave their position sooner than anticipated. In case of unforeseen circumstances, the employee is exempt from the formality of advance notice, subject to providing the employer with a medical certificate attesting that they had to leave the job immediately.

Cases eligible for the Québec Parental Insurance Plan

22.10 An employee who has accumulated twenty (20) weeks of service¹ and who is eligible for benefits under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan receives an allowance calculated as follows for twenty-one (21) weeks of maternity leave:²

1° by adding:

- a) an amount corresponding to 100% of the employee's basic weekly pay, up to $225;
- b) and an amount corresponding to 88% of the difference between the employee's basic weekly pay and the amount established in sub-paragraph a) above;

2° and subtracting from this total the amount of maternity or parental benefits under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan that they receive or would receive if they applied for them.

This allowance is calculated on the basis of the Québec Parental Insurance Plan benefits the employee is entitled to receive, without taking into account any amounts subtracted from these benefits due to the reimbursement of benefits, interests, penalties or other amounts recoverable under the terms of the Act respecting parental insurance.

If, however, there is a change in the amount of the benefits paid under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan as a result of a modification to the information supplied by the employer, the latter corrects the amount of the allowance accordingly.

When an employee works for more than one employer, the allowance is equal to the difference between the amount established in sub-paragraph 1o of the first paragraph and the amount of Québec Parental Insurance Plan benefits corresponding to the proportion of the basic weekly pay paid by each employer prorated to the total basic weekly pay paid by all the employers. For this purpose, the employee provides each employer with a statement indicating the weekly earnings received from all their employers, as well as the amount of the benefits they are entitled to under the Act respecting parental insurance.

¹ An employee on leave accumulates service if their absence is authorized, particularly for disability, and involves benefits or remuneration.

² This formula is used to take account in particular of the fact that an employee in such a situation is exempted from contributing to the pension plan, the Québec Parental Insurance Plan and employment insurance.

22.10A The employer may not use the allowance it pays to an employee on maternity leave to compensate for any reduction in the amount of Québec Parental Insurance Plan benefits attributable to pay earned with another employer.

Despite the preceding paragraph, the employer pays such compensation to the employee if the employee demonstrates, by means of a written letter to the employer to this effect, that the pay is regular pay. If the employee demonstrates that only a portion of the pay is regular, the compensation is limited to that portion.

The employer who pays the regular pay mentioned in the preceding paragraph must supply the employee with this letter at the employee's request.

The total amounts paid to the employee during maternity leave in the form of Québec Parental Insurance Plan benefits, allowances and pay must not, however, exceed the gross amount established in sub-paragraph 1 of the first (1st) paragraph of clause 22.10. The formula must be applied to the total of basic weekly pay received from their employer under clause 22.10 or their employers, as the case may be.

Cases not eligible for the Québec Parental Insurance Plan but eligible for employment insurance

22.11 An employee who has accumulated twenty (20) weeks of service and who is eligible for employment insurance without being eligible for the Québec Parental Insurance Plan is entitled to receive an allowance calculated as follows for the twenty (20) weeks of maternity leave:

- A. For each week of the waiting period provided for in the employment insurance plan, an allowance calculated as follows:¹

by adding:

- a) an amount corresponding to 100% of the employee's basic weekly pay, up to $225;
- b) and an amount corresponding to 88% of the difference between the employee's basic weekly pay and the amount established in sub-paragraph a) above;

- B. For each of the weeks following the period stipulated in paragraph A, an allowance calculated as follows:

1° by adding:

- a) an amount corresponding to 100% of the employee's basic weekly pay, up to $225;
- and an amount corresponding to 88% of the difference between the employee's basic weekly pay and the amount established in sub-paragraph a) above;

2° and subtracting from this total the amount of maternity or parental benefits under the employment insurance plan that they receive or would receive if they applied for them.

This allowance is calculated on the basis of the employment insurance benefits the employee is entitled to receive, without taking into account any amounts subtracted from these benefits due to the reimbursement of benefits, interests, penalties or other amounts recoverable under the employment insurance plan.

If, however, there is a change in the amount of employment insurance benefits as a result of a modification to the information supplied by the employer, the latter corrects the amount of the allowance accordingly.

When an employee works for more than one employer, the allowance is equal to the difference between the amount established in sub-paragraph 1o of paragraph B of the first paragraph and the amount of employment insurance benefits corresponding to the proportion of the basic weekly pay paid by each employer prorated to the total basic weekly pay paid by all the employers. For this purpose, the employee provides each employer with a statement indicating the weekly pay received from all their employers, as well as the amount of the benefits to which they are entitled under the Employment Insurance Act.

Furthermore, if ESDC reduces the number of weeks of employment insurance benefits to which the employee would otherwise be entitled if they had not received employment insurance benefits before their maternity leave, the employee continues to receive the allowance stipulated in paragraph B here for a period equal to the weeks subtracted by ESDC as if they had received employment insurance benefits during this period.

Clause 22.10A applies, with the necessary adjustments.

Cases not eligible for either the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or employment insurance

22.11A An employee who is not eligible for either the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or employment insurance is also excluded from receiving any allowance under clauses 22.10 and 22.11.

However, a full-time employee who has accumulated twenty (20) weeks of service is entitled to an allowance calculated as follows for twelve (12) weeks if they do not receive any benefits from a parental rights plan established by another province or territory:

by adding:

- a) an amount corresponding to 100% of the employee's basic weekly pay, up to $225;
- b) and an amount corresponding to 88% of the difference between the employee's basic weekly pay and the amount established in sub-paragraph a) above;

The 4th paragraph of clause 22.10A applies to this clause, with the necessary adjustments.

22.12 In the cases provided for in clauses 22.10, 22.11 and 22.11A:

- a) No allowance may be paid during a vacation period for which the employee is remunerated.
- b) Unless the applicable pay period is weekly, the allowance is paid at two (2) week intervals. In the case of an employee eligible for Québec Parental Insurance Plan or employment insurance benefits, however, the first payment is only due fifteen (15) days after the employer obtains proof that the employee is receiving benefits from one of these plans. For the purposes of this clause, a statement of benefits, a cheque stub or an official statement from the Ministère du Travail, de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale or ESDC is considered proof.

c) Service is calculated on the basis of employment with all public and para-public sector employers (public service, education, health and social services) as well as health and social services agencies, organizations whose remuneration standards and scales are determined in accordance with the conditions defined by the government, the Office franco-québécois pour la jeunesse, the Société de gestion du réseau informatique des commissions scolaires as well as any other organization listed in Schedule C of the Act respecting the process of negotiation of the collective agreements in the public and para-public sectors (CQLR c R-8.2).

Furthermore, the requirement of twenty (20) weeks of service under clauses 22.10, 22.11 or 22.11A is deemed to be met, should the case arise, when the employee has met this requirement with any of the employers mentioned in this sub-paragraph.

d) The basic weekly pay of a part-time employee is their average basic weekly pay for the last twenty (20) weeks preceding the maternity leave.

If the employee has received benefits established as a certain percentage of their regular pay during this period, it is agreed that the reference for the purposes of calculating their basic pay during maternity leave is the basic pay on which such benefits have been established.

Furthermore, any period during which an employee on special leave under clause 22.19 does not receive compensation from the Commission des normes, de l'équité, de la santé et sécurité du travail (CNESST) and weeks during which the employee was on leave without pay provided for in the collective agreement is excluded for the purposes of calculating their average basic weekly pay.

If the period of the last twenty (20) weeks preceding a part-time employee's maternity leave includes the date of an increase in pay rates and scales, the basic weekly pay is calculated on the basis of the rate of pay in effect on that date. Furthermore, if the maternity leave includes the date of an increase in pay rates and scales, the basic weekly pay is increased on that date in accordance with the formula for the adjustment of the applicable pay scale.

The provisions of this sub-paragraph constitute one of the express stipulations covered by clause 22.04.

22.13 During maternity leave, employees are entitled to the following benefits, providing they are normally entitled to them:

- life insurance;
- health insurance, paying their share of contributions;
- accumulation of vacation leave;
- accumulation of sick leave;
- accumulation of seniority;
- accumulation of experience;
- accumulation of seniority for the purpose of job security;

- the right to apply for and obtain a position in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement as if they were at work.

22.14 An employee may postpone a maximum of four (4) weeks of annual vacation leave if they fall within the period of maternity leave and if the employee notifies the employer in writing no later than two (2) weeks before the end of their maternity leave of the dates to which the vacation leave is postponed.

22.15 If the birth occurs after the due date, an employee is entitled to an extension of their maternity leave equal to the period of time by which the baby is overdue, unless they already have a period of at least two weeks of maternity leave remaining after the birth.

An employee may benefit from an extension of maternity leave if their own or their child's health requires it. The length of this extension is the period of time prescribed on the medical certificate that the employee must provide.

During such extensions, the employee is considered to be on leave without pay and does not receive any allowance or benefits from the employer. The employee only receives the benefits provided under clause 22.13 during the first six (6) weeks of the extension, after which they receive the benefits of clause 22.28.

22.16 Maternity leave may be shorter than the period of time provided in clause 22.05. If an employee returns to work within two (2) weeks of giving birth, they produce, at the employer's request, a medical certificate attesting that they have sufficiently recovered to be able to resume work.

22.17 During the fourth (4th) week preceding the end of an employee's maternity leave, the employer must send the employee notice indicating the date on which the leave is scheduled to end.

An employee to whom the employer has sent the above notice must report for work when their maternity leave expires unless the leave is extended as provided for in clause 22.31.

An employee who does not comply with the preceding paragraph is deemed to be on leave without pay for a period of no more than four (4) weeks. At the end of this period, an employee who has not reported for work is deemed to have resigned.

22.18 Upon returning from maternity leave, employees resume their position or a position obtained at their request during the leave in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement, as the case may be.

If their position has been abolished, or if they have been bumped, the employee is entitled to the benefits they would have had if they had then been at work.

Similarly, upon returning from maternity leave, an employee who does not hold a position resumes the assignment they had when they went on leave if the assignment was expected to last longer than the maternity leave. If the assignment is terminated, the employee is entitled to any other assignment in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement.

SECTION III SPECIAL LEAVE DURING PREGNANCY AND BREASTFEEDING

Temporary assignment and special leave

22.19 Employees may request temporary assignment to another position that is vacant or temporarily without an incumbent in the same job title or, if they consent and subject to the applicable provisions of the collective agreement, in another job title, in the following cases:

- a) They are pregnant and their working conditions involve risks of infectious disease or physical danger to their unborn child.
- b) Their working conditions involve hazards to the child they are breastfeeding.
- c) They work regularly on a video display terminal.

The employee must present a medical certificate to this effect as soon as possible.

When the employer receives a request for protective leave, it notifies the union immediately and informs the latter of the name of the employee and the reasons given to justify the request for protective leave.

If they agree, an employee other than the one who requests a temporary assignment may, after obtaining the employer's consent, exchange their position with the employee who is pregnant or breastfeeding for the duration of the period of the temporary assignment. This applies insofar as both employees meet the normal requirements of the job.

An employee thus assigned to another position or the employee who agrees to fill the position of the reassigned employee retains the rights and privileges attached to their respective regular positions.

An employee who regularly works on a video display terminal and requests to be temporarily assigned to another position that is either vacant or temporarily without its incumbent is then assigned with priority over employees on the recall list, subject to the provisions of clause 15.01 C).

If the temporary assignment does not take effect immediately, the employee is entitled to special leave beginning immediately. Unless the employee is subsequently given a temporary assignment putting an end to it, the special leave ends on the day they give birth in the case of a pregnant employee, or at the end of the period of breastfeeding in the case of an employee who is nursing. For an employee eligible to receive benefits under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan, however, the special leave ends as of the fourth (4th) week preceding the due date.

During the special leave provided for in this clause, the employee's indemnity is governed by the provisions of the Act respecting occupational health and safety (CQLR c S-2.1) on protective special leave for pregnant or nursing workers.

Following a written request to this effect, however, the employer pays the employee an advance on the indemnity to be received, based on projected payments. Should the CNESST pay the projected indemnity, the employer's advance is reimbursed from the indemnity. Otherwise, the advance is reimbursed at the rate of ten per cent (10%) of the sum paid in each pay period until the debt has been paid off.

If, however, an employee exercises their right to ask for a review of the CNESST's decision or to contest the decision before the Tribunal administratif du Travail, no reimbursement can be required before the CNESST's administrative review decision or the decision of the Tribunal administratif du Travail, as the case may be, has been rendered.

An employee who works regularly on a video display terminal may request a reduction in the amount of time spent working on it. The employer must then study the possibility of temporarily modifying the duties of the employee assigned to a video display terminal without any loss of their rights for the purpose of reducing the amount of work on the video display terminal to a maximum of two (2) hours per half-day. If such modifications are possible, the employer then assigns the employee to other duties that they are reasonably able to perform for the rest of their hours of work.

A respiratory therapist who is pregnant and who works in constant contact with anaesthetic gases may be transferred to another respiratory care unit at their or the employer's request. This transfer is only temporary and they resume their position upon returning from maternity leave.

Other special leave

22.19A Employees are also entitled to special leave in the following cases:

- a) when a complication in pregnancy or a danger of miscarriage requires the employee to stop work for a period of time prescribed by a medical certificate; this special leave may not, however, last beyond the fourth (4th) week preceding the date the baby is due;
- b) upon presentation of a medical certificate prescribing its duration, when a natural or induced interruption of pregnancy occurs before the beginning of the twentieth week preceding the date the baby is due;
- c) for pregnancy-related visits to a health professional attested to by a medical certificate or a written report signed by a midwife.

22.20 For visits covered by sub-paragraph c) of clause 22.19A, the employee is entitled to special leave with full pay for up to a maximum of four (4) days. Such special leave may be taken in half (1/2) days.

During special leave under the terms of this section, employees are entitled to benefits under clause 22.13 providing they are normally entitled to them, and under clause 22.18 in Section II. Employees covered by sub-paragraph a), b) or c) of clause 22.19A are also entitled to benefits under the sick leave or disability insurance plans. In the case of sub-paragraph c) however, the employee must first use up the four (4) days mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

SECTION IV PATERNITY LEAVE

22.21 Employees are entitled to a maximum of five (5) working days of paid leave for the birth of their child. Employees are also entitled to this leave in the event of an interruption of pregnancy occurring after the beginning of the twentieth (20th) week preceding the due date. The leave may be taken non-continuously and must be taken between the beginning of the delivery and the fifteenth (15th) day after the mother or child returns home.

One of the five (5) days may be used to baptize or register the child.

A female employee whose spouse gives birth is also entitled to this leave if she is designated as one of the child's mothers.

22.21A Employees are also entitled to a maximum of five (5) weeks of paternity leave for the birth of their child; subject to clauses 22.33 and 22.33A, these weeks must be taken consecutively. This leave must end no later than the end of the fifty-second (52nd) week following the birth of the child.

If the employee is eligible for the Québec Parental Insurance Plan, this leave is simultaneous with the period during which benefits under the Act respecting parental insurance are paid, and must begin no later than the week following the start of payment of parental insurance benefits.

A female employee whose spouse gives birth is also entitled to this leave if she is designated as one of the child's mothers.

22.21B During paternity leave under clause 22.21A, an employee who has completed twenty (20) weeks of service¹ receives an allowance equal to the difference between their basic weekly pay and the amount of benefits under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or the employment insurance plan that they receive or would receive if they applied for them.

The 2nd, 3rd and 4th paragraphs of clause 22.10 or the 2nd, 3rd and 4th paragraphs of clause 22.11, as the case may be, and clause 22.10A apply to this clause, with the necessary adjustments.

22.21C An employee who is not eligible for paternity benefits under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or parental benefits under the employment insurance plan receives an allowance equal to their basic weekly pay for the paternity leave provided for in clause 22.21 if they have completed twenty (20) weeks of service.

22.21D Clause 22.12 applies to an employee receiving the allowance set out in clauses 22.21B or 22.21C, with the necessary adjustments.

SECTION V ADOPTION LEAVE AND LEAVE IN VIEW OF ADOPTION

22.22 An employee is entitled to a maximum of five (5) working days of paid leave for the adoption of a child other than their spouse's child. This leave may be non-continuous and cannot be taken more than fifteen (15) days after the child's arrival in the home.

One of these five (5) days may be used to baptize or register the child.

22.22A An employee who legally adopts a child other than their spouse's child is entitled to a maximum of five (5) weeks of adoption leave which, subject to clauses 22.33 and 22.33A, must be taken consecutively. The leave must end no later than the end of the fifty-second (52nd) week after the week in which the child arrives in the home.

For an employee who is eligible for the Québec Parental Insurance Plan, this leave is simultaneous with the period during which they receive payments under the terms of the Act respecting parental insurance and must start no later than the week following the first payment of these benefits.

For an employee who is not eligible for the Québec Parental Insurance Plan, this leave is taken after the child's placement order, or an equivalent document in the case of an international adoption in accordance with the adoption system, is issued, or at another time agreed upon with the employer.

¹ An employee on leave accumulates service if their absence is authorized, particularly for disability, and involves benefits or remuneration.

22.23 During the adoption leave provided in clause 22.22A, an employee who has completed twenty (20) weeks of service¹ receives an allowance equal to the difference between their basic weekly pay and the amount of benefits under the terms of the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or the employment insurance plan that they receive or would receive if they applied for them.

The 2nd, 3rd and 4th paragraphs of clause 22.10 or the 2nd, 3rd and 4th paragraphs of clause 22.11, as the case may be, and clause 22.10A apply, with the necessary adjustments.

22.24 An employee who is not eligible for adoption benefits under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or for parental benefits under the terms of the employment insurance plan and who adopts a child other than their spouse's child receives an allowance equal to their basic weekly pay during the adoption leave provided for in clause 22.22A if the employee has completed twenty (20) weeks of service.

22.24A An employee who adopts their spouse's child is entitled to a maximum of five (5) working days of leave, only the first two days of which are paid.

This leave may be interrupted and cannot be taken after the expiry of the fifteen (15)-day period following the filing of the application for adoption.

22.25 Clause 22.12 applies to an employee entitled to the allowance under the terms of clause 22.23 or 22.24, with the necessary adjustments.

22.26 An employee is entitled to unpaid leave of no more than ten (10) weeks for the adoption of a child from the date on which they take effective custody of the child, unless the child is their spouse's child.

An employee traveling outside Québec for the purpose of adopting a child other than their spouse's child is entitled to unpaid leave for the time necessary for the trip, upon written request to the employer, if possible two (2) weeks in advance.

Despite the preceding paragraphs, the leave without pay ends no later than the week following the first payment of benefits under the Québec Parental Insurance Plan or the employment insurance plan, at which time the terms of clause 22.22A take effect.

During the leave without pay, the employee is entitled to the benefits of clause 22.28.

SECTION VI LEAVE WITHOUT PAY AND PART-TIME LEAVE WITHOUT PAY

22.27 a) Employees are entitled to one of the following forms of leave:

- 1) a maximum of two (2) years of leave without pay immediately following the maternity leave provided for in clause 22.05;
- 2) a maximum of two (2) years of leave without pay immediately following the paternity leave provided for in clause 22.21A. The leave must not, however, extend beyond the 125th week after the birth of the child.

¹ An employee on leave accumulates service if their absence is authorized, particularly for disability, and involves benefits or remuneration.

- 3) a maximum of two (2) years of leave without pay immediately following the adoption leave provided for in clause 22.22A. The leave must not, however, extend beyond the 125th week after the child's arrival in the home.

Full-time employees who do not use this leave without pay are entitled to part-time leave without pay established over a maximum period of two (2) years. The leave must not, however, extend beyond the 125th week after the birth of the child or the child's arrival in the home.

During such leave, and upon written request at least thirty (30) days in advance to the employer, an employee is authorized to make one (1) of the following changes once:

- i) from leave without pay to part-time leave without pay or vice versa, as the case may be;
- ii) from part-time leave without pay to a different arrangement of part-time leave without pay.

Despite the preceding, an employee may make a second change in their leave without pay or part-time leave without pay providing that they gives notice of it in their first (1st) request for a change.

A part-time employee is also entitled to this part-time leave without pay. In the event of a disagreement with the employer over the number of days of work per week, however, a part-time employee must provide the equivalent of two-and-one-half (2-1/2) days of work.

An employee who does not make use of their leave without pay or part-time leave without pay may, for the portion of leave that their spouse has not used, choose to take leave without pay or part-time leave without pay in accordance with the formalities provided.

When an employee's spouse is not a public-sector employee, the employee may choose to use the leave provided for above whenever they so choose in the two (2) years following the birth or adoption of the child without, however, exceeding the maximum of two (2) years after the date of birth or adoption.

- b) An employee who does not take the leave provided for in paragraph a) may, after the birth or adoption of a child, take a maximum of fifty-two (52) weeks of continuous leave without pay starting at the time decided by the employee and ending no later than seventy (70) weeks after the child's birth or, in the case of an adoption, seventy (70) weeks after receiving custody of the child.
- c) During the second (2nd) year of leave without pay and after agreement with the employer, an employee may register for the recall list of their institution instead of returning to their position. In such a case, the employee is not subject to rules on minimum availability that may be stipulated in local provisions. The employee is then considered to be on part-time leave without pay.

22.28 During leave without pay under clause 22.27, an employee continues to accumulate seniority and retain experience and continues to participate in the applicable basic health insurance plan, paying their share of the premiums during the first fifty-two (52) weeks of the leave and the total amount of the premiums in the following weeks. As well, they may continue to participate in the applicable optional insurance plans if they request it at the beginning of leave and if they pay the full amount of the premiums.

During part-time leave without pay, an employee also accumulates seniority and, by virtue of working, is governed by the rules applicable to part-time employees.

Despite the preceding paragraphs, an employee accumulates experience for the purpose of determining their pay for the first fifty-two (52) weeks of leave without pay or part-time leave without pay.

During one of the forms of leave under clause 22.27, an employee has the right to apply for a position and obtain it in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement as if they were at work.

22.29 An employee may take postponed annual vacation leave immediately before their leave without pay or part-time leave without pay, providing that it is continuous with their paternity, maternity or adoption leave, as the case may be.

For the purposes of this clause, statutory holidays or floating days off accumulated before the beginning of the maternity, paternity or adoption leave are treated like postponed annual vacation leave.

22.29A At the end of this leave without pay or part-time leave without pay, an employee resumes their position or a position that they have obtained at their request in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement, as the case may be. If their position has been abolished or they have been bumped, the employee is entitled to the benefits they would have had if they had then been at work.

Similarly, upon returning from leave without pay or part-time leave without pay, an employee who does not hold a position resumes the assignment they had when they went on leave if the assignment continues after the end of the leave.

Should the assignment be terminated, the employee is entitled to any other assignment, in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement.

22.29B Upon presentation of a supporting document, up to one (1) year of leave without pay or part-time leave without pay is allowed to an employee whose minor child is emotionally disturbed, handicapped or suffering from a prolonged illness and whose condition requires the presence of the employee in question. The terms and conditions for this leave are the same as those provided in clauses 22.28, 22.31 and 22.32.

SECTION VII MISCELLANEOUS CLAUSES

Notice and advance notice

22.30 For paternity and adoption leave:

- a) The leave under clauses 22.21 and 22.22 must be preceded as early as possible by notice from the employee to the employer.
- b) The leave under clauses 22.21A and 22.22A is granted upon written request at least three (3) weeks in advance. This advance notice may, however, be shorter if the birth takes place before the due date.

The request must specify the date on which the said leave is scheduled to end.

The employee must report for work at the end of paternity leave under clause 22.21A or adoption leave under clause 22.22A unless it is extended as provided for in clause 22.31.

An employee who does not comply with the preceding sub-paragraph is deemed to be on leave without pay for a period of no more than four (4) weeks. At the end of this period, an employee who has not reported for work is deemed to have resigned.

22.31 Leave without pay under clause 22.27 is granted upon written request at least three (3) weeks in advance.

Part-time leave without pay is granted following a written request submitted at least thirty (30) days in advance.

In the case of leave without pay or part-time leave without pay, the request must specify the date of the return to work. It must also specify how the leave is to be arranged in terms of the position held by the employee. If the employer disagrees with the number of days of leave per week, a full-time employee is entitled to a maximum of two-and-one-half (2-1/2) days per week or the equivalent, for up to two (2) years.

In the event of disagreement with the employer over the distribution of these days, the employer schedules them.

The employee and the employer may agree to rearrange part-time leave without pay at any time.

22.32 An employee to whom the employer has sent notice of the end of leave without pay four (4) weeks in advance must give advance notice of their return to work at least two (2) weeks before the end of the leave. If they do not report for work on the scheduled date, they are deemed to have resigned.

Employees who wish to end their leave without pay before the scheduled date must give advance notice in writing of their intention to do so at least twenty-one (21) days before returning to work. If the leave without pay is for more than fifty-two (52) weeks, at least thirty (30) days of advance notice must be given.

Extension, suspension or splitting of leave

22.33 When an employee's child is hospitalized, the employee may, after agreement with the employer, suspend paternity leave under clause 22.21A or adoption leave under clause 22.22A by returning to work during the period of hospitalization.

22.33A Upon request, an employee may split paternity leave under clause 22.21A, adoption leave under clause 22.22A or full-time leave without pay under clause 22.27 into separate weeks before the end of the first fifty-two (52) weeks.

The leave may be split if the employee's child is hospitalized, or in a situation covered by Sections 79.1 or 79.8 to 79.12 of the Act respecting labour standards.

The maximum number of weeks that leave may be suspended is equal to the number of weeks the child is hospitalized. For other possibilities of splitting leave, the maximum number of weeks that the leave may be suspended is that provided in the Act respecting labour standards for the situation in question.

During such a suspension of leave, the employee is considered to be on leave without pay and does not receive any allowance or benefits from the employer. The employee is covered by clause 22.28 during this period.

22.33B When paternity or adoption leave that has been suspended or split under clauses 22.33 or 22.33A is resumed, the employer pays the employee the allowance to which they would have been entitled to if they had not suspended or split the leave. The employer pays the allowance for the number of weeks remaining under clause 22.21A or 22.22A, as the case may be, subject to clause 22.01.

22.33C An employee is entitled to an extension of paternity or adoption leave if they provide the employer with notice and a medical certificate attesting that it is required by the child's state of health before the end of paternity leave under clause 22.21A or adoption leave under clause 22.22A. The length of the extension is the length of time indicated on the medical certificate.

During this extension, the employee is considered to be on leave without pay and does not receive any allowance or benefits from the employer. The employee is covered by clause 22.28 during this period.

22.34 An employee who takes paternity leave or adoption leave under clauses 22.21, 22.21A, 22.22, 22.22A or 22.24A is entitled to benefits under clause 22.13, providing they would normally be entitled to them, and under clause 22.18 of Section II.

22.35 An employee who is entitled to a regional disparities premium under the terms of this collective agreement receives the premium during maternity leave as provided in Section II.

Similarly, an employee who is entitled to a regional disparities premium under the terms of this collective agreement receives the premium for the weeks during which they receive an allowance under clauses 22.21A or 22.22A, as the case may be.

22.35A Any allowance or benefits under this article that have begun to be paid before a strike continue to be paid during the strike.

22.36 If changes are made to the Québec Parental Insurance Plan, the Employment Insurance Act or the Act respecting labour standards with respect to parental rights, the parties will meet to discuss the implications of such modifications for this parental rights plan.

22.37 — Transitional clauses

~~Despite the provisions of clauses 22.10, 22.10A, 22.11, 22.11A, 22.21B, 22.21C, 22.23 and 22.24 in this article, an employee who is receiving an allowance in accordance with the corresponding clauses of the national provisions of the FSSS-CSN 2011-2015 collective agreement on the date these national provisions of the 2016-2020 collective agreement is signed continues to receive the allowance in accordance with the methods of calculation or conditions stipulated in the former clauses, providing that they are entitled to them.~~

ARTICLE 23

LIFE, HEALTH AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PLANS

SECTION I GENERAL PROVISIONS

23.01 In the event of death, illness or accident, employees covered by this collective agreement are entitled to the plans described in this article as of the date indicated and until their effective retirement, whether or not they have completed their probation period.

- a) Any employee hired on a full-time basis or for seventy per cent (70%) or more of full-time in a position: after one (1) month of continuous service.

Any employee hired on a full-time basis or for seventy per cent (70%) or more of full-time for an assignment: after three (3) months of continuous service, except for the basic health insurance plan, in which they participate after one (1) month of continuous service.

- b) Any part-time employee who works less than seventy per cent (70%) of full-time: after three (3) months of continuous service, except for the basic health insurance plan, in which they participate after one (1) month of continuous service.

For the purpose of applying the second (2nd) sub-paragraph of a) and paragraph b), the percentage of time worked by a part-time employee is calculated as follows:

- 1) For a new employee, according to the percentage of time worked during the first (1st) month of continuous service for the basic health insurance plan, and during the first three (3) months of continuous service for the other plans, until the next December 31. If, however, the employee has not completed the relevant period of continuous service on October 31, or if their date of hiring falls between November 1 and December 31, the percentage of time worked is calculated as soon as they complete the relevant period of continuous service.
- 2) Subsequently, according to the percentage of time worked during the period from November 1 to October 31 of the previous year and applicable on January 1 of the following year.
- 3) As soon as a new part-time employee completes three (3) years of continuous service and on November 21 of each year, the employer sends them written notice indicating the percentage of time worked during the relevant period.

New employees who have worked twenty-five per cent (25%) or less of full time have the choice of participating or not in the basic life or disability insurance plans. If they choose to participate, they notify the employer to this effect in writing within ten (10) calendar days of receiving the notice sent to them by the employer.

On January 1 of each year, employees whose amount of work has shrunk to twenty-five per cent (25%) or less of full-time during the period from November 1 to October 31 of the previous year may cease to participate in the basic life or disability insurance plans, providing that they notify the employer to this effect in writing within ten (10) calendar days of receiving the notice sent to them by the employer.

Employees who work twenty-five per cent (25%) or less of full-time and who have chosen not to participate in the basic life or disability insurance plans may modify their choice on January 1 of each year. They must notify the employer to this effect by December 1 at the latest.

Subject to the provisions of clause 23.14, the participation of each employee in the basic health insurance plan is mandatory after one (1) month of continuous service.

- 4) The employer pays its full contribution to the basic health insurance plan for an employee covered by paragraph a), and half of this contribution for an employee covered by paragraph b). An employee covered by paragraph b) pays the balance of the employer's contribution in addition to their own contribution.

If an employee has not completed one (1) month of continuous service on October 31, or if their date of hiring falls between November 1 and December 31, the percentage of time worked is calculated as soon as they complete one (1) month of continuous service, and the employer's contribution remains unchanged for the subsequent year beginning on January 1.

23.02 For the purpose of this article, "dependant" means an employee's spouse, dependent child or a person with a functional impairment as defined below:

- i) spouse: within the meaning of Article 1 of the collective agreement.

However, this status of spouse is lost with the dissolution of the marriage by divorce or annulment, or de facto separation of more than three (3) months in the case of a common-law union, or nullity or dissolution of a civil union. An employee who is not cohabiting with their spouse may designate this person as spouse. They may also designate another person in place of the legal spouse if the other person meets the definition of spouse set out in Article 1.

- ii) dependent child: within the meaning of Article 1 of the collective agreement. An unmarried child over whom the employee or their spouse exercises parental authority or would exercise it if the child were a minor and met all the other conditions set out in Article 1 is also considered to be a dependent child.

- iii) person with a functional impairment: a person of full legal age without a spouse, who is affected by a functional impairment defined in the Regulation on the general prescription drug insurance plan (CQLR c A-29.01, r 4) that occurred before the person reached eighteen (18) years of age, who does not receive any benefits under a last-resort assistance program provided for in the Individual and Family Assistance Act (CQLR c A-13.11) who is residing with the employee and over whom the employee or their spouse would exercise parental authority if the person were a minor.

23.03 Definition of disability

Disability means a state of incapacity resulting from an illness, including an accident or a complication of pregnancy, a tubal ligation, a vasectomy or similar forms of family planning, or an organ or bone marrow donation that is being monitored medically and that renders the employee totally incapable of performing the usual duties of their job or any other comparable job with similar remuneration offered to them by the employer.

23.04 A period of disability is any continuous period of disability or a series of successive periods separated by a period of actual full-time work or availability for full-time work, unless the employee can establish to the satisfaction of the employer or its representative that a subsequent period is due to an illness or accident completely unrelated to the cause of the previous disability.

This period of actual full-time work or availability for full-time work is:

- 1- less than fifteen (15) days if the period of disability is less than seventy-eight (78) weeks;
- 2- less than forty-five (45) days if the period of disability is equal to or greater than seventy-eight (78) weeks.

23.05 A period of disability resulting from illness or injury voluntarily caused by the employee themselves, alcoholism or drug addiction, active participation in a riot, insurrection or criminal acts or service in the armed forces is not recognized as a period of disability for the purposes of this article.

However, a period of disability resulting from alcoholism or drug addiction during which the employee receives treatment or medical care aimed at their rehabilitation is recognized as a period of disability.

23.06 In return for the employer's contribution to the insurance benefits provided below, the total rebate authorized by Employment and Social Development Canada in the case of a registered plan accrues to the employer.

23.07 The provisions concerning the life, health and disability insurance plans existing in the previous collective agreement remain in force until the collective agreement comes into force.

23.08 The union insurance committee is responsible for establishing the basic health insurance plan and the optional life, health and disability insurance plans, which are an integral part of the insurance contract.

The insurance contract must be underwritten by an insurance company whose head office is located in Québec.

The optional plans that may be established by the committee are life insurance, health insurance and disability insurance plans.

Premiums for the optional plans are borne entirely by participants. Participation is optional in accordance with the terms of the insurance contract.

The contract must provide that the Comité patronal de négociation du secteur de la santé et des services sociaux (CPNSSS) may obtain from the insurer any useful and relevant statement or statistical compilation that the insurer provides to the union committee.

The CPNSSS receives a copy of the specifications, the list of insurance companies tendering and a copy of the contract. The CPNSSS is informed of any change in the contract, and changes affecting the administration of the plans are subject to agreement between the negotiating parties. No change in premiums may take effect until at least sixty (60) days after written notice is sent to the CPNSSS.

The CPNSSS and the FSSS-CSN meet as necessary to try and resolve problems related to the administration of the basic health insurance plan and the optional plans.

The employer does the work required to establish and implement the basic health insurance plan and optional plans in accordance with the terms of the contract reached between the insurer and the union committee. The employer co-operates in any campaign concerning the insurance plans. In particular, the employer:

- a) provides information to employees;
- b) registers and withdraws employees;
- c) forwards to the insurer applications for coverage and relevant information for keeping the insured person's file up to date with the insurer;
- d) forwards requests to terminate coverage to the insurer;
- e) collects the required contributions and remits to the insurer the premiums deducted or received from employees, as the case may be;
- f) gives employees application forms, benefits forms, bulletins, pamphlets, insurance certificates or other documents supplied by the insurer;
- g) transmits information normally required from the employer by the insurer to settle certain benefits;
- h) transmits to the insurer the names of employees who have informed the employer that they have decided to retire.

The waiting period for the disability insurance plan may not be less than twenty-four (24) months, and the net benefit after taxes may not exceed eighty per cent (80%) of net pay after taxes, including the benefits that an employee may receive from any other source, in particular under the Act respecting the Québec Pension Plan (CQLR c R-9), the Automobile Insurance Act (CQLR c A-25), the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases (CQLR c A-3.001) and the various acts regarding pension plans; this maximum should not be interpreted as imposing an identical limit on the benefits that an employee may receive from other sources.

Persons covered by the provisions of the James Bay and Northern Québec Agreement as defined in Section 1 of the Act approving the agreement concerning James Bay and Northern Québec (CQLR c C-67) who are also employees within the meaning of this collective agreement may be exempted from participating in the basic plan and the supplementary health insurance plan(s) and retain the right to participate in the supplementary life and disability insurance plans.

SECTION II BASIC LIFE INSURANCE PLAN

23.09 An employee covered by paragraph a) of clause 23.01 is entitled to six thousand four hundred dollars ($6,400) of life insurance.

An employee covered by paragraph b) of clause 23.01 is entitled to three thousand two hundred dollars ($3,200) of life insurance.

The employer pays one hundred per cent (100%) of the cost of the above-mentioned life insurance.

23.10 Employees who on the date the previous collective agreement came into force were entitled to a life insurance plan for an amount greater than the one provided by this agreement as part of a group insurance plan to which the employer contributed, and who remained insured during the previous collective agreement for the greater amount provided by the plan still in force, as well as retired employees who on the same date were entitled to such an insurance plan and who have continued to be entitled to it during the same period, may remain insured providing that:

- a) they had made a written request to their employer on the form provided for this purpose by December 1, 1976 at the latest;
- b) they make monthly payments of the first forty cents ($0.40) of the cost of such insurance for each one thousand dollars ($1,000) of insurance, the employer paying the difference in the cost.

SECTION III BASIC HEALTH INSURANCE PLAN

23.11 In accordance with the terms of the contract, the basic plan covers medication prescribed by a physician or a dentist and sold by a licensed pharmacist or duly authorized physician, and, if provided by the insurance contract, transportation by ambulance, hospital and medical costs not otherwise reimbursable when the insured employee is temporarily outside of Quebec and when their condition necessitates their hospitalization outside of Québec, purchase of an artificial limb in the event of loss during an insured period, or other supplies and services prescribed by an attending physician and necessary for the treatment of the illness, and hospitalization costs to a maximum of the cost of a semi-private room.

23.12 In each pay period, the employer's contribution for the basic health insurance plan, excluding costs for hospitalization in a semi-private room, for any employee cannot exceed the lesser of the following amounts:

- a) in the case of employees insured for themselves and their dependants:
 - i) ~~job title in rankings 12 to 28 with a maximum on the pay scale on March 13, 2011 equal to or greater than $40,000 a year:~~
 - pay every 14 days: ~~$17.915.97;~~
 - pay every 7 days: ~~$8.972.99;~~
 - ii) ~~job title in rankings 1 to 11 with a maximum on the pay scale on March 13, 2011 of less than $40,000 a year:~~
 - pay every 14 days: ~~$39.7243.24;~~
 - pay every 7 days: ~~$19.836.61.~~
- b) in the case of employees ensured for themselves alone:
 - i) ~~job title in rankings 12 to 28 with a maximum on the pay scale on March 13, 2011 equal to or greater than $40,000 a year:~~
 - pay every 14 days: ~~$7.172.39;~~
 - pay every 7 days: ~~$3.574.19;~~

ii) ~~job title in rankings 1 to 11 with a maximum on the pay scale on March 13, 2011 of less than $40,000 a year:~~

~~- pay every 14 days: $15,845.28;~~

~~- pay every 7 days: $7,922.64.~~

c) double the premium paid by the employee themselves for the benefits provided by the basic plan.

The employer continues to make this contribution for any absence without pay of twenty-eight (28) days or less.

The employer's contribution varies, if applicable, if the employee changes job titles.

23.13 The insurance contract must provide for waiving the employer's contribution as of the one hundred and fifth (105th) week of an employee's disability.

23.14 Participation in the basic health insurance plan is mandatory.

Upon written notice to the employer, however, an employee may refuse or cease to participate in the health insurance plan providing they prove that they are insured under another group insurance plan or, if the contract allows, the general drug insurance plan provided by the Régie de l'assurance-maladie du Québec (RAMQ).

An employee on leave without pay for more than twenty-eight (28) days may stop participating in the basic health insurance plan on the same conditions. If these conditions are not met, the employee pays the full amount of their contributions and the employer's contributions.

23.15 Subject to the provisions of clause 23.14, an employee continues to participate in the insurance plans during a suspension of up to twenty-eight (28) days. In the event of a suspension of more than twenty-eight (28) days, an employee may continue to participate by paying the full amount of their contributions and the employer's contributions, if applicable.

23.16 An employee who has refused or ceased to participate in the basic health insurance plan may resume participation in accordance with the conditions provided in the contract.

SECTION IV DISABILITY INSURANCE PLAN

23.17 Subject to the provisions of this agreement, employees are entitled to the following for each period of disability during which they are absent from work:

a) For up to the lesser of the number of accumulated days of sick leave credited to them or five (5) working days, payment of benefits equal to the pay they would receive if they were at work.

However, if an employee must be absent from work because of illness without having enough days credited to them to cover the first five (5) working days of the absence, they may use in advance the days that they will accumulate up to November 30 of the current year. If, however, the employee leaves the position before the end of the year, they must reimburse the employer out of their last pay for the days of sick leave taken in advance and not yet earned, at the rate prevailing at the time of their departure.

Full-time employees may, at their request, receive payment at the straight-time rate, in lieu of taking leave for one or more days of the following types of leave to cover the waiting period:

- accumulated annual vacation days in excess of those provided for in the Act respecting labour standards (CQLR, c. N-1.1);
- a maximum of five (5) banked statutory holidays if the local parties have so agreed;
- floating days off, where applicable.

Part-time employees may, at their request, receive payment at the straight-time rate in lieu of taking leave for accumulated annual vacation leave to cover the waiting period.

If payment is received for one or more of these types of leave, this does not have the effect of interrupting or extending the waiting period.

b) Starting from the sixth (6th) working day and up to one hundred and four (104) weeks, payment of benefits equal to eighty per cent (80%) of ~~their pay~~the pay they would receive if they were at work.

~~For purposes of calculating benefits, the employee's pay is the rate of pay on the applicable pay scale that the employee would receive if at work, including additional remuneration provided in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D or Article 2 of Appendix O, if applicable; nevertheless an employee may only advance one echelon on the pay scale during a given period of disability, if the advancement was scheduled to occur during the six (6) months following the beginning of the disability.~~

For part-time employees, the amount of benefits is established in proportion to the time worked during the last fifty-two (52) calendar weeks preceding a period of disability period, prorated to the amount of benefits payable to a full-time employee. Weeks of authorized sick leave, vacation, maternity, paternity, adoption or protective leave or leave without pay provided for in the collective agreement are excluded from this calculation.

This calculation must, however, cover at least twelve (12) weeks. Otherwise, the employer takes into account weeks prior to the fifty-two (52)-week period until the calculation covers a twelve (12)-week period.

If the calculation cannot cover a minimum of twelve (12) weeks because the period between the employee's last date of hiring and the commencement of disability does not allow it, the calculation is then made on the basis of this period.

For any period of disability, the employee accumulates experience for the purpose of advancement on the pay scale.

c) Beginning in the eighth (8th) week of disability as defined in clause 23.03, an employee who receives disability insurance benefits may, on the recommendation of a physician designated by the employer or at the employee's request and on the recommendation of their attending physician, be entitled to one or more periods of rehabilitation in their position, in their assignment or, if their assignment has ended, in another assignment, for a maximum of three (3) consecutive months.

This rehabilitation is possible with the consent of the employer, providing that it can enable the employee to perform all of their usual duties. During any rehabilitation period, the employee continues to be covered by the disability insurance plan.

At the end of the three (3) months, the employer and the employee may, on the recommendation of the attending physician, agree to extend this period for a maximum of another three (3) consecutive months.

The employer may extend a rehabilitation period on the recommendation of its designated physician.

An employee may terminate their rehabilitation period before the end of the period agreed upon by presenting a medical certificate from their attending physician. The employer may terminate a rehabilitation period, on the recommendation of its designated physician.

During rehabilitation, an employee is entitled to both their pay for the proportion of time worked and the disability insurance benefits to which they are entitled for the proportion of time not worked. The time not worked for a part-time employee corresponds to the difference between the average number of days used to calculate their benefits and the number of days worked.

A rehabilitation period does not have the effect of interrupting the period of disability or extending the period during which full or reduced disability insurance benefits are paid beyond one hundred and four (104) weeks of benefits for that disability.

At the end of a rehabilitation period, the employee may return to their position if they are no longer disabled. If their disability persists, the employee continues to receive benefits for as long as they are eligible for them.

23.18 The employee continues to participate in the Government and Public Employees Pension plan (RREGOP) as long as the benefits provided for in paragraph b) of clause 23.17 are payable, including the waiting period, and for one (1) additional year if they are disabled at the end of the twenty-fourth (24th) month, unless they return to work, die or retire before the end of this period. They benefit from a waiver of their contributions to the RREGOP with no loss of rights as soon as the benefit provided under paragraph a) of clause 23.17 ceases to be paid or the period provided in the third (3rd) paragraph of clause 23.32 expires, as the case may be. The provisions on the waiver of contributions are an integral part of RREGOP provisions. Subject to the provisions of the collective agreement, payment of benefits must not be interpreted as conferring the status of employee on the person receiving them, nor as adding to their rights as such, particularly with respect to the accumulation of days of sick leave.

If the insurance contract provides for it, an employee continues to benefit from the insurance plans provided for in the collective agreement for a period of three (3) years following the start of their disability. Their contributions are waived after the expiry of the waiting period.

23.19 The disability insurance benefits are reduced by the initial amount of all disability benefits payable under any law, including the Quebec's Automobile Insurance Act, the Act respecting the Quebec Pension Plan, the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases and the various acts respecting pension plans, without regard for subsequent increases in basic benefits as a result of indexation. More specifically, the following provisions apply.

- a) If the disability entitles the employee to benefits payable under the Act respecting the Quebec Pension Plan or various acts respecting pension plans, the disability insurance benefits are reduced by the amount of these disability benefits.
- b) If the disability entitles the employee to benefits paid under the terms of Quebec's Automobile Insurance Act, the following provisions apply:
 - i) For the period covered by paragraph a) of clause 23.17, if the employee has banked sick days, the employer pays the employee the difference between their net pay¹ and the benefits payable by the Société d'assurance automobile du Québec (SAAQ). The bank of sick days is reduced in proportion to the amount paid in this way.
 - ii) For the period covered by paragraph b) of clause 23.17, the employee receives the difference between eighty-five per cent (85%) of their net pay¹ and the benefits payable by the SAAQ.
- c) If an employment injury entitles the employee to an income replacement indemnity paid under the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases, the following provisions apply:
 - i) The employee continues to receive ninety per cent (90%) of their net pay¹ from their employer until the date on which their injury is consolidated without, however, exceeding one hundred and four (104) weeks from the beginning of their period of disability.
 - ii) If their injury is consolidated before the one hundred and fourth (104th) week following the date on which their continuous absence as a result of an employment injury began, the disability insurance plan provided for in clause 23.17 applies if the employee is still disabled as defined in clause 23.03, as a result of the same injury, in which case the date on which such an absence begins is considered to be the date on which the disability began for the purposes of applying the disability insurance plan;
 - iii) the benefits paid by the Commission des normes, de l'équité, de la santé et de la sécurité du travail (CNESST) for that same period are paid to the employer, up to the amounts stipulated in i) and ii).

The employee must sign the required forms to authorize these reimbursements to be made to the employer.

The employee's bank of sick leave is not affected by such an absence and the employee is deemed to be receiving disability insurance benefits.

No disability insurance benefits can be paid for a disability compensated under the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases when the employment injury entitling the employee to such compensation occurred with another employer. In such a case, the employee is required to inform their employer of such an occurrence and the fact that they are receiving an income replacement indemnity. If, however, the CNESST ceases payment of an indemnity pursuant to the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases following an employment injury that occurred with another employer, the disability insurance plan provided for in clause 23.17 applies if the employee is still disabled as defined in clause 23.03, and in such a case the date when such an absence begins is considered to be the date on which the disability began for the purposes of applying the disability insurance plan.

In order to receive benefits under clause 23.17 or under this clause, the employee informs the employer of the amount of weekly benefits payable under any legislation.

23.20 Payment of benefits cease upon the employee's effective date of retirement. The amount of the benefits is split, if necessary, into one-fifth (1/5) of the amount provided for a complete week for each working day of disability during the normal work week.

23.21 No benefits are paid during a strike, except for a disability that began prior to it.

23.22 Sick leave benefits as well as disability insurance benefits are paid directly by the employer, subject to the employee presenting supporting documents that may be reasonably required.

An employee is entitled to reimbursement of any amount charged by a physician for a request for additional medical information required by the employer.

The employee is responsible for seeing that all supporting documents are duly completed.

23.23 Regardless of the duration of the absence or whether it is compensated, or whether an insurance contract is underwritten for the purpose of protecting against the risk, the employer, insurer or the government agency chosen by the employer party as the employer's representative for this purpose may verify the reason for the absence and control both the nature and the duration of the disability.

23.24 In order to permit this verification, the employee must notify their employer without delay whenever they are unable to report for work because of illness and promptly submit the supporting document required under clause 23.22; the employer or its representative may require a declaration by the employee or their attending physician except in cases where, because of circumstances, no physician has been consulted. The employer may also have the employee examined for any absence, in which case the employer notifies the union in writing at the same time as the employee, the cost of the examination is not borne by the employee and reasonable travelling expenses incurred are reimbursed in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement.

23.25 The verification may be done on a sampling basis as well as when needed when the employer considers it appropriate due to an accumulation of absences. If the employee makes a false declaration or if the reason for the absence is something other than the employee's illness, the employer may take appropriate disciplinary measures.

23.26 If the nature of their illness or injuries means that an employee cannot notify the employer without delay and promptly submit the required proof, they must do so as soon as possible.

23.27 Procedure for settling a dispute concerning a disability

An employee may use the following procedure to contest any dispute concerning the alleged non-existence or termination of a disability, a decision by the employer requiring them to engage in or extend a rehabilitation period, or the existence or non-existence of permanent functional limitations.

- 1- The employer must notify the employee and the union in writing of its decision not to recognize or no longer recognize a disability, to require the employee to engage in or to extend a period of rehabilitation or to recognize or not the existence of permanent functional limitations. The notice sent to the employee is accompanied by the report or reports and expert medical opinions directly related to the disability that the employer will send to the medical arbitrator and that will be used in the arbitration procedure provided by paragraph 3 or 4.

- 2- An employee who does not report for work on the day indicated in the notice mentioned in paragraph 1 is deemed to have contested the employer's decision by means of a grievance on that date. In the case of an unassigned part-time employee on the recall list, the grievance is deemed to have been filed on the day on which the union receives notice from the employer indicating that the employee has not reported for work on an assignment offered to them or no more than seven (7) days after receiving the notice mentioned in paragraph 1.
- 3- If a disability falls within the field of practice of a physiatrist, psychiatrist or orthopaedist, the medical arbitration procedure applies.
 - a) a) The local parties have ten (10) days from the date the grievance is filed to agree on the choice of a medical arbitrator. If there is no agreement on the relevant specialty in the first five (5) days, the specialty is determined in the following two (2) days by the general practitioner or their alternate¹ on the basis of the reports and expert opinions provided by the attending physician and the first (1st) physician designated by the employer. In this case, the local parties have the number of days remaining in the ten (10)-day period to agree on the choice of the medical arbitrator. If they fail to reach agreement on the choice of the medical arbitrator, the registrar designates one in rotation from the list set out in this sub-paragraph, according to the relevant specialty decided upon and the following two (2) geographic sectors:

- b) To be chosen, the medical arbitrator must be able to render a decision within the prescribed time limits.
- c) Within fifteen (15) days of the determination of the relevant specialty, the employee or the union representative and the employer send the medical arbitrator the files and expert opinions directly related to the disability produced by their respective physicians.
- d) The medical arbitrator meets with the employee and examines them if they deem it necessary. This meeting must be held within thirty (30) days of the determination of the relevant specialty.
- e) Travel expenses reasonably incurred by the employee are reimbursed by the employer in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement. If the employee's health does not allow them to travel, they are not required to do so.
- f) The medical arbitrator's mandate is solely to determine the following:
 - whether or not the disability exists;
 - the date on which the disability ends;
 - whether or not there are permanent functional limitations;
 - the employee's capacity to engage in a period of rehabilitation or an extension of this period.
- g) If the medical arbitrator concludes that the employee is or remains disabled, they may also determine the employee's ability to engage in a period of rehabilitation.

- h) The medical arbitrator renders a decision on the basis of the documents provided in accordance with the provisions of sub-paragraph c) and the meeting provided for in sub-paragraph d). The medical arbitrator must, subject to compliance with the rules of professional conduct, decide between the opinion of the attending physician and that of the physician designated by the employer. They must render a decision no later than forty-five (45) days after the date the grievance is filed. Their decision is final and binding.

- 4- If the disability does not fall within the field of practice of a physiatrist, psychiatrist or orthopaedist, the medical arbitration procedure provided in paragraph 3 applies, replacing sub-paragraph a) with the following:

The local parties have ten (10) days from the date on which the grievance is filed to agree on the choice of a medical arbitrator. If there is no agreement on the relevant specialty in the first five (5) days, the specialty is determined in the following two (2) days by the general practitioner or their alternate¹ on the basis of the reports and expert opinions provided by the attending physician and the first (1st) physician designated by the employer. In this case, the local parties have the number of days remaining in the ten (10)-day period to agree on the choice of the medical arbitrator. If they fail to reach agreement on the choice of the medical arbitrator, the employer notifies the general practitioner or the latter's alternate to have them appoint a physician in the field of practice identified within five (5) days.

If the employer disputes the termination of the employee's disability period, it notifies the employee and the union in writing to this effect. The employee has thirty (30) days after the employer's decision to file a grievance. The provisions of paragraphs 3 or 4 apply, as the case may be.

The employee receives the disability insurance benefits provided for in this article until the date of their return to work or until the medical arbitrator's decision.

The employer may not require the employee to return to work before the date stipulated on the medical certificate or until the medical arbitrator has ruled otherwise.

If the decision is that the disability does not exist or has ceased to exist, the employee reimburses the employer at the rate of ten per cent (10%) of the amount paid by pay period, until the debt is paid off.

An employee may not contest their ability to return to work under the terms of this collective agreement in cases where a competent body or tribunal established by law, in particular the Automobile Insurance Act, the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases or the Crime Victims Compensation Act (CQLR c I-6), has already rendered a decision concerning their ability to return to work with regard to the same disability or diagnosis.

23.28 The sick days credited to an employee on April 1, 1980 and not used in accordance with the provisions of the preceding collective agreement remain credited to them and may be used at the regular rate of pay in effect when used in the following manner:

- a) to cover the waiting period of five (5) working days when the employee has exhausted their 9.6 sick days under clause 23.29 in the course of the year;

- b) for early retirement purposes;
- c) in order to redeem years of service for which contributions have not been paid to the RREGOP (Section III of Chapter II of the Act);

In this case all of the bank of sick days can be used, as follows:

- first, the first sixty (60) days at their full value;

and

- then, the excess of sixty (60) days, without limit, at half their value.

- d) to cover the difference between the employee's net pay and the disability insurance benefits provided for in paragraph b) of clause 23.17. During this period, the banked sick days are reduced in proportion to the amount thus paid;

The same rule applies when the one hundred and four (104) weeks of disability insurance benefits expire. For the purpose of applying this clause, net pay means gross pay minus federal and provincial taxes and QPP, employment insurance and pension plan contributions;

- e) when an employee leaves the job, up to sixty (60) working days of accumulated sick days are paid to them in full. Anything over sixty (60) working days of accumulated sick leave is paid to the employee at the rate of one half (1/2) a working day per accumulated working day up to thirty (30) working days. In no case may the maximum number of days cashed in when an employee leaves the job exceed ninety (90) working days.

23.29 At the end of each month of remunerated service, an employee is credited with 0.80 of a working day of sick leave. If the credit under the terms of the previous collective agreement was other than one (1) day per month, the credit is calculated at the rate provided in that collective agreement minus 0.20 days per month. For the purpose of applying this clause, any authorized absence of more than thirty (30) days interrupts the accumulation of sick leave; this accumulation is not, however, interrupted if an employee is absent for more than thirty (30) consecutive days under clause 21.01.

Any continuous period of disability of more than twelve (12) months interrupts the accumulation of annual vacation leave, regardless of the reference period provided in clause 21.03.

An employee may use ~~five three (53)~~ three (3) of the sick days provided in the first (1st) paragraph as personal days. An employee takes these days separately and notifies the employer at least ~~forty-eight twenty-four (4824)~~ twenty-four (24) hours in advance, providing that the employer can ensure the continuity of activities in the service. ~~The employer may not refuse without a valid reason.~~ The parties may agree in local arrangements to allow an employee to split these three (3) days of sick leave for personal reasons into half (1/2) days. If so, the parties agree on the applicable terms and conditions.

Sick days to be accumulated by November 30 of the current year may be used in advance. They may not, however, be used in advance between December 15 and January 15 unless there is an agreement to this effect with the employer. If the employee leaves the job before the end of the year, they must reimburse the employer out of their last pay cheque at the rate prevailing at the time of their departure for days of leave taken in advance and not yet earned.

23.30 An employee who has not used all of the sick days to which they are entitled in accordance with clause 23.29 are paid on December 15 of each year for days accumulated and not used as of November 30 of each year.

23.31 Disability periods already under way on the date this collective agreement comes into force are not interrupted.

23.32 Instead of accumulating sick days as provided in clause 23.29, a part-time employee receives with each pay 4.21% of:

- their pay;
- the pay they would have received if it were not for unpaid sick leave that occurs while they are assigned to their position or an assignment;
- the pay used as the basis for establishing maternity, paternity, adoption or protective leave. The amount calculated during protective leave is not, however, paid with each pay period; instead it is accumulated and paid at the same time as vacation pay.

However, a new part-time employee who has not completed three (3) months of continuous service and who chooses under clause 23.01 not to be covered by the insurance plans receives 6.21% of the remuneration stipulated in the first (1st) paragraph.

A part-time employee covered by sub-paragraphs a) or b) of clause 23.01 is entitled to the other provisions of the disability insurance plan, except that benefits for each period of disability are only payable after seven (7) calendar days of absence from work due to a disability, starting from the first (1st) day on which the employee was required to report for work.

The preceding paragraph does not apply to a part-time employee who has decided under clause 23.01 not to be covered by the insurance plans.

SECTION V TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR THE RETURN TO WORK OF AN EMPLOYEE WHO HAS SUFFERED AN EMPLOYMENT INJURY AS DEFINED BY THE ACT RESPECTING INDUSTRIAL ACCIDENTS AND OCCUPATIONAL DISEASES

23.33 Unless the local parties agree otherwise, for as long as an employee is eligible for an income replacement indemnity, the employer may assign them temporarily either to their original position or to a position temporarily without its incumbent, with priority over employees on the recall list and subject to the provisions of clause 15.01, even if the injury is not consolidated. The assignment is made to a position that, in the opinion of the attending physician, does not endanger the employee's health, safety or physical well-being given their injury, is conducive to the employee's rehabilitation and the duties of which they are reasonably able to accomplish. The employer terminates the assignment upon receiving a medical certificate to this effect from the attending physician. Before the start of the assignment, the employer gives the employee a copy of the form describing the conditions of the temporary assignment. As well, it informs the union at the start of the assignment that an employee is temporarily assigned.

23.34 An employee who despite the consolidation of their injury remains unable to meet the normal requirements of their job is reassigned in accordance with one of the following procedures:

- The employee is registered on a special team and deemed to have applied for any vacant or newly created position with the same job status if, in the opinion of their attending physician, their residual capacities allow them to perform the duties associated with the position without endangering their health, safety or physical well-being, given their injury.

Despite the provisions on voluntary transfers, the position is awarded to the employee with the most seniority on the special team, subject to clause 15.05, providing that they are able to meet the normal requirements of the job.

An employee who refuses a position thus offered without a valid reason ceases to be registered on the special team.

- The local parties may also agree to adapt either the employee's original position or a vacant or newly created position so as to allow them to perform only those duties that in the opinion of their attending physician do not endanger their health, safety or physical well-being, given their injury.

In no case is an employee who obtains a position in accordance with the provisions of this clause paid less than what they would have received before the beginning of their continuous absence due to their injury.

SECTION VI RESERVED POSITION

23.35 If an employee becomes unable to perform some or all of the duties involved in their position for medical reasons, the employer and the union may, on the recommendation of the health office or physician appointed by it or a recommendation from the employee's physician, agree to reassign the employee to another position for which they are able to meet the normal requirements. In such a case, the employee does not incur a reduction in pay and the position thus awarded is not subject to the provisions on voluntary transfers.

ARTICLE 24

PENSION PLAN

24.01 Employees are covered by the provisions of the Teacher's Pension Plan (RRE), the Public Sector Superannuation Plan (RRF) or the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan (RREGOP), as the case may be.

Phased retirement plan

24.02 The purpose of the phased retirement plan is to allow a full-time employee or a part-time employee who holds a position and works more than forty per cent (40%) of full-time to reduce the amount of time they work during the last years before retirement.

24.03 Obtaining phased retirement is subject to prior agreement with the employer, taking into account the needs of the service.

A full-time or part-time employee may only take advantage of the program once, even if it is cancelled before the expiry date of the agreement.

24.04 The phased retirement program is subject to the following terms and conditions.

1) Period covered by these provisions and retirement

- a) These provisions may apply to an employee for a minimum period of twelve (12) months and a maximum period of sixty (60) months.
- b) This period, including the percentage and distribution of work done is called "the agreement" in this article.
- c) At the end of the agreement, the employee retires;
- d) However, if the employee is not eligible for retirement at the end of the agreement because of circumstances beyond their control (e.g. strike, lockout, correction of previous service), the agreement is extended until the date on which the employee becomes eligible for retirement.

2) Duration of the agreement and amount of work

- a) The agreement is for a minimum of twelve (12) months and a maximum of sixty (60) months.
- b) Phased retirement must be requested in writing at least ninety (90) days before the start of the agreement; the request must also stipulate the length of the agreement.
- c) The percentage of time worked must be at least forty per cent (40%) and no more than eighty per cent (80%) of the time worked by a full-time employee, on an annual basis.
- d) The amount and arrangement of time worked must be agreed upon by the employee and employer and may vary over the duration of the agreement. Moreover, during the agreement the employer and the employee may agree to modify the arrangement and percentage of time worked.

- e) The agreement between the employee and the employer is recorded in writing and a copy given to the union.

3) Rights and benefits

- a) For the duration of the agreement, the employee is remunerated in proportion to the amount of time worked.
- b) An employee continues to accumulate seniority as if they were not participating in the program.

For a part-time employee, the reference period for calculating seniority is the weekly average number of days of seniority accumulated during their last fifty-two (52) weeks of service or since they began working, whichever date is the closest to the start of the agreement.

- c) For the purposes of determining pension eligibility and calculating the amount of pension benefits, an employee is credited with the full-time or part-time service that they performed before the start of the agreement.
- d) For the duration of the agreement, the employee and the employer pay contributions to the pension plan on the basis of the evolving pensionable earnings and the amount of work (full-time or part-time) that the employee performed before the start of the agreement.
- e) Should the employee become disabled during the course of the agreement, they benefit from a waiver on contributions to the pension plan on the basis of the evolving pensionable earnings and the amount of work (full-time or part-time) performed before the start of the agreement.

During a period of disability, the employee receives disability insurance benefits calculated according to the arrangement and annual percentage of work agreed upon, without extending beyond the date on which the agreement ends.

- f) In accordance with clause 23.28, days of sick leave credited to an employee may be used in the framework of the agreement to exempt the employee from some or all of the work to be done under the agreement for a number of days equal to the number of sick days credited to the employee.
- g) For the duration of the agreement, the employee benefits from the basic life insurance plan that they had before the start of the agreement.
- h) The employer continues to pay its premium for the basic health insurance plan corresponding to what it paid before the start of the agreement, providing that the employee pays their share.

4) Voluntary transfer

When an employee benefiting from the phased retirement program is voluntarily transferred, the employee and the employer meet to agree on whether or not to continue the agreement and on any modifications to be made to it. Should they fail to agree, the agreement is terminated.

5) Bumping or layoff

For the purpose of applying the bumping procedure, when an employee's position is abolished or the employee is bumped, the employee is deemed to be performing the amount of work (full-time or part-time) normally provided for the position. They continue to benefit from the phased retirement program.

In the case of an employee who has job security and is laid off, the layoff does not have any effect on the agreement; it continues to apply during the layoff.

6) Termination of the agreement

The agreement is terminated in the following cases:

- retirement;
- death;
- resignation;
- dismissal;
- withdrawal with the employer's consent;
- disability for more than three (3) years if the employee was eligible for disability insurance during the first two (2) years of the disability.

In these cases as well as in those provided in paragraph 24.04 4), the service credited under the agreement is preserved; unpaid contributions, if any, with accrued interest, remain in their file.

24.05 Unless otherwise provided in the preceding clauses, an employee benefiting from the phased retirement program is governed by the rules of the collective agreement applying to part-time employees.

ARTICLE 25

BENEFITS

25.01 The employer gives employees:

- 1- five (5) calendar days of leave for the death of their spouse, dependent child or ~~minor-child who is not a dependant~~;
- 2- three (3) calendar days of leave for the death of the following family members: father, mother, brother, sister, ~~children (with the exception of those covered by the preceding paragraph)~~, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law;
- 3- two (2) calendar days of leave for the death of their spouse's child, with the exception of those covered by paragraph 25.01-1;
- ~~4- one (1) calendar day of leave for the death of their spouse's child, with the exception of those covered by paragraph 25.01-1, sister-in-law, brother-in-law, grand-parents or grand-children.~~

In the event of a death covered by the preceding paragraphs, the employee is entitled to one (1) additional day for travel if the funeral (religious or secular ceremony) takes place two hundred and forty (240) kilometres or more from their home.

~~25.02 The leave under paragraph 25.01-1 is calculated from the date of the death.~~

~~Leave under paragraph 25.01-2 is taken continuously between the date of the death and the date of the funeral.~~

~~Leave under paragraph 25.01-3 is taken the day of the funeral.~~

The leave under any of the paragraphs of clause 25.01 may be taken, at the employee's discretion, between the date of the death and the date of the funeral (religious or secular ceremony) inclusively. Leave of more than one (1) calendar day must be taken continuously.

The leave under any of the paragraphs of clause 25.01 may be taken starting the day after the death when the death is anticipated pursuant to the Act respecting end-of-life care (CQLR, c S-32.0001). The employee must inform the employer of the absence as soon as possible.

Despite the preceding, an employee may use one of the days of leave under paragraph 25.01-1 to 25.01-2 or 25.01-3 to attend the burial or cremation when one of these events takes place outside the period of time provided.

25.03 For the calendar days of leave mentioned in clause 25.01, an employee receives remuneration equal to what they would have received had they been at work, unless those days coincide with any other leave provided in this collective agreement.

25.04 In all cases, the employee notifies their immediate supervisor or the personnel manager, and at the latter's request submits proof of or attestation to these facts.

25.05 An employee who is summoned for jury duty or as a witness in a court case in which they are not one of the interested parties receives the difference between their regular pay and the allowance paid by the court for the period of juror or witness duty.

In the case of civil proceedings against an employee in the framework of the normal performance of their duties, the employee does not suffer any loss of regular pay for the time they are required to be in court.

25.06 Upon request at least four (4) weeks in advance, an employee is entitled to one (1) week of paid leave for their marriage.

An employee who holds a part-time position is entitled to the week of paid leave in proportion to the number of days provided for the position that they hold. If the employee has an assignment on the date they go on leave, the leave is paid in proportion to the number of days scheduled for the assignment on that date plus, if applicable, the number of days of the position that they hold if they have not temporarily left their position. Other part-time employees are entitled to this paid leave in proportion to the number of days scheduled for the assignment held on the date they go on leave.

25.07 An employee is entitled to two (2) fifteen (15)-minute rest periods per day of work.

25.08 An employee may, after having notified their employer as quickly as possible, take up to ten (10) days of time off work without pay per year to meet obligations related to the care, health or education of their child or their spouse's child, or because of the health of their spouse, father, mother, brother, sister or grandparent.

Days used for this purpose are deducted from the employee's annual bank of sick leave or taken as leave without pay, at the employee's discretion.

This leave may also be split into half days if the employer agrees.

25.09 An employee may take time off work under Sections 79.8 to 79.15 of the Act respecting labour standards (CQLR c N-1.1) by informing the employer of the reasons for their absence as soon as possible and providing proof justifying the absence.

During this leave without pay, an employee accumulates seniority and experience. They continue to participate in the basic health insurance plan, paying their share of premiums. They may also continue to participate in applicable optional insurance plans by requesting it at the start of the leave and paying the full cost of the premiums.

At the end of this leave without pay, the employee may return to their position or a position they have obtained at their request in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement, as the case may be. If their position has been abolished or they have been bumped, the employee is entitled to the benefits they would have had if they had then been at work.

Similarly, upon returning from leave without pay, an employee who does not hold a position returns to the assignment that they had when they went on leave if the assignment is still in progress after the end of the leave.

Should the assignment be terminated, the employee is entitled to any other assignment, in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement.

ARTICLE 26

MEALS

26.01 When meals are served to users at an employee's workplace or when an employee can reach the institution to have their meals within the period of time provided for this purpose, the employer provides them with a suitable meal when the meal(s) are part of their work schedule.

An employee who receives a meal allowance instead of the meal provided in this clause because of their work location continues to receive it unless the employer is able to replace it otherwise.

Meals are priced by item, but the price of a full meal must not exceed:¹

breakfast:	$2.104,99
lunch:	$4.764,52
supper:	$4.764,52

On April 1 of each year, the cost of meals is increased by the percentage increase in rates of pay and pay scales set out in clause 8.33~~4~~ of the collective agreement.

An employee may bring their own meal and eat it in an appropriate place designated for this purpose by the employer.

It is agreed that there will not be any acquired privileges for employees who used to pay less than the rates stipulated above.

In institutions where higher prices were in effect before this collective agreement comes in force, the higher prices will continue to apply for the duration of this collective agreement for all the employees of these institutions.

26.02 The employer also provides a meal to an employee working on the night shift.

TRAVEL ALLOWANCES

27.01 When an employee must perform their duties outside the institution at the employer's request, they are entitled to reimbursement of travel expenses in accordance with following terms.

Automobile expenses

When employees use their own automobile, they receive:

- i) for the first 8,000 km in one year: $~~0.520430~~ per km;
- ii) for every kilometre above 8,000 km in the same year: $~~0.465375~~ per km.

An amount of $~~0.130408~~ is added to the stipulated allowances for kilometres driven on gravel roads.

If an employee does not use their own vehicle, the employer reimburses expenses incurred by the employee in accordance with conditions established locally.

Tolls and parking expenses incurred by an employee during work-related travel are reimbursed.

Employees are reimbursed for home-base parking expenses when the use of their vehicle is required for the performance of their duties, position or assignment.

27.02 In addition to the compensation provided by the general plan, an employee who is required by their employer to use an automobile and who uses their own automobile regularly for this purpose during the year and drives less than 8,000 km is entitled to receive compensation equal to $0.08 per km between the kilometres actually covered and 8,000 km, payable at the end of the year.

27.03 Meals

During travel, an employee is entitled to the following meal expenses, in accordance with conditions agreed upon locally:

breakfast:	$10.40
lunch:	$14.30
supper:	$21.55

Accommodations

27.04 If an employee must stay in a hotel in the performance of their duties, they are entitled to reimbursement of actual and reasonable expenses incurred, plus a daily allowance of $5.85.

27.05 When an employee stays with a relative or a friend in the performance of their duties, they are entitled to a reimbursement of $22.25.

27.06 An employee who is required by the employer to use an automobile and who uses their own automobile for this purpose may be reimbursed the amount of the annual premium upon presenting proof of payment of a business insurance premium for the use of their personal automobile for work for the employer.

The business insurance policy must include all the necessary riders, including those permitting transportation of passengers for business purposes, and must not be cancelled before its expiry date unless the employer is notified in advance.

27.07 If, during the life of this collective agreement, government regulations authorize rates higher than those provided in clauses 27.01 to 27.06 for employees covered by this collective agreement, the employer undertakes to adjust the rates provided in clauses 27.01 to 27.06 within thirty (30) days.

ARTICLE 28

VESTED BENEFITS OR PRIVILEGES

28.01 Any benefits or privileges related to a matter defined as being subject to stipulations to be negotiated and agreed upon at the national level under the terms of the Act respecting the process of negotiation of the collective agreements in the public and parapublic sectors (CQLR c R-8.2) acquired by an employee before December 15, 2005 and that are superior to the stipulations of this collective agreement are maintained for the sole benefit of that employee.

Despite any provision in this collective agreement, no departure from the List of job titles, job descriptions and salary rates and scales in the health and social services network can constitute an acquired benefit or privilege or be invoked as such by an employee.

28.02 Provisions from previous collective agreements that are superior to the provisions of this collective agreement cannot be invoked as vested benefits or privileges.

ARTICLE 29

CONTRACTING OUT (CONTRACT FOR SERVICES)

29.01 Any contract between the employer and a third party as well as any public-private partnership contract whose effect is to take away directly or indirectly some or all of the work done by employees covered by the bargaining unit obligates the employer toward the union and the employees as follows.

- 1- The union must first be given the opportunity to examine the economic and other bases of the institution's project, and the employer meets with the union within a period of no more than sixty (60) days to give the latter the opportunity to propose an alternative, suggestion or modification that can ensure the achievement of the goals pursued by the institution while complying with the project's parameters. The employer and the union may agree in writing to extend this period.

The institution provides the union with the relevant information to enable it to do a full analysis of the project.

The sixty (60)-day period provided above begins on the date the union receives the information mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

The provisions of this paragraph also apply to the renewal of a contract.

- 2- The employer notifies the third party of the existence of the bargaining unit, the collective agreement and its contents.
- 3- The employer does not proceed with any layoffs or dismissals arising directly or indirectly from such a contract.
- 4- Any change in the working conditions of an employee affected as a result of such a contract must be made in accordance with the provisions of this collective agreement.
- 5- The employer sends the union a copy of any such contract within thirty (30) days of when it is signed.

29.02 The employer agrees that the termination of a contract for services (contracting out) may not be motivated or mainly caused by a sub-contractor's employees exercising any of their rights whatsoever under the Labour Code (CQLR c C-27).

29.03 In the case of work performed by employees in housekeeping, food (kitchen and cafeteria) or nursing services, contracts for services to be awarded or renewed by the employer must stipulate that rates of pay and benefits for the employees of a subcontractor working on the employer's premises must be generally comparable to market rates in the hospital sector for the same job titles.

The rates of pay and benefits of employees of a subcontractor whose rates of pay and benefits are determined by collective agreement are presumed to be generally comparable.

Moreover, the employer will not award, renew or terminate any contract for services (contracting out) in housekeeping, food (kitchen and cafeteria) or nursing services without notifying the union at least thirty (30) days in advance.

Calls for tenders

29.04 The employer informs the union of any call for tenders made by the institution that would have the effect of directly or indirectly taking away some or all of the work done by employees in the bargaining union at least thirty (30) days before the notice of the call for tenders is published.

ARTICLE 30

HEALTH AND SAFETY

30.01 The employer takes the necessary steps to eliminate any hazard to employees' health, safety or physical well-being at the source, with the union's co-operation.

The employer commits to maintaining health and safety conditions that comply with existing laws and regulations.

Joint committee

30.02 A joint local health and safety committee is established to examine problems specific to the institution and make recommendations to the employer on any matter related to occupational health and safety.

Terms and conditions for representation on the committee and operating procedures are established in local arrangements.

The committee's role is to:

1. agree on methods for workplace inspection;
2. identify situations that can be sources of hazards for employees;
3. gather useful information concerning accidents that occur;
4. recommend any measure deemed useful for remedying problems that it identifies;
5. receive and examine reports of inspections done in the institution;
6. recommend personal protective devices and equipment that both comply with regulations and are adapted to the needs of the institution's employees;
7. receive and examine statistical reports on work-related accidents and occupational diseases;
8. recommend priorities for action on occupational health and safety to the employer for the purposes of the action plan;
9. inform employees on any topic that the committee deems relevant.

The parties may agree in local arrangements to give the committee any other role.

30.03 The employer gives the union a copy of the form required by the Commission des normes, de l'équité, de la santé et de la sécurité du travail (CNESST) when it reports an industrial accident or occupational disease resulting in time off work.

30.04 Employees delegated by the Fédération de la santé et des services sociaux – CSN (FSSS-CSN) are given leave with no loss of pay to attend meetings of the Association paritaire pour la santé et la sécurité du travail du secteur des affaires sociales (committees, general meetings, board of directors).

An employee is given leave with no loss of pay for the hearing on their case by the appeal bodies provided for in the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases (CQLR c A-3.001) (including the BEM – the office of medical examiners), for an employment injury within the meaning of this Act that occurs with their employer.

30.05 Any examination, immunization or treatment of an employee required by the employer takes place during working hours at no cost to the employee.

Any such examination, immunization or treatment required by the employer must be related to the work to be performed or necessary to protect employees.

An employee who is a healthy germ-carrier and who is relieved of their work on the recommendation of the staff health office or the physician designated by the employer may be reassigned to a position for which they meet the normal requirements of the job (taking into account the sectors of work established in clause 15.05).

If such a reassignment is impossible due to a lack of available positions in the same sector of work, the employee does not incur any loss of pay or any deduction from their bank of sick leave. The employer may, however, submit the case to the CNESST, without prejudice to the employee.

30.06 Any employee exposed to radiation through their work undergoes a blood analysis (complete cytology) every three (3) months, during their working hours and at no cost to them. In cases where the norms of the International Commission on Radiological Protection have been exceeded, the employee also undergoes a chromosomal test.

When an anomaly is detected, the results of the analysis are transmitted to the head of the staff health service and the chief radiologist, as well as to the employee concerned. Depersonalized annual statistics are sent to the union.

Any blood (or chromosomal) anomaly detected in an employee is investigated without delay by a haematologist or a physician competent in the field in order to discover the cause.

30.07 The quantity of radiation received must be counted rigorously. The result of the radiation counts is posted every month in the radiology service.

In order to obtain as accurate a record as possible of the quantity of radiation received, each employee agrees to wear a dosimeter.

30.08 In order to ensure the safety of users and employees, the employer undertakes to comply with the standards of Health Canada, Radiation Protection Division.

If an employee's personal dosimeter reveals that excessive doses have been received due to defective or improperly functioning radiology equipment, the institution implements corrective measures without delay and upon request supplies the union with information to this effect.

30.09 If the personal dosimeter reveals that an employee has received excessive doses, the employer must give the employee time off work. This leave in no way affects the employee's annual vacation or sick leave. During this time off work, the employee receives remuneration equal to what they would receive if they were at work.

30.10 The employer gives an employee who requests it a copy of the federal radiation exposure report for their personal dosimeter.

30.11 A pregnant employee exposed to radiation may leave their work at any time during their pregnancy.

30.12 When an employee deems that a user may constitute an immediate or potential hazard to people around them, they report the situation to their immediate supervisor. In light of the facts stated in the employee's report, authorities immediately take whatever steps are necessary.

ARTICLE 31

PROCEDURE FOR MODIFYING THE LIST OF JOB TITLES, JOB DESCRIPTIONS AND SALARY RATES AND SCALES

General provisions

31.01 Any change to the List of job titles, job descriptions and salary rates and scales is made in accordance with the following procedure.

31.02 Only the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux (MSSS) is authorized to abolish or modify a job title on the list or to create a new one.

31.03 A union or a union group or an employer may also ask for a change to the List of job titles and job descriptions. To do so, they must send a written request to the MSSS, with reasons, using the form provided for this.

Unless the request is made jointly, a copy is sent to the other party.

The MSSS informs union groups of any request for changes that it receives.

31.04 A job title may only be created if the MSSS determines that:

- the main duties of a job are not found in any of the job descriptions of job titles on the List of job titles;
- significant modifications are made to the main duties of a job title already on the List of job titles.

In all cases, the main duties of a job title must be permanent duties.

31.05 The MSSS informs the applicant and the union groups of its decision to go ahead or not with any request for a change to the List of job titles and job descriptions.

For the purposes of this procedure, the union groups are the following nine (9) union organizations: APTS, FP-CSN, FSSS-CSN, FSQ-CSQ, F4S-CSQ, FIQ, CSD, CUPE-FTQ and SQEES-298-FTQ.

Each union group is responsible for providing the MSSS with contact information for the person designated to receive information from the MSSS.

Consultations on proposed changes

31.06 If the MSSS wishes to make changes to the List of job titles and job descriptions during the life of this collective agreement, it informs each of the union groups in writing. The notice given by the MSSS must include a detailed description of the proposed change.

If the MSSS decides not to go ahead with a proposed change to the List of job titles and job descriptions following a request made under clause 31.03, it informs the union groups and local parties concerned.

31.07 Union groups have ninety (90) days from receiving proposed changes to the List of job titles and job descriptions to submit their opinion to the MSSS in writing.

31.08 Upon written request from a union group, the MSSS calls a meeting of union groups and representatives of the MSSS for the purpose of exchanging information about a proposed change. The meeting must take place within thirty (30) days of receiving the opinion. The MSSS may also call such a meeting on its own initiative.

31.09 At the end of the period set out in clause 31.07, the MSSS informs the union groups of its decision.

National Jobs Committee

31.10 A National Jobs Committee is created within ninety (90) days of the date this collective agreement comes into force.

31.11 The committee is composed of six (6) representatives of the employer party, and for the union party two (2) representatives each for CSN and FIQ unions and a maximum of two (2) representatives for each of the following unions: CSQ, APTS and FTQ.

Each party appoints a secretary, and all communications from one party to the other go through these secretaries.

31.12 The committee meets at the request of either party made by written notice through its secretary. The meeting must take place within ten (10) days of receiving the notice.

31.13 The committee's mandate is to determine the proper ranking for any new job title referred to the committee by the MSSS, or for any existing job title for which the MSSS changes the academic requirements.

To do so, the committee uses the existing job evaluation system and determines the valuation scores for each sub-factor.

31.14 The committee must decide that all relevant information is available before initiating discussions concerning the new job title and the value of its related duties.

If applicable, the committee may, for the purpose of evaluating duties, use significant benchmark or reference jobs or reference characteristics agreed upon by the parties, as well as the value determination system guidelines. The committee members must take into account previous applications of the value determination system for other job classes under the terms of the Pay Equity Act (CQLR c E-12.001).

31.15 If the parties agree on the valuation of every sub-factor, the pay rate or scale for the new job title is the reference rate or scale of the corresponding ranking, as determined by the Conseil du trésor or, if it is completed, by the pay equity program that covers the evaluated job title.

31.16 Any agreement at the National Jobs Committee level is final and binding.

31.17 If the parties do not agree on the scores for the value determination system sub-factors within ninety (90) days of the finding provided for in clause 31.14, the determination of the scores for the sub-factors at issue is submitted to arbitration along with a summary of the representations made by each party.

Arbitration procedure

31.18 The parties try to agree on the appointment of an arbitrator who specialises in job valuation. Failing agreement within thirty (30) days, one of the parties asks the Minister responsible for Labour to appoint a specialized arbitrator.

31.19 Each party appoints its own assessor and pays their fees and expenses.

31.20 The arbitrator's authority is limited to the application of the value determination system to the sub-factors at issue and the evidence submitted. The arbitrator does not have the authority to modify the job value determination system, its guidelines, the reference rates and scales or other tools used to value duties.

For the purpose of comparing valuation scores, the arbitrator must take into consideration how they have been applied to other job classes.

31.21 The ranking for the job evaluated corresponds to the scores of the sub-factors on which there is consensus within the National Jobs Committee plus those determined by the arbitrator.

31.22 The pay rate or scale applicable for the new job title is the reference rate or scale of the corresponding ranking, as determined by the Conseil du trésor or, if it is completed, by the pay equity program that covers the evaluated job title.

31.23 If it is established in arbitration that one or more duties do not appear in the job description even though employees were and still are required to perform them, the arbitrator may decide to include these duties in the job description in order to exercise their authority under clause 31.20.

31.24 The arbitrator's decision is final and binding upon the parties. The arbitrator's fees and expenses are borne equally by the parties.

Change in pay following reclassification

31.25 If applicable, the pay adjustment for a person who is reclassified under the terms of this article is determined by the provisions of this collective agreement and is retroactive to the date the employee started performing the duties of the new job title or, at the earliest, the effective date provided in clause 31.06.

31.26 Payment is made within ninety (90) days of agreement between the parties or the arbitration award.

Modifications to the List of job titles

31.27 When changes are made to the List of job titles under the terms of this article, the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux (MSSS) notifies the national parties. These modifications are effective on the date of the notice.

ARTICLE 32

LIABILITY INSURANCE

32.01 Except in cases of gross negligence, the employer undertakes to protect employees who might incur civil liability because of performing their duties with a civil liability insurance policy.

If it does not take out a liability insurance policy, the employer then assumes responsibility for defending the employee, except in cases of gross negligence, and agrees not to file any claim against the latter in this respect.

32.02 Upon request, the employer provides the union with a copy of the section of the liability insurance policy concerning the civil liability of employees as attendants in the institution.

32.03 When an employee who works with beneficiaries is the subject of criminal proceedings related to the performance of their duties, the employee, if acquitted, is reimbursed for legal fees reasonably incurred in their defence.

ARTICLE 33

PERMANENT NEGOTIATING MECHANISM

33.01 In order to settle any problems related to working conditions, including problems in implementing and interpreting the collective agreement, the negotiating parties agree to strike a permanent national negotiating committee.

33.02 The committee is composed of three (3) representatives of the Comité patronal de négociation du secteur de la santé et des services sociaux (CPNSSS), including one (1) representative from the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux (MSSS), on the one hand, and of three (3) representatives from the Fédération de la santé et des services sociaux – CSN (FSSS-CSN), on the other.

33.03 Either party sends the other a brief written summary of the problem or problems it wishes to submit to the committee for negotiation, as well as the names of its representatives.

The parties must meet within twenty (20) days of receiving this request.

33.04 Employees representing the FSSS-CSN are given leave with no loss of pay for the purpose of attending bargaining sessions between the parties.

33.05 The parties have a maximum of ninety (90) days in which to find a solution or solutions to the problems raised.

33.06 Any agreement between the parties that modifies the collective agreement is filed with the Tribunal administratif du travail.

33.07 If there is no agreement between the parties, they may agree on any mechanism which would enable them eventually to settle the problem or problems. When such a disagreement occurs on a modification to be made to the collective agreement and there is also disagreement on the mechanism to be used to reach a settlement, the parties refer the matter to the next round of collective bargaining.

ARTICLE 34

LEAVE WITH DEFERRED PAY PLAN

34.01 Definition

The purpose of the leave with deferred pay plan is to enable an employee to spread their pay over a defined period of time in order to take leave. The purpose is not to provide benefits at the time of retirement or to defer income taxes.

This plan includes a period during which an employee contributes on the one hand, and a period of leave on the other.

34.02 Duration of the plan

The duration of a leave with deferred pay plan may be two (2), three (3), four (4) or five (5) years, unless it is extended as a result of the application of paragraphs f, g, j, k, or l of clause 34.06. The duration of a plan, including the extensions, may in no case exceed seven (7) years, however.

34.03 Length of the leave

The length of the leave may be from six (6) to twelve (12) consecutive months, as provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06, and may not be interrupted for any reason whatsoever.

An employee may also use a plan involving three (3), four (4) or five (5) months of leave when such a plan is intended to enable the employee to pursue full-time studies at an educational institution recognized under the Income Tax Act (RSC, 1985, c. 1 (5th supp.)). Such leave can only be taken in the last three (3), four (4) or five (5) months of the plan.

The leave must begin no later than the end of a maximum of six (6) years after the date on which the plan begins. Otherwise, the relevant provisions of paragraph n) in clause 34.06 apply.

Except for what is provided in this article, during leave an employee is not entitled to the benefits of the collective agreement in force in the institution, just as if they were not employed by the institution, subject to their right to claim benefits acquired previously and the provisions of Articles 10 and 11.

During this leave, an employee may not receive any remuneration from the employer or from another person or corporation with which the employer is not at arm's length, other than the amount corresponding to the percentage of their pay as provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06 plus, if applicable, the amounts that the employer is required to pay under clause 34.06 for benefits.

34.04 Conditions of eligibility

An employee is entitled to a leave with deferred pay plan after a request to the employer, who cannot refuse without a valid reason. The employee must meet the following conditions:

- a) hold a position;
- b) have completed two (2) years of service;
- c) submit a written request specifying:

- the length of participation in the leave with deferred pay plan;
- the length of the leave;
- when the leave will be taken.

These terms must be agreed upon and recorded in the form of a written contract with the employer, which also include the provisions of this plan;

d) not be on disability leave or leave without pay at the time the contract comes into force.

34.05 Return to work

When the leave expires, the employee may resume their position with their employer. If, however, the position the employee held at the time they went on leave is no longer available, the employee must use the provisions on the bumping and/or layoff procedure under Article 14.

At the end of their leave, the employee remains in the service of the employer for a length of time at least equal to the length of their leave.

34.06 Terms and conditions of application

a) Pay

During each of the years covered by the plan, the employee receives a percentage of the pay on the applicable pay scale that they would receive if they were not participating in the plan including, if applicable, responsibility premiums and the additional remuneration provided in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O. The applicable percentage is determined by the following chart:

Length of the leave	Duration of the plan
	2 YEARS %	3 YEARS %	4 YEARS %	5 YEARS %
3 months	87.50	91.67	N/A	N/A
4 months	83.33	88.89	91.67	N/A

12 months	N/A	N/A	75.00	80.00

Other premiums are paid to the employee in accordance with the clauses of the collective agreement providing they are normally entitled to them, just as if they were not participating in the plan. During the period of leave, however, the employee is not entitled to these premiums.

b) Pension plan

For the purpose of applying pension plans, each year of participation in the leave with deferred pay plan, excluding the suspensions provided for in this article, is deemed to equal one (1) year of service, and the average pay is established on the basis of the pay that the employee would receive if they were not participating in the leave with deferred pay plan.

For the duration of the plan, the employee's contributions to the pension plan are calculated on the basis of the percentage of the pay they receive in accordance with 34.06 a).

c) Seniority

During the period of leave, the employee retains and accumulates seniority.

d) Annual vacation leave

During the period of leave, the employee is deemed to be accumulating service for the purpose of annual vacation leave.

For the duration of the plan, annual vacation leave is remunerated in accordance with the percentage of pay provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06.

If the length of leave is one (1) year, the employee is deemed to have taken the annual quantum of the paid vacation leave to which they are entitled. If the length of leave is less than one (1) year, the employee is deemed to have taken the annual quantum of paid vacation leave to which they are entitled prorated to the length of the leave.

For vacation leave other than that deemed to have been taken under the previous sub-paragraph, the employee indicates their choice of vacation dates in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement.

e) Sick leave

During the period of leave, the employee is deemed to accumulate days of sick leave.

For the duration of the plan, days of used or unused sick leave are remunerated in accordance with the percentage provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06.

f) Disability insurance

If a disability occurs during the leave with deferred pay plan, the following provisions apply.

1- If the disability occurs during the period of leave, it is presumed not to have occurred.

If the employee is still disabled at the end of the leave, and after exhausting the prescribed waiting period, they receive disability insurance benefits equal to eighty per cent (80%) of the percentage of their pay as provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06 for as long as they are eligible under clause 23.17. If the person is still disabled on the date the contract ends, the full amount of disability insurance benefits applies.

2- If the disability occurs before the period of leave is taken, the employee may make one of the following choices.

- They may continue to participate in the plan. In such a case, after exhausting the prescribed waiting period, they receive disability insurance benefits equal to eighty per cent (80%) of their pay as provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06 for as long as they are eligible under clause 23.17.

If the employee is disabled at the beginning of their period of leave and the end of their leave coincides with the scheduled end of the plan, they may interrupt their participation in it until the end of their disability. During this period of interruption the employee receives full disability insurance benefits for as long as they are eligible under clause 23.17, and they begin their leave on the day on which their disability ends;

- They may suspend participation in the plan. In such a case, after exhausting the prescribed waiting period, they receive full disability insurance benefits for as long as they are eligible under clause 23.17. Upon their return to work, participation in the plan is extended for a length of time equal to their disability.

If the disability continues until the time when the leave was to begin, the employee may postpone their leave until they are no longer disabled.

3- If the disability occurs after the period of leave, the employee, after exhausting the prescribed waiting period, receives disability insurance benefits equal to eighty per cent (80%) of the percentage of their pay as provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06 for as long as they are eligible under clause 23.17. If the employee remains disabled at the end of the plan, they receive full disability insurance benefits.

4- If the employee remains disabled after the expiry of the time limit provided in paragraph 5 of clause 12.11, the contract becomes void and the following provisions apply:

- If the employee has already taken the leave, the pay that has been overpaid is not repayable and one (1) year of service for the purpose of participation in the pension plan is credited for each year of participation in the leave with deferred pay plan.
- If the employee has not already taken the leave, the contributions withheld on their pay are reimbursed without interest and without being subject to contributions to the pension plan.

5- Despite the second (2nd) and third (3rd) sub-paragraphs of this paragraph, a part-time employee's contributions to the plan are suspended during a disability, and after exhausting the prescribed waiting period, they receive full disability insurance benefits as long as they are eligible under clause 23.17. The employee may then make one of the following choices:

- They may suspend participation in the plan. Upon their return to work, their participation is extended for a length of time equal to the duration of their disability.
- If they do not wish to suspend their participation in the plan, the disability period is then considered as a period of participation in the plan for the purposes of paragraph q).

For the purpose of applying this paragraph, an employee disabled by an employment injury is deemed to be receiving disability insurance benefits.

g) Leave or absence without pay

For the duration of the plan, an employee who is on leave or absence without pay has their participation in the leave with deferred pay plan suspended. When they return to work, their participation is extended for a length of time equal to the length of their leave or absence without pay. In the case of part-time leave without pay, the employee receives the pay for the time worked that they would have received if they had not participated in the plan.

However, leave or absence without pay of one (1) year or more, with the exception of that provided in clause 22.27, amounts to a withdrawal from the plan, and the provisions of paragraph n) apply.

h) Leave with pay

For the duration of the plan, leave with pay not provided for in this article is remunerated at the percentage of pay provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06.

Leave with pay occurring during the period of leave is deemed to have been taken.

i) Floating days off

During the period of leave, the employee is deemed to accumulate service for the purpose of floating days off.

For the duration of the plan, floating days off are remunerated at the percentage of pay provided in paragraph a) of 34.06.

If the length of the leave is one (1) year, the employee is deemed to have taken the annual quantum of floating days off to which they are entitled. If the length of the leave is less than one (1) year, the employee is deemed to have taken the annual quantum of floating days off to which they are entitled prorated to the length of the leave.

j) Maternity, paternity or adoption leave

If the maternity leave occurs during the contributions period, participation in the leave with deferred pay plan is suspended. When the employee returns to work, participation in the plan is extended for a maximum of twenty-one (21) weeks. During maternity leave, benefits are based on the pay that would be paid if the employee were not participating in the plan.

If paternity or adoption leave occurs during the contributions period, participation in the leave with deferred pay plan is suspended. When the employee returns to work, their participation in the plan is extended for a maximum of five (5) weeks. During paternity or adoption leave, benefits are based on the pay that would be paid if the employee were not participating in the plan.

k) Protective leave

For the duration of the plan, an employee who takes protective leave has their participation in the leave with deferred pay plan suspended. When they return to work, their participation is extended for a length of time equal to the length of the protective leave.

l) Professional development

For the duration of the plan, an employee who benefits from leave for the purpose of professional development has their participation in the leave with deferred pay plan suspended. When they return to work, their participation in the plan is extended for a length of time equal to the length of this leave.

m) Layoff

If the employee is laid off, the contract ends on the date of the layoff and the provisions of paragraph n) apply.

However, an employee does not lose any rights with respect to their pension plan. Thus, one year of service is credited for each year of participation in the leave with deferred pay plan and the pay that has not been paid is reimbursed without interest and without being subject to contributions to the pension plan.

A laid-off employee who benefits from job security under clause 15.03 continues to participate in the leave with deferred pay plan as long as they are not reassigned to another institution by the Service national de main-d'oeuvre (SNMO). From that date on, the provisions of the two (2) preceding subparagraphs apply to this employee. However, an employee who has already taken their leave continues to participate in the leave with deferred pay plan with the employer to whom they are reassigned by the SNMO. An employee who has not yet taken their leave may continue their participation in the plan subject to their new employer's agreement to the terms and conditions of the contract or, failing this, to them reaching an agreement with their new employer on another date for taking the leave.

n) Breach of contract because of termination of employment, retirement, withdrawal or expiry of the seven (7)-year time limit for the duration of the plan or the six (6)-year time limit for beginning the period of leave

- 1- If the leave has been taken, the employee must reimburse, without interest, the pay received during the leave, prorated to the period of time that remains in the plan in relation to the contributions period.
- 2- If the leave has not been taken, the employee is reimbursed (without interest) for an amount equal to the contributions withheld on their pay up until the date of the breach of contract.
- 3- If the leave is in progress, the amounts due by either party are calculated as follows: the amount received during the leave by the employee minus the amounts deducted from the pay of the employee in fulfilment of the contract. If the resulting balance is negative, the employer reimburses the balance (without interest) to the employee; if the balance is positive, the employee reimburses the balance to the employer (without interest).

For the purpose of the pension plan, the rights the employee would have had if they had never participated in the leave with deferred pay plan are recognized. Thus, if the leave has been taken, the contributions made during the leave are used to compensate for the missing contributions for the years worked so as to restore the pension credits lost during this period; the employee is able, however, to redeem the lost period of service on the same conditions as those applying to leave without pay provided for in the Act respecting the Government and Public Employees Retirement Plan (RREGOP) (CQLR c R-10).

Furthermore, if the leave has not been taken, the missing contributions needed to credit all the years worked are deducted from the reimbursement of contributions deducted from pay.

o) Breach of contract due to the employee's death

If the employee dies during the plan, the contract ends on the date of death and the following provisions apply:

- If the employee had already taken their leave, the contributions withheld on their pay are not refundable and one (1) year of service for the purpose of their participation in the pension plan is recognized for each year of participation in the leave with deferred pay plan.
- If the employee had not taken their leave, the contributions withheld on their pay are reimbursed without interest and without being subject to contributions for the purposes of the pension plan.

p) Dismissal

If the employee is dismissed during the plan, the contract is terminated on the date the dismissal takes effect. The provisions of paragraph n) apply.

q) Part-time employees

A part-time employee may participate in the leave with deferred pay plan. They may only take their leave during the last year of the plan, however.

Furthermore, the pay they receive during their leave is based on the average number of hours worked, excluding overtime, in the years of contributions preceding the leave.

The remuneration provided for in clauses 8.15 and 23.32 of the collective agreement and 4.03 of Appendix A are calculated and paid on the basis of the percentage of pay provided for in paragraph a) of clause 34.06.

r) Change of status

An employee whose status changes during their participation in the leave with deferred pay plan may make one of the following choices:

- 1- They may end their contract on the conditions provided for in paragraph n).
- 2- They may continue to participate in the plan and are then treated as a part-time employee.

However, a full-time employee who becomes a part-time employee after having taken their leave is deemed to still be a full-time employee for the purposes of determining their contributions to the leave with deferred pay plan.

s) Group insurance plan

During the leave, an employee continues to benefit from the basic life insurance plan and may maintain coverage under the insurance plans by paying all the necessary contributions and premiums themselves, in accordance with the clauses and stipulations of the insurance contract in force. However, subject to the provisions of clause 23.14, their participation in the basic health insurance plan is mandatory and they must pay the full amount of all the necessary contributions and premiums.

During the plan, insurable pay is what is provided in paragraph a) of clause 34.06. An employee may, however, maintain insurable pay based on the pay that would be paid if they were not participating in the plan by paying the extra part of the applicable premiums.

t) Voluntary transfers

An employee may apply for a position and obtain it in accordance with the provisions of the collective agreement, providing that the time left in their leave allows them to begin work within thirty (30) days of being appointed to the position.

35.02 If a technological change is implemented that has the effect of abolishing one or more positions, the employer provides the union and the employee with at least four (4) months of written notice.

In cases of technological changes requiring human resources development activities for employees, the employer meets with the union at the latter's request to inform it of the terms and conditions of these activities.

Retraining

35.05 An employee covered by clause 15.03 who is in fact laid off following the implementation of a technological change is eligible for retraining in accordance with the provisions of clause 15.17.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR EMPLOYEES OF PSYCHIATRIC HOSPITALS AND OTHER COVERED ACTIVITY CENTRES

SECTION I

ARTICLE 1 PREVENTIVE MEASURES

1.01 When an employee feels that a user may present an immediate or potential danger to those around them, they must report the fact to their immediate supervisor. A written copy of the report is placed in the employee's personal file.

1.02 The authorities immediately take the necessary measures in light of the facts related in the employee's report.

ARTICLE 2 ORIENTATION COURSES ON DEALING WITH PSYCHIATRIC USERS

2.01 Employees who take orientation courses on dealing with psychiatric users or equivalent courses and pass the examination receive a certificate attesting to their success and a weekly premium of:

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
12.26	12.51	12.76

If they do not pass the exam, they receive a weekly premium of:

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
9.49	9.68	9.87

2.02 To be entitled to the premium, an employee who has attended fifty per cent (50%) of a course for nurses, nursing assistants, beneficiary attendants ("A" certification), child nurses or baby nurses given by a recognized institution but who has not completed the course may take the examination without being obliged to attend the course. If they fail the examination, they may, however, register for this course.

Certified or graduate employees in the job titles mentioned in the previous paragraph are not entitled to the premium. However, employees who already receive it continue to receive it for the duration of this collective agreement.

- 2.03 The employer recognizes the courses given by other psychiatric institutions.
- 2.04 The courses last for a minimum of sixty (60) hours and a maximum of seventy (70) hours.
- 2.05 The course is divided as follows:
- fifty per cent (50%) general nursing care,
- and
- fifty per cent (50%) psychiatric nursing care.
- 2.06 Attendance at eighty per cent (80%) of the classes is required for admission to the examination. The examination is oral or written, at the employee's choice. It includes a practical test in all cases.
- 2.07 The written or oral examination is based on a five hundred (500)-point system broken down as follows:
- 200 points for general nursing care;
 - 200 points for psychiatric nursing care;
 - 100 points for attendance at the course.
- 2.08 Sixty per cent (60%) of total possible points is required in order to pass the examination.
- 2.09 An employee who fails the examination is only entitled to take the examination again once at a subsequent session, in accordance with the procedure outlined above. In no case may an employee take the course a second time.

ARTICLE 3 PSYCHIATRY PREMIUM

Except for employees in a psychiatric emergency department covered by the critical care or enhanced critical care premium provided for in clause 9.164, rehabilitation attendants, care attendants or employees assigned to supervise users are entitled to a weekly premium of:

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
20.44	20.85	21.27

This premium is distinct from the premium for training provided in Article 2 of this appendix.

ARTICLE 4 FLOATING DAYS OFF

4.01 On July 1 of each year, a full-time employee working in an institution listed in Article 6 or in the psychiatric department or wing or emergency department of the institutions listed in Article 5 is entitled to one-half day off per month worked, up to a maximum of five (5) days per year.

4.02 An employee who leaves the assignment entitling them to these days off is paid for all days off thus acquired but not taken, in accordance with the remuneration they would receive if they took the days off at that time.

4.03 A part-time employee is not entitled to these floating days off and instead receives monetary compensation for them with each pay cheque equal to 2.2% of:

- pay, premiums¹ and additional remuneration provided for in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O;
- the pay that they would have received if they had not been absent on unpaid sick leave when scheduled to work in their position or on an assignment;
- the pay used to establish maternity, paternity, adoption or protective leave benefits. However, the amount calculated during protective leave is not paid with each pay period, but is accumulated and paid at the same time as vacation pay.

ARTICLE 5 DEFINITION OF A PSYCHIATRIC WING, DEPARTMENT OR EMERGENCY DEPARTMENT

5.01 The provisions of Articles 1, 3 and 4 of this appendix apply to structured psychiatric wings or departments in general hospitals. For the purpose of applying this article, a structured psychiatric wing or department is defined as follows: a designated area specifically set up with personnel assigned to the care and supervision of psychiatric users and allowing the implementation of structured rehabilitation programs designed for the users by the professional staff of that wing or department.

These benefits only apply to employees working in the hospital facilities of the institutions listed in this clause.

APPENDIX B

APPENDIX B SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR BABY NURSES, CHILD NURSES AND NURSING ASSISTANTS ~~AND~~ BENEFICIARY ATTENDANTS ~~(“A” CERTIFICATION)~~

To the extent that they are not otherwise modified by this appendix, the provisions of the collective agreement apply to employees with the following job titles: child nurse/baby nurse and nursing assistant and beneficiary attendant (“A” certificate).

ARTICLE 1 NURSING COMMITTEE

Two (2) employees covered by Appendix B must sit on the nursing committee stipulated in Article 7 of Appendix D (Nurses). The employees who sit on this committee are given time off work for that purpose without any loss of pay.

1.01 Employees may file any complaint with the committee concerning their workload or any issue directly related to nursing.

1.02 If the committee does not render a decision within five (5) calendar days of when the complaint is filed, or if the decision does not satisfy the employee, the latter may ask the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux to appoint a physician as arbitrator.

1.03 The arbitrator conducts an inquiry and decides on the issue. Their decision must include the reasons for the decision and be given in writing within three (3) weeks of when the request for arbitration is made to the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux.

1.04 The arbitrator’s decision is final and binding on the parties.

ARTICLE 2 NURSING COMMITTEE

This article only applies where there are no unionized nurses, or where the nursing committee is composed of nurses from a union not affiliated with the CSN.

2.01 A nursing committee is formed within thirty (30) days of when this collective agreement comes into force.

2.02 The committee is composed of three (3) employees designated by the union (nursing assistant, child nurse or baby nurse) employed by the employer and three (3) persons designated by the employer.

Each party may from time to time draw on necessary outside assistance at its own expense when it deems it appropriate.

2.03 The committee’s role is to examine complaints from nursing assistants, child nurses or baby nurses about their workload. The committee may also examine any issue directly related to nursing.

2.04 The committee meets at the request of either party.

2.05 Nursing assistants, child nurses or baby nurses sitting on the committee are given time off work without any loss of pay.

2.06 A nursing assistant, child nurse or baby nurse who believes that they been aggrieved on matters mentioned in clause 2.03 files a complaint with the committee in writing.

If more than one nursing assistant, child nurse or baby nurse collectively or the union itself believe they have been aggrieved on matters mentioned in 2.03, the union may file a complaint with the committee in writing.

2.07 The committee has five (5) days from when the complaint is filed to meet, formulate written recommendations and submit them to the employer. A copy of the recommendations is sent to the union.

2.08 The employer has five (5) days from receiving the committee's recommendations to render its decision in writing.

2.09 If the committee cannot meet within a reasonable period of time because of the employer's refusal, or if the employer does not render a decision within the prescribed period of time, or if the decision does not satisfy the nursing assistant, child nurse, baby nurse or the union, any of these may request arbitration by notifying the employer to this effect within thirty (30) calendar days of the expiry of the time limit provided in clause 2.08.

2.10 The parties agree on the choice of an arbitrator. If they do not, the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux automatically appoints a physician to act as arbitrator.

2.11 The employer and the union have seven (7) calendar days from the appointment of the arbitrator to each designate an assessor of their choice and communicate the assessor's name to the arbitrator.

2.12 The arbitrator sends the date of the first arbitration hearing in writing to the MSSS at least ten (10) days in advance.

The MSSS may, if it deems it appropriate, delegate an official representative to participate in the arbitration hearing.

The arbitrator and assessors, accompanied by the official representative of the MSSS if applicable, meet with the members of the nursing committee and examine the complaint made to the committee, the result of the committee's discussions, its recommendations and the employer's decision.

2.13 These various exhibits and any other documents produced by the parties or the official representative of the MSSS, as the case may be, must be filed as part of the record. The contents of these documents may become the object of supplementary or contradictory evidence.

2.14 The arbitrator and assessors proceed with the inquiry in the presence of the parties and the official representative of the MSSS, if applicable, and hear witnesses for both parties.

The arbitrator, accompanied by the assessors, may also visit the premises, if they deem it appropriate, and use any findings for the purpose of reaching a decision.

2.15 Arbitration hearings are public; the arbitrator may, however, order a session behind closed doors on their own or at the request of either party.

The arbitrator has all the powers conferred upon them by the Labour Code (CQLR c C-27) to conduct arbitration hearings.

At the request of the parties or the arbitrator, witnesses are summoned by means of a written order signed by the arbitrator, who may swear in the witness.

A person duly summoned to appear before an arbitrator who refuses to appear or to testify may be compelled to do so and convicted in accordance with the Code of Penal Procedure (CQLR c C-25.1) as if the person had been summoned under that act.

2.16 The arbitrator has three (3) weeks from being appointed to render a decision in writing, with reasons, and send it to the MSSS and both parties.

If either of the parties' representatives disagree with the decision rendered, they have fifteen (15) days from when the decision is issued to submit their dissent in writing to the MSSS and the parties.

2.17 The arbitrator's decision is final and binding on all parties. Unless otherwise stipulated in the arbitration award, it must be implemented within thirty (30) days unless it is absolutely impossible to do so.

2.18 The arbitrator's expenses are borne equally by the parties.

ARTICLE 3 PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PREMIUM

An employee who has successfully completed the six (6)-month course for operating room technicians receives, in addition to their regular pay, a weekly premium of:

Rate 2020-04-01 to 2021-03-31 ($)	Rate 2021-04-01 to 2022-03-31 ($)	Rate as of 2022-04-01 ($)
8.18	8.34	8.51

ARTICLE 4 POST-GRADUATE TRAINING

The provisions of this article apply to employees who have one of the following job titles:

- nursing assistant (3455);
- nursing assistant team leader (3445);
- nursing assistant – assistant team leader (3446).

4.01 Each program of post-graduate nursing studies recognized under clause 4.06 that is worth fifteen (15) or more units (credits) but less than thirty (30) credits equals one (1) year of service for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale or, if applicable, to additional remuneration of 1.5% of the rate of pay at the top echelon on the pay scale.

This provision does not apply to activities related to the development of human resources.

4.02 Each program of post-graduate nursing studies recognized under clause 4.06 that is worth thirty (30) units (credits) is equal to two (2) years of service for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale or, if applicable, to additional remuneration of 3% of the rate of pay at the top echelon on the pay scale.

4.03 To benefit from the echelon advancement on the pay scale provided for in clauses 4.01 and 4.02, however, an employee must work in their specialty. To benefit from the additional remuneration, the post-graduate training must be required by the employer. An employee who uses more than one program of post-graduate studies in the specialty in which they work has one (1) or two (2) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale for each applicable program up to a maximum of four (4) years of service for all the programs or, if applicable, to additional remuneration of a maximum of 6% of the rate of pay at the top echelon on the pay scale.

4.04 An employee who has benefited from an echelon advancement for post-graduate training receives the additional remuneration for the post-graduate training once they have completed one (1) year or more of experience at the top echelon of their pay scale and providing that the said post-graduate training is required by the employer in accordance with the provisions of clause 4.05.

When an employee who holds a position for which post-graduate training is required cannot benefit from all the years of service for the purpose of echelon advancement to which they are entitled for the post-graduate training because their combined experience and post-graduate training already puts them at the top echelon of their pay scale, the employee receives additional remuneration equal to 1.5% of the pay for the maximum of their pay scale for each echelon to which they no longer have access, until this additional remuneration corresponds to the total of the echelons to which they are entitled for their post-graduate training without, however, exceeding 6%.

An employee who is at the top echelon solely on the basis of experience benefits from the additional remuneration for post-graduate training when the training is required by the employer in accordance with the provisions of clause 4.05.

4.05 The employer has six (6) months from the date on which the collective agreement comes into force to decide the list of post-graduate programs of study deemed to be required by service and job title that provide access to additional remuneration.

4.06 The programs of studies recognized by the Ministère de l'Éducation et de l'Enseignement supérieur are recognized for the purpose of applying this article.

ARTICLE 5 ACQUIRED PRIVILEGE

Employees who are entitled to a responsibility premium on the date this agreement comes into force continue to receive it as long as they continue to perform the duties for which it was granted.

ARTICLE 6 SPECIAL CLAUSES

Candidate for admission to the practice of the nursing assistant profession

6.01 To the extent they are not otherwise modified by this article, these employees are entitled to all the provisions of the collective agreement and the appendix.

6.02 Once a candidate for admission to the practice of the nursing assistant profession receives their licence to practise after taking or retaking the examination, the employer pays them the nursing assistant's rate of pay retroactively to the date the examinations were passed, providing they have worked after that date.

ARTICLE 2 OVERTIME

ARTICLE 3 REASSIGNMENT TO A HIGHER POSITION

An employee who is asked by the institution to take on a higher position temporarily receives the pay stipulated for this position during the time that they fill it, if they fill it for at least one regular shift.

ARTICLE 4 CLASSIFICATION AND ADVANCEMENT ON THE PAY SCALE

4.01 Classification on the pay scale

Employees covered by this appendix are integrated into their pay scale on the basis of their past experience and, if applicable, post-graduate training, as established in accordance with Article 5. The provisions of clause 8.26 of the collective agreement are taken into account for the purpose of classification on the pay scale.

4.02 Advancement on the pay scale

This clause replaces clause 8.25 (Advancement on the pay scale) of the collective agreement.

If permitted by the number of echelons on the pay scale, each time an employee completes one year of service in their job title they advance to the echelon immediately higher than their current echelon. As of April 2, 2019, however, the length of time an employee with a ranking of nineteen (19) or higher stays at an echelon is six (6) months of service for echelons one (1) to eight (8) and one (1) year of service for echelons nine (9) to eighteen (18).⁴

For the purpose of applying the previous paragraph, each day of work by a part-time employee equals 1/225th of a year of service. However, for an employee entitled to twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty-four (24) or twenty-five (25) days of annual vacation leave, each day of work equals 1/224th, 1/223rd, 1/222nd, 1/221st or 1/220th of a year of service.

A part-time employee's days of leave for union work, excluding those stipulated in clauses 7.18 to 7.20 (Leave for union work) of the collective agreement, are deemed to be days of work for the purpose of advancement on the pay scale.

Furthermore, valid experience acquired in a comparable job title is recognized for a part-time employee. The employee may ask the employer for an attestation of experience once each calendar year.

However, the year or fraction of a year of service acquired as well as days of work accumulated in 1983 are not credited for the purpose of determining an employee's date for advancement to the next echelon on the pay scale.

ARTICLE 5 PRIOR EXPERIENCE AND POST-GRADUATE TRAINING

(The following clauses replace clauses 17.01 to 17.04 of the collective agreement.)

⁴ This length of stay applies as of April 2, 2018, however, for employees covered by Letter of Agreement no. 57.

5.01 One (1) year of experience equals one year of service for the purpose of advancement on the pay scale, in accordance with the applicable rules on echelon advancement. This experience must be acquired as follows.

5.02 For pay purposes only, an employee is entitled to be classified according to the length of their previous employment, on the condition that they did not leave the health and social services sector or other work as a technician more than ten (10) years ago.

5.03 If an employee has been out of the health and social services sector or other work as a technician for more than five (5) but less than ten (10) years, the employee is classified no higher than the second-last echelon on the pay scale at the end of their probation period.

5.04 If an employee left the health and social services sector or other work as a technician more than ten (10) years ago the employer takes into consideration the employee's relevant past experience in reclassifying them after the end of their probation period.

5.05 Despite clauses 5.01, 5.02, 5.03 and 5.04, employees currently in the service of the employer or hired in the future may not be credited for experience acquired in 1983 for purposes of classification on the pay scale.

5.06 In calculating the experience of an employee who works part-time, each day of work is equal to 1/225th of a year of experience. However, for an employee entitled to twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty-four (24) or twenty-five (25) days of annual vacation leave, each day of work equals 1/224th, 1/223rd, 1/222nd, 1/221st or 1/220th of a year of experience, respectively.

5.07 The employer must require that the employee provide an attestation of their prior experience, to be obtained from the authorities of the institution where such experience was acquired.

If this is not done, the employer may not hold a prescribed time limit against the employee.

5.08 If it is impossible for the employee to produce written proof of their prior experience, they may, after demonstrating that this is in fact impossible, provide proof of their experience by declaring under oath all the relevant details, including the name of their employer, the dates of employment and the type of work.

5.09 When an employee leaves the institution, the employer provides them with an attestation of the experience acquired in its service.

5.10 The employee cannot have more than twenty-four (24) months of experience recognized for pay purposes during leave without pay for the purpose of teaching at a CEGEP, school board or university, providing that the nature of the teaching is specifically oriented towards the health and social services sector.

Post-graduate training

5.11 The provisions set out in Appendix O (Recognition of additional education) apply to employees covered by this appendix.

5.12 An employee holding an advanced certificate (ART) in clinical chemistry, haematology, histopathology, microbiology, cytology, blood bank, virology, immunology, electron microscopy or cytogenetics has two (2) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale. The post-graduate training must be related to the specialty in which the employee works.

5.17 Subject to clause 5.13 and clause 2.03 of Appendix O, post-graduate training may not be cumulative for the purposes of advancing on the pay scale.

5.18 This echelon advancement replaces any weekly pay supplement or premium previously paid for these purposes.

9.03 For the purpose of carrying out this mandate, committee members must have access to training to be agreed upon by the local parties and to all information relevant to understanding the problems and finding solutions.

APPENDIX D

SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR NURSES

ARTICLE 1 SCOPE

1.01 To the extent that they are not otherwise modified by this appendix, the provisions of the collective agreement apply to nurses in the following job titles:

- 2459 Nurse team leader
- 2471 Nurse
- 2485 Nurse on a refresher period
- 2489 Assistant head nurse
Assistant to the immediate superior
- 2490 Candidate for admission to the practice of the nursing profession
- 2491 Outpost/dispensary nurse

1.02 Furthermore, if the institution requires that a position be filled by a nurse, that nurse is covered by this appendix.

ARTICLE 2 SPECIAL CONDITIONS

Candidate to the practice of the nursing profession

2.01 These employees are covered by all the terms of the collective agreement and the appendix to the extent that they are not otherwise modified by this article.

2.02 Once a candidate receives their licence to practise after taking or retaking the examination with success, the employer pays the candidate to the nursing profession the rate of pay for a nurse, retroactive to the date of their successful examination, providing that they have worked since that date.

Nurse on a refresher period

2.03 These employees are covered by all the terms of the collective agreement and the appendix to the extent that they are not otherwise modified by this article.

2.04 These employees may not take charge of a service. They must work under the supervision of a nurse.

2.05 The terms and conditions of the refresher period are communicated in writing to the employee and to the union at the time of hiring.

ARTICLE 3 CLASSIFICATION AND ADVANCEMENT ON THE PAY SCALE

Classification on the scale

3.01 Employees covered by this appendix are integrated into their pay scale on the basis of their experience and, if applicable, post-graduate training, as established under the terms of articles 4 and 5. The provisions of clause 8.26 of the collective agreement are taken into account for the purpose of classification on the pay scale.

3.02 At the time of hiring, the employer must require that the employee provide written attestation of their prior experience and/or post-graduate training, obtained by the employee from the institution where the experience was acquired and/or the educational institution that gave the post-graduate training.

If this is not done, the employer may not hold a prescribed time limit against the nurse.

If it is impossible for the nurse to provide written proof of their experience, they may, after demonstrating that this is in fact impossible, submit proof of their experience by swearing under oath to all the relevant details, including the name of the employer, the dates of the work and the kind of work done.

Advancement on the pay scale

3.03 This clause replaces clause 8.25 (Advancement on the pay scale) of the collective agreement.

If permitted by the number of echelons on the pay scale, each time an employee completes one year of service in their job title they advance to the echelon immediately higher than their current echelon. ~~As of April 2, 2019,~~ However, the length of time an employee with a ranking of nineteen (19) or higher stays at an echelon is six (6) months of service for echelons one (1) to eight (8) and one (1) year of service for echelons nine (9) to eighteen (18).¹

For the purpose of applying the previous paragraph, each day of work by a part-time employee equals 1/225th of a year of service. However, for an employee entitled to twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty-four (24) or twenty-five (25) days of annual vacation leave, each day of work equals 1/224th, 1/223rd, 1/222nd, 1/221st or 1/220th of a year of service.

A part-time employee's days of leave for union work, excluding those provided for in clauses 7.18 to 7.20 (Leave for union work) of the collective agreement, are deemed to be days of work for the purpose of advancement on the pay scale.

Furthermore, valid experience acquired in a comparable job title is recognized for a part-time employee. The employee may ask the employer for an attestation of experience once each calendar year.

However, the year or fraction of a year of service acquired as well as days of work accumulated in 1983 are not credited for the purpose of determining an employee's date for advancement to the next echelon on the pay scale.

¹ This length of stay applies, however, as of April 2, 2018 for employees covered by Letter of Agreement no. 56.

ARTICLE 4 PRIOR EXPERIENCE

(The following clauses replace clauses 17.01 to 17.04 of the collective agreement.)

4.01 One year of experience equals one year of service for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale, in accordance with the applicable rules for advancement on the pay scale. This experience must be acquired as follows.

4.02 For pay purposes only, an employee is entitled to be classified on the basis of the length of their previous work providing, however, that they did not leave the health and social services sector or other work as a nurse more than ten (10) years ago.

4.03 If an employee has been out of the health and social services sector or other work as a nurse for more than five (5) years but less than ten (10) years, the employee is classified no higher than the second-last echelon on the pay scale at the end of their probation period.

4.04 If an employee left the health and social services sector or other work as a nurse more than ten (10) years ago, the employer takes into account the nurse's valid experience for classification purposes once the probation period is completed.

4.05 Despite clauses 4.01, 4.02, 4.03 and 4.04, employees now in the service of the employer or hired later are not credited with experience acquired during 1983 for the purpose of classification on the pay scale.

4.06 In calculating the experience of an employee who works part-time, each day of work is equal to 1/225th of a year of experience. However, for an employee entitled to twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty-four (24) or twenty-five (25) days of annual vacation leave, each day of work equals 1/224th, 1/223rd, 1/222nd, 1/221st or 1/220th of a year of experience, respectively.

ARTICLE 5 POST-GRADUATE TRAINING

5.01 Each program of post-graduate studies in nursing recognized in accordance with clause 5.10 or 5.11 of this appendix that is worth fifteen (15) or more credits but less than thirty (30) credits is equal to one (1) year of service for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale or additional remuneration of 1.5% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale, as the case may be.

This provision does not apply to activities related to human resources development provided for in the collective agreement.

5.02 Each program of post-graduate studies in nursing recognized in accordance with clause 5.10 or 5.11 of this appendix that is worth thirty (30) credits is equal to two (2) years of service for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale or additional remuneration of 3% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale, as the case may be.

5.03 To benefit, however, from the echelon advancement on the pay scale provided for in clauses 5.01 and 5.02, an employee must work in their specialty. To benefit from the additional remuneration, the post-graduate training must be required by the employer. If an employee uses more than one post-graduate program in the specialty in which they work, they have one (1) or two (2) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale for each applicable program or are entitled to additional remuneration of a maximum of 6% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale, as the case may be.

5.04 When the Professional Development Committee provided in previous collective agreements had accepted a program of studies, employees who have taken such a program retain the privileges related to them for the purpose of advancement on the pay scale in accordance with clauses 5.01 and 5.02. The employer continues to recognize existing programs of post-graduate studies.

5.05 However, an employee holding a certificate from a nursing college or a bachelor or master's degree in nursing has the following number of years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale, regardless of the position they hold:

- certificate from a college of nursing: two (2) years of service;
- one (1) successfully completed year of university toward a degree in nursing: two (2) years of service;
- bachelor's degree in nursing: four (4) years of service;
- master's degree in nursing: six (6) years of service

5.06 An employee who has one or more of the diplomas for post-graduate studies mentioned in clause 5.05 may only benefit from the diploma giving them the most years of service.

5.07 An employee who has a certificate from a college of nursing or a bachelor's or master's degree in nursing and who works in a service in which the employer demands or requires one or more post-graduate programs of study for their job title is deemed to have this training for the purpose of the additional remuneration provided in clauses 5.01 and 5.02. This additional remuneration may not, however, exceed the percentage normally awarded to other employees for the training demanded or deemed required.

5.08 An employee who has qualified for additional echelons on the pay scale because of post-graduate training receives the additional remuneration for the said post-graduate training when they have completed one (1) or more years of experience at the top echelon of the pay scale and when the post-graduate training is required by the employer in accordance with the provisions of clause 5.09.

When an employee holding a position for which post-graduate training is required cannot benefit from all the years of service for the purpose of echelon advancement to which their post-graduate training entitles them because their combined experience and post-graduate training puts them at the top echelon of their pay scale, for each additional echelon that is not available to them they receive additional remuneration equal to 1.5% of the maximum rate of pay for their pay scale until this additional remuneration corresponds to the total number of echelons to which their post-graduate training entitles them, without, however, exceeding 6%.

An employee who is at the top echelon solely on the basis of experience receives the additional remuneration for their post-graduate training when the training is required by the employer in accordance with the provisions of clause 5.09.

5.09 For the purpose of applying this article, the employer requires post-graduate training in accordance with the following terms and conditions.

- 1- When a position involving post-graduate training requirements is or has been awarded since January 1, 1983, employees in the same job title who work in this service and who have this training have the training recognized for the purpose of additional remuneration.

2- Within six (6) months of when the collective agreement comes into force, the employer decides on the list of programs of post-graduate studies deemed required by service and by job title that give employees access to additional remuneration.

Recognized post-graduate training

5.10 The programs of post-graduate studies and their relative value recognized under the terms of the collective agreement that came into force on May 22, 2000, as well as the programs of studies recognized by the Ministère de l'Éducation et de l'Enseignement supérieur, are recognized for the purpose of applying this article.

5.11 Any diplomas issued outside Quebec must be validated by a certificate of equivalence issued by the authorized government agency.

ARTICLE 6 SENIORITY AND EXPERIENCE

6.01 Leave without pay for studies does not constitute an interruption of service for seniority purposes. Upon their return to work, employees regain the rights they had at the time of their departure.

6.02 In the case, however, of an employee who has at least four (4) years of service in the health and social services sector at the time of their departure, such an absence of at least one (1) year is deemed to be one (1) year of service for the purpose of calculating seniority and experience, providing the employee remains employed by a Québec institution within the meaning of the Act respecting health services and social services (CQLR c S-4.2) for a period of time equal to the length of their absence for studies.

6.03 An employee who benefits from part-time leave without pay for studies as provided under clause 18.04 of the collective agreement is, in addition to the benefits set out in that clause, considered to be full-time for the purpose of calculating seniority, as well as for the calculation of experience if they are covered by the provisions of clause 6.02.

ARTICLE 7 NURSING COMMITTEE

7.01 A nursing committee is formed within thirty (30) days of the date on which this collective agreement comes into force.

7.02 The committee is composed of four (4) persons appointed by the union, including two (2) nurses and two (2) employees covered by Appendix B employed by the employer, and four (4) persons appointed by the employer.

When there are no employees covered by Appendix B of this collective agreement affiliated with the CSN, the committee is composed of three (3) employees covered by this appendix, to be designated by the union, and three (3) persons designated by the employer.

Each party may from time to time add an outside person at its own expense when it deems it appropriate.

7.03 The committee's role is to examine employees' complaints about their workload. The committee may also examine any issue directly related to nursing.

7.04 The committee meets at the request of either party.

7.05 Employees sitting on the committee are given time off work without any loss of pay.

7.06 An employee who believes that they have been aggrieved on matters mentioned in clause 7.03 files a written complaint with the committee.

If more than one employee collectively or the union itself believe that have been aggrieved on matters mentioned in clause 7.03, the union may file a complaint with the committee in writing.

7.07 The committee has five (5) days from when the complaint is filed to meet, formulate written recommendations and submit them to the employer. A copy of the recommendations is sent to the union.

7.08 The employer has five (5) days from receiving the committee's recommendations to render its decision in writing.

7.09 If the committee cannot meet within a reasonable period of time because of the employer's refusal, or if the employer does not render a decision within the prescribed period of time, or if the decision does not satisfy the employee or the union, either one may request arbitration by notifying the employer to this effect within thirty (30) calendar days of the expiry of the time limit provided in clause 7.08.

7.10 The parties agree on the choice of an arbitrator.

If they do not, the Ministère de la Santé et des Services sociaux (MSSS) automatically appoints a physician to act as arbitrator.

7.11 The arbitrator sends the date of the first arbitration hearing in writing to the MSSS at least ten (10) days in advance.

The MSSS may, if it deems it appropriate, delegate an official representative to participate in the arbitration hearing.

The arbitrator, accompanied by the official representative of the MSSS if applicable, meets with the members of the nursing committee and examines the complaint made to the committee, the result of the committee's discussions, its recommendations and the employer's decision.

7.12 These various exhibits and any other documents produced by the parties or, as the case may be, by the official representative of the MSSS are filed as part of the record. The contents of these documents may become the object of supplementary or contradictory evidence.

7.13 The arbitrator proceeds with the inquiry in the presence of the parties and the official representative of the MSSS, if applicable, and hears witnesses for both parties.

The arbitrator may also visit the premises, if they deem it appropriate, and use any findings for the purpose of reaching a decision.

7.14 Arbitration hearings are public; the arbitrator may, however, order a session behind closed doors on their own or at the request of either party.

The arbitrator has all the powers conferred upon them by the Labour Code (CQLR c C-27) to conduct arbitration hearings.

At the request of the parties or the arbitrator, witnesses are summoned by means of a written order signed by the arbitrator, who may swear in the witness.

A person duly summoned to appear before an arbitrator who refuses to appear or to testify may be compelled to do so and convicted in accordance with the Code of Penal Procedure (CQLR c C-25.1), as if they had been summoned under that act.

7.15 The arbitrator has three (3) weeks from being appointed to render a decision in writing, with reasons, and send it to the MSSS and both parties.

If either of the parties' representatives disagree with the decision rendered, they have fifteen (15) days from when the decision is issued to submit their dissent in writing to the MSSS and the parties.

7.16 The arbitrator's decision is final and binding on all parties. Unless otherwise stipulated in the arbitration award, it must be implemented within thirty (30) days unless it is absolutely impossible to do so.

7.17 The arbitrator's expenses and fees are borne equally by the parties.

ARTICLE 8 ANNUAL VACATION LEAVE

(These provisions are added to Article 21 of the collective agreement.)

An employee with less than one (1) year of service as of April 30 is entitled to one-twelfth (1/12th) of four (4) weeks of annual vacation for each month of service.

Despite the above, an employee with the job title mentioned in the first (1st) paragraph who takes on responsibilities related to orientation and clinical training of employees and student trainees for more than half of their shift of work receives the hourly premium for the full shift of work.

ARTICLE 4 STUDY INCENTIVE PREMIUM

4.01 After successfully completing fifteen (15) units (credits) of the CEGEP program in institutional rehabilitation or special education, a full-time employee employed by the institution on the date this collective agreement comes into force receives a study incentive premium of:

To the extent that they are not otherwise modified by this appendix, the provisions of the collective agreement apply to employees classified under Code 1000 – Professionals, with the exception of those covered by Appendix N.

ARTICLE 2 PRIOR EXPERIENCE

(This article replaces clauses 17.01 to 17.04 of the collective agreement.)

2.01 Employees now in the service of the employer and employees hired subsequently are classified, for pay purposes only, on the basis of their prior experience in the same job title, and where appropriate taking into account valid experience acquired in a comparable job title or another job title, providing that they have not ceased to practise their profession for more than five (5) consecutive years.

Any fraction of a year recognized under the previous paragraph is counted for the purpose of determining the date on which the employee advances an echelon on the pay scale.

2.02 At the time of hiring, the employer must require that the employee submit an attestation certifying their prior experience, which the employee obtains from the institution where the experience was acquired. If this is not done, the employer may not hold a prescribed time limit against them. If it is impossible for an employee to supply written proof or attestation of their experience, they may, after demonstrating that this is in fact impossible, make a sworn statement that then has the same value as a written attestation.

2.03 If the employee has left the practice of their profession for more than five (5) years but less than ten (10) years, they are subject to a probation period. At the time of hiring, they are entitled to classification on the second (2nd) pay echelon for their class. After the probation period, the employee is entitled, for pay purposes only, to recognition of their prior years of experience.

2.04 If the employee has ceased to practise their profession for more than ten (10) years, they are subject to a probation period. At the time of hiring, they are entitled to the minimum rate of pay for their class. After the probation period, the employee is entitled, for pay purposes only, to recognition of three quarters (3/4) of their prior years of experience.

2.05 Despite clauses 2.01, 2.03 and 2.04, employees now in the service of the employer and those hired later are not credited with experience acquired in 1983 for the purpose of classification on their pay scale.

ARTICLE 3 OVERTIME

~~(The following article replaces Article 19 of the collective agreement.)~~

This article replaces clauses 19.01, 19.02 and 19.08 of the collective agreement.

3.01 Any work done in addition to the regular day or week of work is deemed to be overtime.

All overtime work must be done with the knowledge of the employee's immediate supervisor or the latter's replacement. In unforeseen circumstances, however, or if the employee cannot reach their immediate supervisor, or if justified by the demands of the work in progress, an employee is paid at the overtime rate by justifying the overtime work to their immediate supervisor or the latter's replacement within the next two (2) working days.

3.02 An employee who works overtime is remunerated as follows for the number of hours worked:

- 1- with hours off in lieu of the overtime worked within the thirty (30) days that follow. The local parties may agree on any other period;
- 2- if the employer cannot grant the time off in lieu of overtime, the employee is paid for the overtime worked at straight-time rates.

Overtime after forty (40) hours of work entails either an increase of 50% in the regular hourly rate that the employee is paid for such hours, or time off in lieu of the overtime equal to 150% of the length of the overtime worked, as the case may be.

These rules also apply to part-time employees.

ARTICLE 4 EVALUATION

4.01 Any evaluation of an employee's professional activities must be brought to their attention.

4.02 Any request for information about an employee's professional activities, regardless of whether the employee is on duty, are answered by the personnel manager or the department head.

ARTICLE 5 JOB TITLES, JOB DESCRIPTIONS AND PAY RATES AND SCALES

Classification of employees in job titles

5.01 An employee in the service of the institution on the date this collective agreement comes into effect who is classified in one of these job titles is deemed to possess the minimum qualifications required for that job title.

Integration into the pay scale of employees hired after the date on which the collective agreement comes into force

(The following clause replaces the third (3rd) paragraph of clause 8.23 of the collective agreement.)

5.02 An employee hired after the date on which this collective agreement comes into force is integrated at the echelon corresponding to their years of professional experience and taking into account the provisions of clauses 5.07 to 5.13 of this appendix, if applicable, in accordance with the rules on echelon advancement.

An employee with no professional experience is integrated at the first echelon, subject to the provisions of clauses 5.07 to 5.13 of this appendix.

Recognition of years of professional experience

5.03 One year of valid professional work is equal to one year of professional experience. For pay purposes, however, an employee cannot accumulate more than twenty-four (24) months of experience during leave without pay to teach at a CEGEP, school board or university, providing that the nature of the teaching is specifically oriented towards the health and social services sector.

5.04 Fractions of a year recognized under the preceding clause are counted for the purpose of determining the date on which an employee advances an echelon.

5.05 Subject to clauses 5.07 to 5.13 of this appendix article, an employee cannot accumulate more than one year of work experience during a period of twelve (12) months.

5.06 Despite clauses 5.03 and 5.04, employees now in the service of the employer and those hired in the future cannot be credited with professional experience acquired in 1983 for purposes of integration into the pay scale.

Recognition of professional development studies after completion of an undergraduate university degree

5.07 This refers to academic training pertinent to the profession beyond an undergraduate university degree.

5.08 One year of studies (or its equivalent, 30 credits) successfully completed in the same discipline or a discipline related to that mentioned in the employee's job description is equal to one (1) year of professional experience.

5.09 However, a master's degree involving forty-five (45) or more credits and less than sixty (60) credits successfully completed in the same discipline or a discipline related to that mentioned in the employee's job description is equal to one-and-one-half (1½) years of professional experience.

5.10 Only the number of years usually required to complete the studies undertaken may be counted.

5.11 A maximum of three (3) years of studies may be credited for purposes of experience.

5.12 "Undergraduate university degree" means that an employee has completed the studies necessary to obtain an undergraduate degree in accordance with the system in effect when the studies were completed.

5.13 On their date for echelon advancement, an employee is entitled, if applicable, to advance one (1) additional echelon in accordance with this article.

In applying clause 5.09, however, an employee who in the case of an annual advancement is entitled to recognition of one-half (½) of a year of experience because of the fact that they have successfully completed a master's degree by their regular advancement date advances an echelon at the end of a period of six (6) months following their regular echelon advancement date. This paragraph has the effect of modifying the employee's regular echelon advancement date.

Echelon advancement

5.14 An employee normally stays at an echelon for six (6) months of professional experience for echelons 1 to 8 and one (1) year of professional experience for echelons 9 to 18.

5.15 Echelon advancement is granted upon satisfactory job performance.

5.16 Accelerated echelon advancement is granted in accordance with the provisions of clauses 5.07 to 5.13 of this appendix, as the case may be.

5.17 Accelerated echelon advancement is granted to an employee on their echelon advancement date for performance that is judged exceptional by the employer.

5.18 However, no year or fraction of a year of experience acquired in 1983 is credited for the purpose of determining the date on which an employee advances one echelon.

~~5.19 Professional co-ordination premium~~

~~An employee who is entrusted with responsibility for and supervision of the work of a group consisting of at least four (4) professional employees receives a premium of 5% of their pay.~~

~~5.19~~ 20 Critical care premium and enhanced critical care premium

(The following clause replaces the first (1st) paragraph of clause 9.164 of the collective agreement.)

An employee covered by the following paragraph receives the critical care or enhanced critical care premium for hours worked in critical care, as defined in the second (2nd) paragraph of 9.164, ~~providing that they work there for a continuous period of at least three (3) hours.~~

This premium applies to employees in one of the following job titles:

- human relations officer (1553);
- audiologist (1254);
- audiologist-speech therapist (1204);
- dietitian-nutritionist (1219);
- occupational therapist (1230);
- speech therapist (1255);
- physiotherapist (1233);
- psychologist (1546);
- professional social worker (1550).

~~5.20~~ 4 Specific critical care premium and enhanced specific critical care premium

(The following clause replaces the first (1st) paragraph of clause 9.175 of the collective agreement.)

An employee covered by the following paragraph receives a specific critical care or enhanced specific critical care premium for hours worked in the services defined in the second (2nd) paragraph of clause 9.175, excluding obstetrical care (mother-child) units, ~~providing that they work there for a continuous period of at least three (3) hours.~~

This premium applies to employees in one of the following job titles:

- human relations officer (1553);
- audiologist (1254);
- audiologist-speech therapist (1204);
- dietitian-nutritionist (1219);
- occupational therapist (1230);
- speech therapist (1255);
- physiotherapist (1233);
- psychologist (1546);
- professional social worker (1550).

ARTICLE 6 PROFESSIONAL SECRECY

If an employee is summoned to testify about facts brought to their attention in the course of performing their duties, and if they expect that they will have to invoke professional secrecy, they may be accompanied by legal counsel chosen by and paid for by the institution.

APPENDIX H

REGIONAL DISPARITIES

SECTION I DEFINITIONS

For the purposes of this appendix, the following terms mean:

1.01 Dependant:

The spouse or dependent child as defined in Article 1 or any other dependant within the meaning of the Taxation Act (CQLR c I-3), providing that the latter resides with the employee. For the purposes of this appendix, however, income earned from employment by the employee's spouse does not have the effect of negating the spouse's status as a dependant.

Similarly, the fact that a child attends a high school recognized as being of public interest in a place other than the employee's place of residence does not negate their status as a dependant when no public high school is accessible in the locality in which the employee resides.

Similarly, the fact that a child attends a pre-school or elementary school recognized as being of public interest in a place other than the employee's place of residence does not negate their status as a dependant when no pre-school or elementary school, as the case may be, recognized as being of public interest is accessible in the child's language of instruction (French or English) in the locality in which the employee resides.

A child who is 25 years of age or younger is also deemed to be a dependant if they meet the following three (3) conditions:

- 1) the child attends full-time a post-secondary school recognized as being of public interest in a place other than the place of residence of an employee working in a locality in Sectors III, IV or V, with the exception of Parent, Sanmaur and Clova, or working in Fermont;
- 2) the child had the status of dependant in accordance with the definition of dependant provided in this appendix in the twelve (12) months preceding the start of their program of post-secondary studies;
- 3) the employee has provided supporting documents attesting that the child is pursuing a program of post-secondary studies full-time, namely proof of registration at the start of the session and proof of attendance at the end of the session.

Recognition of the status of dependant as defined in the preceding paragraph allows the employee to retain the level of their isolation and remoteness premium and allows the dependent child to benefit from provisions on trips out.

However, transportation expenses for a dependent child resulting from other programs are deducted from the benefits pertaining to trips out for the dependent child.

Furthermore, a child who is 25 years of age or younger who is no longer considered to be a dependant for the purpose of applying this clause and who attends a post-secondary school recognized as being of public interest regains the status of dependant if they comply with conditions 1) and 3) set out above.

1.02 Point of departure

Domicile in the legal sense of the term at the time of hiring, providing that the domicile is located in a Québec locality. This point of departure may be changed by agreement between the employer and the employee providing that it is located in a Québec locality.

Sector III

- The territory north of the 51st parallel, including Mistissini, Chisasibi, Oujé-Bougoumou, Radisson, ~~Schefferville, Kawawachikamach~~ and Waswanipi, with the exception of Fermont and the localities specified in Sectors IV and V;

SECTION II PREMIUM LEVELS

2.01 An employee working in one of the above-mentioned sectors receives an isolation and remoteness premium of:

Sectors	Rate 2020-04-01	Rate 2021-04-01	Rate as
	to 2021-03-31	to 2022-03-31	of 2022-04-01

Sector I	6,221	6,345	6,472

2.02 A part-time employee working in one of these sectors receives the premium prorated to the number of hours remunerated.

2.03 The amount of the isolation and remoteness premium is prorated to the length of the employee's assignment in the territory of an employer included in a sector described in Section I.

2.04 Subject to clause 2.08, the employer ceases to pay the isolation and remoteness premium established under this section if the employee and their dependants intentionally leave the territory during leave or a paid absence of more than thirty (30) days. The isolation and remoteness premium is continued as if the employee were at work, however, during absences for annual vacation leave, statutory holidays, sick leave, maternity leave, paternity leave, adoption leave, protective leave or leave resulting from an industrial accident or occupational disease.

An employee who makes use of the provisions of Article 34 (Leave with deferred pay plan) may, at their request, defer the payment of the isolation and remoteness premium on the same terms and conditions as those agreed upon for deferring their pay.

2.05 In the event that both spouses within the meaning of Article 1 work for the same employer or that they work for two (2) different employers in the public and para-public sectors, only one (1) of the two (2) is entitled to the premium for an employee with dependants if there are one or more dependants other than the spouse. If there is no dependant other than the spouse, each is entitled to the premium without dependants, notwithstanding the definition of the term "dependant" in clause 1.01 of Section I of this appendix.

SECTION III OTHER BENEFITS

3.01 The employer assumes the following expenses for any employees recruited in Québec more than fifty (50) kilometres from the locality in which they are called upon to perform their duties, providing that the locality is situated in one of the sectors described in clause 1.03 of Section I.

- a) the cost of transportation for the relocated employee and their dependants;
- b) the cost of transporting their personal effects and those of their dependants, up to:

- 228 kg for each adult and each child aged 12 or older;
 - 137 kg for each child under 12 years of age;
- c) the cost of transporting the employee's furniture, if applicable;
 - d) the cost of transporting a motor vehicle, if applicable, by road, boat or train;
 - e) the cost of storing the employee's furniture and personal effects, if applicable.

These expenses are borne by the employer between the point of departure and the locality to which the employee is assigned, and are reimbursed upon presentation of receipts.

In the case of an employee recruited from outside Québec, these expenses are borne by the employer without exceeding the equivalent of the costs between Montréal and the locality where the employee is assigned to perform their duties.

3.02 If an employee eligible for the provisions of sub-paragraphs b), c) and d) of clause 3.01 decides not to make immediate use of some or all of these provisions, they remain eligible to use them for two (2) years from the day on which their assignment begins.

3.03 An employee who leaves has the expenses provided in clause 3.01 above reimbursed.

Moreover, the weight of 228 kilograms in sub-paragraph b) of clause 3.01 is increased by 45 kilograms per year of service spent in the territory employed by the employer. This provision applies solely to the employee.

An employee is not, however entitled to reimbursement of these expenses if they resign from the position to go and work for another employer before having spent 45 calendar days in the territory.

3.04 These expenses are payable providing that the employee does not have them reimbursed by another plan, such as the federal labour mobility plan, and only in the following cases:

- a) during the employee's first assignment;
- b) at the time of a subsequent assignment or a transfer at the employer' or employee's request;
- c) when the contract is breached or the employee resigns or dies; in the case of sectors I and II, however, reimbursement is prorated to the time worked compared to a reference period of one (1) year, except in the case of death;
- d) when an employee obtains leave for studies; in this case, the expenses under clause 3.01 are also payable to an employee whose point of departure is situated 50 kilometres or less from the locality in which they were working.

3.05 In cases where both spouses within the meaning of Article 1 work for the same employer, only one (1) of the two (2) spouses is entitled to the benefits conferred by this section. Should one of the spouses receive equivalent benefits from another employer or another source for this move, the employer is not required to make any reimbursement.

SECTION IV TRIPS OUT

4.01 The employer reimburses employees recruited more than fifty (50) kilometres from the locality in which they work for the expenses inherent in the following trips out for the employee and their dependants:

- a) for localities in sectors III, with the exception of those listed in the following sub-paragraph, localities in sectors IV and V and the locality of Fermont: four (4) trips out per year for an employee without dependants, and three (3) trips out per year for an employee with dependants;
- b) for the localities of Clova, Havre-Saint-Pierre, Parent, Sanmaur and the Îles-de-la-Madeleine: one (1) trip out per year.

An employee who comes from a locality located more than fifty (50) kilometres from their place of assignment who has been recruited on the spot and who has obtained the right to trips out because of living as if they were married to a spouse working in the public sector continues to be entitled to the trips out provided under this article even if they lose their status of spouse within the meaning of Article 1.

4.02 The fact that the employee's spouse works for the employer or another employer in the public and para-public sectors does not entitle the employee to a greater number of trips out paid by the employer than the number provided for in the collective agreement.

In the case of trips out granted to an employee with dependants, it is not necessary for the trip out to be taken at the same time by all of the individuals entitled to it. The effect of this, however, must not be to grant the employee or their dependants more employer-paid trips out than the number provided for in the collective agreement.

4.03 These expenses are reimbursed upon presentation of receipts for the employee and their dependants up to the equivalent of each return air fare (by regularly scheduled flights or chartered flights, if made with the employer's consent) between the locality to which the employee has been assigned and the departure point located in Québec, or as far as Montréal.

In the case of an employee recruited from outside Québec, these expenses must not exceed the lesser of the following two (2) amounts:

- either the equivalent of a return air fare (regularly scheduled flight) between the locality where the employee is assigned and their domicile at the time of hiring;
- or the equivalent of a return air fare (regularly scheduled flight) between the locality where the employee is assigned and Montréal.

4.04 One (1) trip out may be used by a non-resident spouse, non-resident relative or friend to visit the employee living in one of the regions listed in clause 1.03. The provisions of this section on the reimbursement of expenses apply.

4.05 Subject to an agreement with the employer on the terms and conditions for recovery, an employee covered by the provisions of clause 4.01 may take a maximum of one (1) trip out in advance in the event of the death of a close relative living outside the locality in which the employee works. For the purposes of this clause, a close relative is defined as a spouse, child, father, mother, brother, sister, father-in-law, mother-in-law, daughter-in-law or son-in-law. In no case, however, may this early trip out give the employee or their dependants more trips out than the number to which they are entitled.

4.06 The distribution and scheduling of trips out provided for in 4.01, including arrangements for trips out when there are transportation delays that are not the employee's fault, may be the subject of an agreement between the union and the employer.

4.07 An employee entitled to reimbursement of expenses incurred for trips out receives, on March 1 of each year, compensation equivalent to fifty percent (50%) of the amount of the expenses incurred for the third (3rd) and fourth (4th) trip out in the previous calendar year. This annual compensation is paid with the pay cheque that covers March 1.

SECTION V REIMBURSEMENT OF EXPENSES IN TRANSIT

5.01 The employer reimburses employees for expenses incurred in transit (meals, taxis and lodging if necessary) for themselves and their dependants at the time of hiring and of any trip out provided by the collective agreement, upon presentation of receipts and on providing that these expenses are not borne by a carrier.

SECTION VI DEATH OF AN EMPLOYEE

6.01 In the event of the death of an employee or of one of their dependants, the employer pays the transportation for the patriation of the mortal remains. In addition, the employer reimburses dependants for expenses incurred for return travel between the locality of the deceased employee's assignment and their place of burial in Québec.

SECTION VII TRANSPORTATION OF FOOD

7.01 An employee who is unable to provide for their own food supplies in sectors V and IV in the localities of Kuujjuaq, Kuujjuarapik, Whapmagoostui, Radisson, Mistissini, Waswanipi and Chisasibi because there are no sources of supplies in their locality benefits from payment of the costs of transporting up to the following quantities of food:

- 727 kg per year per adult and per child aged 12 or older;
- 364 kg per year per child under 12.

This benefit is granted in accordance with one of the following formulas:

- a) either the employer takes responsibility for transporting the food from the most accessible or most economical source of supply in terms of transportation, and bears the cost directly;
- b) or the employer pays the employee an allowance equal to the cost which would have been incurred under the first formula.

7.02 An employee benefiting from the reimbursement of the cost of transporting food under clause 7.01 is entitled annually on March 1 of each year to an additional indemnity equal to sixty-six per cent (66%) of the amount of the expenses incurred for the transportation of food in the previous calendar year.

SECTION VIII VEHICLE AT AN EMPLOYEE'S DISPOSAL

8.01 In all localities in which private vehicles are forbidden, the availability of vehicles for employees may be covered by local arrangements.

SECTION IX HOUSING

9.01 The obligations and practices related to the employer supplying the employee with a dwelling at the time of hiring are only maintained in the places where they already exist.

9.02 The rents charged to employees benefiting from housing in sectors V, IV and III and in Fermont are maintained at their December 31, 1988 rates.

9.03 At the union's request, the employer explains how housing is allocated. Similarly, at the union's request, the employer informs the union of existing maintenance measures.

SECTION X RETENTION PREMIUM

10.01 An employee working in the localities of Sept-Îles (including Clarke City), Port-Cartier, Galix or Rivière-Pentecôte receives a retention premium equal to eight per cent (8%) of their annual pay.

SECTION XI PROVISIONS OF PREVIOUS COLLECTIVE AGREEMENTS

The employer agrees to renew the agreements on trips out for employees hired from less than fifty (50) km away from Schefferville or Fermont for all employees who were entitled to them on December 31, 1988.

However, for an employee who is entitled to twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty-four (24) or twenty-five (25) days of annual vacation, each day of work equals 1/224th, 1/223rd, 1/222nd, 1/221st or 1/220th of a year of experience.

However, the year or fraction of a year of service acquired as well as the number of days of work accumulated in 1983 is not credited for the purpose of determining the date on which an employee advances one echelon on the pay scale.

1.07 Despite clause 1.01, employees currently in the service of the employer as well as those hired subsequently are not credited with experience acquired in 1983 for purposes of classification on the pay scale.

1.01 An employee who on the date this collective agreement is signed is entitled to one (1) weekend of three (3) consecutive days off in each two (2)-week period continues to be entitled to this additional day of paid leave.

For the additional day of paid leave provided for in the preceding paragraph, an employee receives remuneration equal to what they would receive if they were at work.

1.02 For any absence for which an employee receives remuneration, benefits or an indemnity, however, the pay¹ or the pay used as the reference for determining such a benefit or indemnity, as the case may be, is reduced by the percentage of the night shift premium that would apply to them under paragraph B of clause 9.08~~6~~ of the collective agreement.

The above paragraph does not apply in the case of the following absences:

- a) statutory holidays;
- b) annual vacation leave;
- c) maternity, paternity or adoption leave;
- d) absence for disability, from the sixth (6th) working day on;
- e) absence for employment injury recognized as such in accordance with the provisions of the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases (CQLR c A-3.001);
- f) additional day of leave with pay as provided in clause 1.01 of this appendix.

1.03 When the conversion of the night shift premium into paid time off exceeds twenty-four (24) days, the employee receives, no later than December 15 of each year, an amount corresponding to pay equal to the number of unused days exceeding twenty-four (24) days and calculated as follows:

² When an employee is entitled to more than 20 days of annual leave, the number “204” is reduced by the number of days exceeding 20.

For the first (1st) year of application, this amount is proportional to the number of days between the date on which this collective agreement comes into force and November 30, 2021~~14~~ divided by 365 days.

Should an employee leave the position or change status or shift of work, the amounts due are calculated using the formula given above, taking into account the number of days worked between December 1 and the date of departure or change of status or shift, as the case may be.

1.04 An employee covered by this appendix may resume a full schedule of work in accordance with terms and conditions to be agreed upon by the employer, the union and the employee.

1.05 An employee entitled to paid time off under this appendix retains full-time employee status.

1.06 The provisions of Article 20 (Paid statutory holidays) of this collective agreement apply to employees covered by this appendix.

1.07 An employee covered by this appendix is not entitled to the night shift premium under clause 9.08~~6~~ of the collective agreement unless they work overtime on the night shift.

APPENDIX M

CONTRACT FOR SERVICES (CONTRACTING OUT) IN PRIVATE INSTITUTIONS UNDER AGREEMENT

The provisions of this appendix apply to private institutions under agreement (EPCs) and replace Article 29 of the collective agreement.

Any contract between the employer and a third party that directly or indirectly takes away some or all of the duties performed by employees covered by the bargaining unit oblige the employer to the following vis-à-vis the union and employees:

- 1- The employer notifies the third party of the existence of the bargaining unit and the collective agreement and its content.
- 2- There may not be any layoffs, dismissals or permanent layoffs as a direct or indirect result of such contract.
- 3- Any changes in the working conditions of an employee affected by such contract must be in accordance with the provisions of this collective agreement.

The termination of a contract for services (contracting out) may not be motivated or mainly caused by a subcontractor's employees exercising any of their rights whatsoever under the Labour Code (CQLR c C-27).

In the case of work performed by employees in housekeeping, food (kitchen and cafeteria) and nursing services, contracts for services to be awarded or renewed by the employer must provide that the pay and benefits to be paid by a subcontractor to its employees working in the employer's institution are generally comparable to market rates in the health sector for similar job titles.

The rates of pay and benefits of employees of a subcontractor whose rates of pay and benefits are determined by a collective agreement are presumed to be generally comparable.

Moreover, the employer may not award, renew or terminate any contract for services in housekeeping, food (kitchen and cafeteria) and nursing services without notifying the union at least thirty (30) days in advance.

APPENDIX N

- Article 6 - professional secrecy.

ARTICLE 2 PRIOR EXPERIENCE

(This article replaces clauses 17.01 to 17.04 of the collective agreement.)

2.01 An employee currently in the employer's service or hired in the future is, for pay purposes only, classified on the basis of the length of their previous work in one of the job titles stipulated in this appendix and taking into account valid experience in a comparable job title, as the case may be, providing that they have not ceased to practise their profession for more than five (5) consecutive years. An employee who left the profession more than five (5) years ago may not be classified immediately at the last echelon of the pay scale.

Any fraction of a year recognized under the preceding paragraph is counted for the purpose of determining an employee's date of echelon advancement.

2.02 At the time of hiring, the employer must require an attestation of this experience from the employee, who obtains it from the employer where the experience was acquired. If this is not done, the employer may not hold a prescribed time limit against the employee. If it is impossible for the employee to provide a written attestation of their experience, they may, after demonstrating that it is impossible, declare their experience under oath, which then has the same value as a written attestation.

2.03 Despite clause 2.01, employees now in the service of the employer and those hired subsequently cannot be credited with experience acquired in 1983 for the purpose of classification on the pay scale.

ARTICLE 3 SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATED TO ARTICLE 15 (JOB SECURITY)

For the purpose of applying clause 15.05 (comparable position), the job titles covered in this appendix are deemed to be included in the “nursing” sector of work.

ARTICLE 4 OVERTIME

(This article replaces clause 19.02~~3~~ of the collective agreement.)

An employee who works overtime is remunerated for the number of hours worked as follows:

- 1- time off in lieu of overtime within the following thirty (30) days; the local parties may agree on any other period of time;
- 2- if the employer is unable to grant the time off in lieu of overtime, the overtime is paid at the straight-time rate.

Overtime after forty (40) hours of work entails either an increase of 50% in the regular hourly rate that the employee is paid for these hours, or time off in lieu of the overtime equal to 150% of the length of the overtime worked, as the case may be.

Despite the preceding, the method of remuneration of overtime provided for in clause 19.03 applies to nurse clinicians (1911), nurse clinician assistant head nurses and nurse clinician assistants to the immediate superior (1912) who work in services where care is delivered twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week.

These rules also apply to part-time employees.

ARTICLE 5 PROVISIONS ON REMUNERATION

Integration into the pay scales of employees hired after the date on which the collective agreement comes into force

5.01 An employee hired after the date on which this collective agreement comes into force is integrated at the echelon corresponding to their years of experience in accordance with Article 2 of this appendix and taking into account the provisions of Article 8 of this appendix~~clauses 5.07 to 5.13 of Appendix G~~, if applicable, all in accordance with the rules on echelon advancement.

5.02 An employee without experience in one of the job titles stipulated in this appendix is integrated at the first (1st) echelon, subject to the provisions of Article 8 of this appendix~~clauses 5.07 to 5.13 of Appendix G~~.

Integration into the pay scales of employees promoted after the date on which the collective agreement comes into force

5.03 An employee promoted to a position with a job title covered by this appendix is paid the rate of pay for this new job title that is immediately higher than what they were paid in the job title they are leaving, taking into account the additional remuneration for post-graduate training provided in Article 5 of Appendix D, if applicable.

An assistant head nurse or assistant to the immediate superior who obtains a position as a nurse clinician continues to be paid the remuneration they received before the promotion (pay plus, if applicable, the additional remuneration for post-graduate training provided in Article 5 of Appendix D) until they arrive at an echelon in their new pay scale that provides pay equal to or greater than the remuneration they received before the promotion.

5.04 If during the twelve (12) months following each increase in the pay scale an employee in one of the job titles covered by clause 1.01 is paid less than what they would have received in their former job title (taking into account, if applicable, additional remuneration for post-graduate training), the employee is paid what they would have received in their former job title, as of the date on which their pay falls behind until their echelon advancement on the pay scale. If, however, that echelon advancement on the pay scale results in a pay that is less than what they would have received in their former job title, they continue to receive the pay for the former job title until their next echelon advancement.

ARTICLE 6 SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR CERTAIN ROLES

6.01 A community health nurse,¹ assistant head nurse or assistant to the immediate superior who obtains a master's degree in nursing, a bachelor's degree in nursing or a bachelor of science involving at least two (2) recognized certificates in the field of nursing after the date on which the collective agreement comes into force is classified as a nurse clinician, nurse clinician assistant head nurse or nurse clinician assistant to the immediate superior, as the case may be, as of the date on which they obtain the degree.

The same goes for an employee who on May 14, 2006 was pursuing studies to complete a third (3rd) certificate to obtain such a bachelor's degree. If an employee who on May 14, 2006 was pursuing studies had completed or begun studies for a second (2nd) certificate in a bachelor of science program, the third (3rd) certificate must be a recognized nursing certificate listed in clause 7.03, unless the person already had two (2) recognized certificates in nursing.

The employee is responsible for providing a copy of the degrees obtained in order to qualify to apply for this job with either their current employer or a future employer.

ARTICLE 8 RECOGNITION OF PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT STUDIES AFTER COMPLETION OF AN UNDERGRADUATE UNIVERSITY DEGREE IN THE LIST OF JOB TITLES, JOB DESCRIPTIONS AND SALARY RATES AND SCALE IN THE HEALTH AND SOCIAL SERVICES NETWORK (LIST OF JOB TITLES)

8.01 This refers to academic training relevant to the profession practised, in addition to the undergraduate university degree set out in the List of job titles.

8.02 “Undergraduate university degree” means that an employee has completed the studies necessary to obtain an undergraduate degree in accordance with the system in effect when the studies were completed.

8.03 One year of studies (or its equivalent, 30 credits) successfully completed in the same discipline or a discipline related to that mentioned in the employee’s job description is equal to one (1) year of professional experience.

8.04 However, a master’s degree involving forty-five (45) or more credits and less than sixty (60) credits successfully completed in the same discipline or a discipline related to that mentioned in the employee’s job description is equal to one-and-one-half (1½) years of professional experience.

8.05 Only the number of years usually required to complete the studies undertaken may be counted.

8.06 A maximum of three (3) years of studies may be credited for purposes of experience.

8.07 On their date for echelon advancement, an employee is entitled, if applicable, to advance one (1) additional echelon in accordance with this article.

In applying clause 8.04, however, an employee who in the case of an annual advancement is entitled to recognition of one-half (½) of a year of experience because of the fact that they have successfully completed a master’s degree by their regular advancement date advances an echelon at the end of a period of six (6) months following their regular echelon advancement date. This paragraph has the effect of modifying the employee’s regular echelon advancement date.

8.08 An employee who holds a master's degree in the same discipline or a discipline related to that mentioned in the employee's job description, when the job description requires a bachelor's degree, receives additional remuneration of 1.5% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale once they have completed one (1) year or more of experience at the top echelon of their pay scale.

An employee who holds both a master's degree and a doctoral degree in the same discipline or a discipline related to that mentioned in the employee's job description, when the job description requires a bachelor's degree, receives additional remuneration of 1.5% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale for each year of experience completed at the top echelon of the pay scale, to a maximum of 3%.

An employee who holds a doctoral degree in the same discipline or a discipline related to that mentioned in the employee's job description, when the job description requires a master's degree, receives additional remuneration of 1.5% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale once they have completed one (1) year or more of experience at the top echelon of their pay scale, to a maximum of 3%.

ARTICLE 9 SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR SPECIALTY NURSE PRACTITIONER CANDIDATES

9.02 A specialty nurse practitioner candidate who must take their specialist certificate exam a second time receives the pay for their new job title retroactively to the date they pass the exam.

APPENDIX O

RECOGNITION OF ADDITIONAL EDUCATION

ARTICLE 1 SCOPE

The provisions of this appendix apply to employees whose job title requires a college studies diploma (DEC) and who are classified in the technicians group (Code 2000) in the collective agreement, except for employees covered by Appendix D.

ARTICLE 2 POST-GRADUATE TRAINING

2.01 The successful completion of any recognized program of post-graduate studies worth fifteen (15) or more units (credits) but less than thirty (30) units (credits) is equal to one (1) year of service for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale or additional remuneration of 1.5% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale, as the case may be.

2.02 The successful completion of any recognized program of post-graduate studies worth thirty (30) units (credits) is equal to two (2) years of service for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale or additional remuneration of 3% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale, as the case may be.

2.03 For the purpose of applying clauses 2.01 and 2.02, an employee who uses more than one program of post-graduate studies in their specialty has one (1) or two (2) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement for each program, as the case may be, up to a maximum of four (4) years of service for all programs, or receives additional remuneration of a maximum of 6% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale.

2.04 When an employee has a recognized bachelor's degree, they have four (4) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement or receive additional remuneration of a maximum of 6% of the rate of pay for the top echelon on the pay scale, as the case may be.

If an employee uses more than one post-graduate program in the specialty in which they work, they have one (1) or two (2) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement on the pay scale for each applicable program or are entitled to additional remuneration of a maximum of 6% of the rate of pay at the top echelon of the pay scale, as the case may be. Once the employee obtains the bachelor's degree, they have two (2) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement or receive additional remuneration of 3% of the rate of pay at the top echelon on the pay scale, as the case may be.

2.05 When an employee has a recognized master's degree, they have six (6) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement on their pay scale or receive additional remuneration of a maximum of 6% of the rate of pay at the top echelon on the pay scale, as the case may be.

2.06 To entitle an employee to the additional echelons on the pay scale provided for in the preceding clauses, the post-graduate training must be related to the specialty in which the employee works. To entitle an employee to the additional remuneration, the post-graduate training must be required by the employer. If an employee uses more than one program of post-graduate studies in the specialty in which they work, they have one (1) or two (2) years of service recognized for the purpose of echelon advancement for each applicable program or receive additional remuneration of up to a maximum of 6% of the rate of pay at the top echelon on the pay scale, as the case may be.

2.07 Subject to clause 2.03, the post-graduate training provided for in this collective agreement acquired on top of basic training cannot be cumulative for the purpose of advancing on the pay scale or obtaining additional remuneration, as the case may be. An employee only benefits from the diploma or degree entitling them to the most years of service for the purpose of echelon advancement.

2.08 An employee who has benefited from additional echelons for post-graduate training receives the additional remuneration for the post-graduate training once they have completed one (1) year or more of experience at the top echelon of their pay scale and when the post-graduate training is required by the employer according to the provisions of clause 2.09.

When an employee holding a position for which post-graduate training is required cannot benefit from all the years of service for the purpose of echelon advancement to which their post-graduate training entitles them because their combined experience and post-graduate training already puts them at the top echelon of their pay scale, for each echelon that is no longer available to them the employee receives additional remuneration equal to 1.5% of the rate of pay at the top of their pay scale until this additional remuneration corresponds to the total number of echelons to which they are entitled for the post-graduate training without, however, exceeding 6%.

An employee who is at the top echelon solely on the basis of experience benefits from the additional remuneration for post-graduate training when it is required by the employer in accordance with the provisions of clause 2.09.

2.09 For the purposes of applying this article, the employer has six (6) months from when this collective agreement comes into force to identify the list of post-graduate programs of studies deemed to be required by service and job title that entitle employees to additional remuneration.

ARTICLE 3 RECOGNIZED POST-GRADUATE TRAINING

3.01 The list of post-graduate programs of studies and their relative worth recognized under the terms of the collective agreement that came into force on May 22, 2000, as well as programs of studies recognized by the Ministère de l'Éducation et de l'Enseignement supérieur are recognized for the purposes of applying this appendix.

3.02 Any diplomas or degrees issued outside the Province of Québec must be validated by a certificate of equivalence issued by the authorized government agency.

B) Conversion of days of leave into premiums

- The maximum number of sick days that can be accumulated annually drops from 9.6 to 5.
- Statutory holidays may be reduced by at least 8 days and no more than 11 days.
- The days of leave freed up are converted into a premium added to the hourly rate for the job title. Depending on the number of days of leave converted, the percentage varies in accordance with the following chart:

Days converted	Percentage of premium
12.6	4.3
13.6	4.9
14.6	5.5
15.6	6.0

C) Modifications resulting from the new schedule

Full-time employees continue to be governed by the rules for full-time employees.

In addition to benefits such as statutory holidays and sick leave that are taken into account for the purpose of calculating the percentage rate of compensation, the other benefits to be established in proportion to the new duration of work are:

- weekly premiums;
- floating days off;
- annual vacation leave.

	Former schedule	New schedule
Less than 17 years of service	20 days	16 days
17 or 18 years of service	21 days	16.8 days
19 or 20 years of service	22 days	17.6 days
21 or 22 years of service	23 days	18.4 days
23 or 24 years of service	24 days	19.2 days
25 years of service or more	25 days	20 days

The pay to be taken into account in calculating any benefit, allowance and so on is the pay provided for the new schedule, including the premium for converted days of leave, in particular for calculating:

- maternity, paternity and adoption leave benefits;
- disability insurance benefits;
- leave with deferred pay.

Despite the preceding paragraph, layoff benefits for a full-time employee must be equal to the pay provided for their job title or their off-the-scale rate of pay, as the case may be, at the time of the layoff. Evening, night split-shift, seniority, responsibility and inconvenience premiums not incurred are excluded from the basis for calculating layoff benefits.

The waiting period for disability benefits for a full-time employee is four (4) working days.

For the purposes of qualifying for overtime, a regular day of work for a full-time employee or a part-time employee replacing a full-time employee is the day of work provided in the new schedule.

A regular work week for a full-time employee or a part-time employee replacing a full-time employee for the entire week is the work week provided in the new schedule.

The regular work week for a full-time employee or a part-time employee doing replacement work on both types of schedules is the work week for a five (5)-day schedule provided for the job title.

D) Terms and conditions

The model chosen on the basis of the provisions in paragraphs A, B and C and its duration and terms and conditions of implementation must be agreed upon by the local parties. The model selected is only applicable if all employees in the targeted field of implementation agree to participate. Where the activities of the service allow for it, the local parties may agree to make the four (4)-day schedule available on an individual basis.

The terms and conditions to be agreed upon locally include in particular:

- a) the field of implementation (service);
- b) implementation for a minimum period of one (1) year, renewable;
- c) the possibility for either party to end the arrangement on sixty (60) days' notice before the end of the implementation period;
- d) the possibility for the parties to end the agreement at any time by mutual consent;
- e) the possibility of splitting one of the weeks of annual leave into days;
- f) what is to be done with the hours of work freed up by implementation of the model.

E) Any full-time employee affected by this appendix may continue to participate in the pension plan as if they were full-time, in which case a full year of service and the corresponding pensionable earnings are credited to them. To this end, the local parties may agree on terms and conditions for payment of the employee's contributions to the pension plan. If they do not agree, the employee pays the full amount of contributions normally due for the leave time.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR CONTRIBUTIONS TECHNICIANS AND SOCIAL AIDES

1.01 An employee with the job title of social aide is paid according to the echelon for their job title corresponding to their years of experience in the same or a comparable job title, taking into consideration any valid experience acquired in another job, as the case may be, and taking into account the provisions of clauses 1.02 and 1.03, if applicable.

Despite the preceding paragraph, employees who are currently working for the employer and those hired subsequently cannot be credited with experience acquired in 1983 for the purpose of integration into the pay scale.

1.02 The first echelon of the social aide job title corresponds to eleven (11) years of education. One additional echelon is granted for each additional year of education, up to a maximum of two (2) additional echelons.

1.03 A social aide who is registered in a CEGEP course in social work techniques recognized by the Ministère de l'Éducation et de l'Enseignement supérieur is entitled to an additional echelon on the pay scale for their job.

1.04 A social aide who obtains the diploma of social work or social assistance technician is integrated into the pay scale for social ~~work assistance~~ technicians at the echelon corresponding to the rate of pay immediately higher than the rate of pay they were receiving or, if it is more advantageous for the employee, the echelon corresponding to their years of experience in accordance with the provisions of clause 1.01, except as regards the application of clauses 1.02 and 1.03.

1.05 An employee working as a social aide maintains their years of experience already recognized by the employer as a vested right. Thus, years of experience already recognized for an employee cannot be revoked for any reason.

1.06 If the number of echelons on the pay scale allows it, each time an employee completes one year of service in their job title, they advance to the next higher echelon.

For the purpose of applying the preceding paragraph, each day of work by a part-time employee represents 1/225th of a year of experience. However, for an employee who is entitled to twenty-one (21), twenty-two (22), twenty-three (23), twenty-four (24) or twenty-five (25) days of annual leave, each day of work equals 1/224th, 1/223rd, 1/222nd, 1/221st or 1/220th of a year of experience respectively.

However, any year or fraction of a year of service acquired, as well as days of work acquired in 1983 are not credited for the purpose of determining the date of an employee's echelon advancement.

1.07 Each time a social aide or a contributions technician taking courses in social work, sociology, criminology, psychology or sex therapy successfully completes thirty (30) credits of their program of studies, they obtain two (2) additional echelons in their job title.

APPENDIX V

SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR NURSING AND CARDIO-RESPIRATORY CARE EMPLOYEES

Article 1 Scope

1.01 The provisions of this appendix apply to employees in the nursing and cardio-respiratory care class of personnel, with the exception of employees who hold the job title of nursing extern, respiratory therapy extern or candidate for admission to the practice of the nursing profession.

These provisions do not, however, apply to employees in institutions where the local parties have decided by agreement to opt out of implementing the incumbency process.

This agreement only applies to groups of job titles that have twenty (20) or fewer employees calculated in full-time equivalents (ETCs). The groups are as follows:

- nursing job titles;
- nursing assistant job titles;
- respiratory therapist job titles;
- clinical perfusionist.

An agreement aimed at waiving the incumbency process agreed upon pursuant to the 2006-2010 collective agreement continues to apply, providing that there are still twenty (20) or fewer equivalent to full-time employees (ETCs) in the above-mentioned groups of job titles. If the number of employees grows to more than twenty (20) in one of the groups of job titles, the agreement lapses.

1.02 An employee who meets one of the following criteria may be exempted from the provisions of this appendix:

- holds a position corresponding to the terms of this appendix in another institution in the health and social services sector;
- has a teaching load in a recognized educational institution;
- is fifty-five (55) years of age or older;
- is taking full-time studies at a recognized educational institution in a discipline that is the same as or related to the discipline stated in their job description.

The parties may agree in local arrangements to add other criteria for waiving the provisions of this appendix and stipulate the terms and conditions applicable to employees concerned by these criteria.

Article 2

2.01 (This clause replaces clause 1.03 of the collective agreement.)

Part-time employee:

“Part-time employee” means any employee who works fewer hours than the number provided by their job title. However, a part-time employee holds a position that involves at least fourteen (14) shifts of work per period of twenty-eight (28) days.¹ An employee who works the total number of hours provided for their job title on an exceptional basis continues to have part-time employee status.

2.02 (This clause replaces the first (1st) paragraph of clause 15.02 of the collective agreement.)

An employee with less than two (2) years of seniority who is laid off is entitled to employment priority in the health and social services sector. Their name is put on the list of the Service national de main-d'oeuvre (SNMO – national workforce service) and they are reassigned in accordance with the procedures set out in this article.

2.03 An employee with job security who refuses a position or retraining without a valid reason is deemed to have resigned.

2.04 An employee covered by a special measure provided for in Article 14 of the collective agreement who refuses to choose a position through the bumping procedure or otherwise, or who refuses to be transferred, is deemed to have resigned.

2.05 (This clause replaces the provisions on the concept of available position in clause 15.05 of this collective agreement.)

For the purpose of applying this article, a full-time or part-time position is deemed to be available when there are no applicants for the position or when none of the applicants meets the normal requirements of the job in accordance with the provisions on voluntary transfers, or when in accordance with the provisions on voluntary transfers, the position should be awarded to a part-time employee who has less seniority than an employee covered by clause 15.03 and registered with the SNMO.

An institution may not hire a part-time employee with less seniority than an employee covered by clause 15.03 who is registered with the SNMO, or hire an outside candidate for an available full-time or part-time position as long as employees covered by clause 15.03 who are registered with the SNMO can meet the normal requirements of the position.

2.06 The last paragraph of clause 22.18 and the last two (2) paragraphs of clauses 22.29A and 25.09 do not apply to employees covered by this appendix.

¹ The employer has six (6) months from the date the collective agreement comes into force to upgrade the positions of part-time employees from a minimum of eight (8) shifts per period of twenty-eight (28) days to a minimum of fourteen (14) shifts per period of twenty-eight (28) days, as stipulated in section III of Letter of Agreement no. 35.

ARTICLE 2 PROBATION PERIOD

ARTICLE 4 LIFE, HEALTH AND DISABILITY INSURANCE PLAN

The employee is not covered by the life, health and disability insurance plan and receives the same benefits as a part-time employee not covered by the plan.

APPENDIX Y

ATYPICAL SCHEDULES

Local parties may, by agreement, establish atypical schedules that have more hours per day than the regular day of work without, however, exceeding twelve (12) hours of work.

Employees on an atypical schedule may not under any circumstances receive benefits that are more advantageous than those of employees on regular schedules.

Terms and conditions

The following provisions are aimed at adapting the corresponding national provisions in the collective agreement.

1. Statutory holidays

On July 1 of each year, statutory holidays are converted into hours using the following formula:

$$\left(\frac{\text{Number of hours per regular week of work stipulated for a full-time position}}{5 \text{ days}} \right) \times 13 \text{ statutory holidays}$$

If an employee goes onto an atypical schedule after July 1, the number of hours obtained by using the formula above is reduced by the number of hours equal to the statutory holidays already taken since that date.

For an absence during which statutory holidays are not accumulated, the number of hours calculated using the formula is reduced by the number of hours equal to one (1) regular day of work multiplied by the number of statutory holidays that occur during the absence.

When a statutory holiday is taken, the employee is paid in accordance with the number of hours scheduled for the day of work on the atypical schedule, and the number of hours calculated using the formula is reduced by the number of hours thus paid.

When a statutory holiday coincides with sick leave of no more than twelve (12) months, the employee is paid in accordance with the provisions of clause 20.04, and the number of hours calculated using the formula is reduced by a number of hours equal to one (1) regular day of work.

For full-time employees, the employer withholds enough hours to pay the National Holiday as a statutory holiday.

2. Other leave or time off

The days of leave or time off listed below are converted into hours using the following formula:

$$\left(\frac{\text{Number of hours per regular work week stipulated for a full-time position}}{5 \text{ days}} \right) \times \left(\text{Number of days stipulated in the collective agreement for the time off in question} - \text{Number of days of time off already used} \right)$$

The time off covered here includes:

- annual vacation leave;
- floating days off;
- the bank of sick leave;
- some leave under parental rights:
 - special leave (clause 22.20);
 - paternity leave (clause 22.21);
 - adoption leave (clause 22.22).

When the leave or time off is taken, the employee is paid in accordance with the number of hours scheduled for the day of work on the atypical schedule, and the number of hours calculated using the formula is reduced by the number of hours thus paid.

3. Leave for union work

When the number of hours of leave for union work exceeds the number of hours in the regular work week provided for a full-time position divided into five (5) days, the bank of leave for union work is reduced by the equivalent in days, using the following formula:

$$\text{Number of hours of leave for union work on the day of the atypical schedule} \div \left(\frac{\text{Number of hours in the regular work week for a full-time position}}{5 \text{ days}} \right)$$

4. Disability insurance

The waiting period equals the number of hours provided for the regular work week.

5. Premiums payable per shift of work

The premiums payable per shift of work are converted into hourly premiums by dividing them by the number of hours in the regular work week provided for a full-time position divided by five (5) days.

6. Weekly premiums and supplements

Weekly premiums and supplements are converted into hourly premiums and supplements by dividing them by the number of hours in the regular work week provided for a full-time position.

7. Rest period

When an employee's work schedule provides for a day of between eight (8) and twelve (12) hours inclusively, the employee is entitled to a prorated number of minutes of rest, based on the employee being entitled to thirty (30) minutes of rest per eight (8)-hour day. These minutes of rest are divided into at least two (2) periods of rest.

8. Calculation of minimum availability for enhanced evening and night shift premiums, enhanced critical care premiums and enhanced specific critical care premiums

For the purpose of calculating the minimum availability of sixteen (16) days per twenty-eight (28) days for the enhanced evening and night shift premiums, enhanced critical care premiums and enhanced specific critical care premiums, the number of hours of availability offered and honoured by an employee including the hours of their position during the twenty-eight (28)-day period is divided by the number of hours provided for a shift of work in a regular work week.

9. Overtime

For the purpose of qualifying for overtime, the regular day of work for a full-time or part-time employee or an employee working on a replacement assignment is the one provided on the new schedule. The regular work week for a full-time employee or an employee replacing them fully is the one provided on the new schedule. For an employee who does replacement work on two (2) kinds of schedules, the regular work week is the one regularly scheduled for the job title.

An employee on overtime cannot work more than four (4) hours following a twelve (12)-hour shift.

10. Accumulation of experience by a part-time employee

When the number of hours of work differs from the number provided for a regular day of work for the job title, a day of experience on an atypical schedule is calculated in accordance with the hours worked compared to the number of hours in a regular day. An employee cannot, however, accumulate more than one (1) year of experience per calendar year.

11. Payment of hours that are not used

Within one (1) month of the end of the period provided for taking the time off in question under the collective agreement, an employee who has not used all the hours of time off converted under this appendix is paid for unused hours that do not allow for one (1) full day off with pay.

APPENDIX Z

SPECIAL CONDITIONS FOR EMPLOYEES OF THE HÔPITAL RIVIÈRE-DES-PRAIRIES¹

ARTICLE 1 SCOPE

To the extent that they are not otherwise modified by this appendix, the provisions of the collective agreement apply to assistant stationary engineers, stationary engineers and refrigeration machinery mechanics who work in their trade and are employees within the meaning of clause 1.01 of the collective agreement.

ARTICLE 2 FLOATING DAYS OFF

2.01 On July 1 of each year, a full-time employee covered by this appendix is entitled to one half (1/2) day off for each month worked, up to a maximum of five (5) days per year.

For an employee who begins working in psychiatry after July 1, this accumulation is divided in two (2) and is credited on January 1 and July 1.

For calculation purposes, an employee concerned who begins working between the first (1st) and the fifteenth (15th) day of the month inclusively is deemed to have worked one (1) full month.

2.02 An employee who leaves their assignment in a psychiatric setting is paid for all days off thus acquired but not taken, in accordance with the allowance they would receive if they took the days off at that time.

2.03 A part-time employee is not entitled to these floating days off and instead receives monetary compensation equal to 2.2% of:

- pay, supplements and premiums,² paid with each pay cheque;
- the pay that they would have received if they had not been absent on unpaid sick leave when scheduled to work in their position or on an assignment, paid with each pay cheque;
- - the basic pay used to establish maternity, paternity, adoption or protective leave allowances, paid with each pay cheque.

2.04 An employee who, on the date the collective agreement comes into force, received the premium for having taken the orientation course on dealing with psychiatric users continues to receive this weekly premium as an acquired privilege. The weekly premium is as follows:

² Weekend, evening and night shift, enhanced evening and night shift and shift rotation premiums are not taken into account.

REGARDING THE DEINSTITUTIONALIZATION OF PERSONS WITH AN INTELLECTUAL IMPAIRMENT OR MENTAL PROBLEMS

ARTICLE 1 PURPOSE

1.01 This letter of agreement is concluded for the purpose of specifying the conditions applicable to employees affected by deinstitutionalization.

1.02 It applies when positions are abolished or when employees who hold positions are transferred as a direct or indirect result of some or all of the users being discharged from an institution.

1.03 It also applies to employees who hold a position in a living unit or a department covered by the preceding paragraph when other measures are taken concurrently with the effect of abolishing positions or causing the transfer of employees.

1.04 If a residential facility created in the framework of deinstitutionalization is closed partly or completely, this agreement also applies to the employees if the closing is the result of a second deinstitutionalization, as defined in this article.

1.05 The collective agreement continues to apply, subject to the following provisions.

ARTICLE 2 NEEDS ASSESSMENT

2.01 The parties agree that one or more multidisciplinary teams composed in part of the workers directly involved with users is set up for each living unit and/or department, etc.

2.02 The team assesses needs, develops the intervention plan required for each user and, if applicable, recommends the kind of residential facility appropriate for each of them.

2.03 The employer promises to take the recommendations of the multidisciplinary team into account.

ARTICLE 3 EMPLOYMENT

3.01 The provisions of this article are in addition to those already provided by the collective agreement and apply to all employees who hold positions, regardless of their seniority.

3.02 Employees are covered by one or another of the clauses in Article 14, with the exception of 14.18, and are entitled to the related provisions.

3.03 Employees who do not have a job after the bumping procedure have their name registered on the replacement team.

3.04 The provisions set out in clause 15.01 and the provisions on the maintenance of benefits under clause 15.03, as well as the provisions of clause 15.05 on the reassignment procedure within the institution, apply to these employees.

3.05 In such cases, the employer may offer them an updating or retraining program for the purpose of facilitating their reassignment to a position that eventually becomes available in the institution or, following agreement between the local parties, in another institution, as the case may be; in the latter case, reassigned employees carries all the rights conferred by this collective agreement with them to the new employer.

3.06 Employees covered by the preceding clauses who have valid reasons for doing so may refuse to take part in any retraining program necessary to perform the duties assigned to them. If they do not have a valid reason, they are deemed to belong to the institution's recall list.

3.07 These updating or retraining programs are free of charge for the employees affected and they continue to receive remuneration equal to what they would receive if they were at work.

ARTICLE 4 PROVISIONS ON APPLICATION

4.01 The employer and employees who have not been reassigned in accordance with the provisions of Article 3 may agree on special arrangements, such as severance pay, early retirement, etc. Such arrangements are valid once they have been approved by the union in writing.

4.02 In the context of the application of this letter of agreement, employees transferred outside a fifty (50)-kilometre radius are entitled to a mobility premium equal to three (3) months of pay, plus reimbursement of moving expenses as provided by the collective agreement.

To be entitled to such reimbursements, the move must take place within a maximum of six (6) months of when the employee takes up their new duties.

4.03 Any disagreement over the application of this letter of agreement is subject to the arbitration procedure provided by the collective agreement.

In the event, however, of a disagreement over the application of Article 2, the local parties agree to submit the case to an arbitrator within ten (10) days of the employer's decision on the individualized plan of services. The arbitrator has five (5) days from when the grievance is filed to render a decision.

The arbitrator's role with respect to Article 2 consists of verifying whether the consultation process provided by this article has been carried out in a valid way. The arbitrator may not examine or consider individualized plans of services or intervention plans.

If the arbitrator deems that the consultation process was not carried out in a valid way, they order the employer to meet with the multidisciplinary team and receive the team's recommendations.

The time limits provided in this section are mandatory and are part of the process leading to the discharge of the user.

Designation of arbitrators to hear a disagreement concerning Article 2:

Within forty-five (45) days of when the collective agreement comes into force, the local parties agree to designate one or more persons who may eventually be called upon to hear a grievance or grievances on Article 2.

LETTER OF AGREEMENT 11

REGARDING TRIAL PROJECTS

The purpose of this letter of agreement is to agree on a means of enabling the negotiating parties at the national level to oversee the implementation of trial projects that they decide to initiate in institutions. These trial projects are aimed at testing potential changes to collective agreements reached by the negotiating parties at the national level or doing preliminary work on potential solutions that they wish to validate.

I - NATIONAL PROCESS FOR OVERSEEING TRIAL PROJECTS

For the purposes of overseeing trial projects, the negotiating parties at the national level agree to the following:

1. The negotiating parties at the national level negotiate and approve the matters on which they wish to conduct trial projects.
2. The negotiating parties at the national level negotiate and approve a guide for the investigation and analysis of problems in regard to the matters chosen. The guide includes a definition of indicators and is sent to the local parties that they identify.
3. The local parties set up joint committees whose mandate is to oversee the trial projects and see to their implementation.
4. The joint committees created by the local parties or, in their absence, each local party report to the negotiating parties at the national level, which negotiate and approve the solutions following an analysis of the data compiled from the investigation and analysis guides and the reports of the local joint committees or local parties. The time limit for producing these reports is agreed upon by the negotiating parties at the national level, depending on the nature of the trial project.
5. The solutions approved under paragraph 4 are implemented on an experimental basis in certain centres identified by the negotiating parties at the national level. These solutions are implemented in the centres for a period agreed upon by the negotiating parties at the national level.
6. At the end of this period, the local parties have one (1) month to conduct a joint assessment of the results of the solutions tested and report to the negotiating parties at the national level.
7. Following an analysis of the reports produced by the local parties, the negotiating parties at the national level negotiate and approve, if appropriate, collective agreement provisions on the matters dealt with in the framework of the trial projects.

II - LOCAL PROCESS FOR MANAGING TRIAL PROJECTS

The negotiating parties at the national level agree on this agreement for the management of trial projects on subjects to be decided by them.

1. Creation of a joint committee

The local parties set up a committee whose mandate is to oversee the trial projects and see to their implementation.

2. Role of the joint committee

The committee must:

- be responsible for the implementation of the trial project previously agreed upon by the negotiating parties at the national level;
- report to the negotiating parties at the national level according to the calendar established by the latter;
- see to the local implementation of decisions and recommendations made by the negotiating parties at the national level.

More specifically, the committee must, among other things:

- take on as its own the process, trial project matters and indicators agreed upon by the negotiating parties at the national level;
- determine the problems in the workplace related to the trial project matters and the priorities for action by completing the investigation and analysis guide agreed upon by the negotiating parties at the national level;
- develop potential solutions and submit them to the negotiating parties at the national level;
- receive, analyse and test locally the solutions approved by the negotiating parties at the national level.

3. Prior conditions

In order to fulfil their mandate, committee members must:

- have access to training agreed upon by the local parties and to all information relevant to understanding the problems and pursuing solutions;
- fill out the national investigation and analysis guide and agree on the diagnosis for their centre.

4. Committee's composition

The committee is composed of an equal number of employer and union representatives:

- the union's representatives are given leave in accordance with the provisions of clause 7.13 of the collective agreement;
- the employer or the union may add outside resource people, with the consent of both parties.

5. Committee operations

Committee decisions are made by consensus. If there is no consensus on the reports to be forwarded to the negotiating parties at the national level, each local party reports to the negotiating party that represents it.

The matters addressed by the joint committee must be dealt with in accordance with the collective agreement and existing working conditions, except when specific agreements stipulating the trial matters and periods of time have been reached by the negotiating parties at the national level. The union remains the sole spokesperson authorized to represent employees covered by the bargaining unit.

Committee meetings, required work and training agreed upon by local parties take place during working hours.

6. Term of the agreement

This agreement is valid for the experimental period decided by the negotiating parties at the national level, at the end of which the trial project is assessed by the local parties and a report is submitted to the negotiating parties at the national level.

2- The parties agree on the person who is to act as mediator-arbitrator no later than four (4) months before the date the institution is to be closed. If the slated date of closing is moved ahead and the four (4)-month period is no longer applicable, the parties have seven (7) days from when the decision to close is announced to agree on the choice of this person.

If they do not agree, a mediator-arbitrator is appointed by the Ministère du Travail, de l'Emploi et de la Solidarité sociale at the request of either party.

3- The mediator-arbitrator strives to bring the parties to reach a settlement and makes any suggestion they deem appropriate.

4- The mediator-arbitrator has the authority to conduct investigations and conciliation. They may hear witnesses and examine evidence submitted to them. With the parties' consent, they may also decide to proceed solely on the basis of a presentation of the facts.

If a settlement is reached at this stage, it is recorded in writing and is binding on the parties.

5- Before rendering a decision, the mediator-arbitrator must allow the parties and their witnesses to be heard, if they so wish.

Their written decision and reasons must normally follow within fifteen (15) days.

6- The mediator-arbitrator hears the dispute on its merits before rendering a decision on a preliminary objection, unless they can rule on the objection immediately.

8- The parties may also agree on any other form of mediation-arbitration.

9- The mediator-arbitrator's fees and expenses are shared equally by the parties.

LETTER OF AGREEMENT 16

REGARDING CERTAIN EMPLOYEES REASSIGNED BETWEEN JUNE 1, 1997 AND JUNE 29, 1998

This letter of agreement applies to employees who were covered by job security and who were reassigned between June 1, 1997 and June 29, 1998.

These employees may not be paid less in their new position than the amount of their layoff benefits.

They may be assigned to complete a shift of work even if they only need a fraction of the shift to make up the difference between the average number of hours used to calculate the layoff benefits and the hours of the position to which they have been reassigned.

For the purpose of the preceding paragraph only, they are deemed to be registered on the replacement team. They may also register on the recall list to complete a normal or regular week of work.

 - ~~4.16.7%~~ of the hourly base rate pay for fifty-six (56) hours or more and less than seventy (70) hours of remunerated work per pay period;
- Level 2:
 - 9.6% of the hourly base rate pay for more than seventy (70) hours of remunerated work per pay period.

The two (2) levels of retention premium cannot be combined.

Remunerated work includes regular hours actually worked and the following hours of absence:

- the following leave provided by the collective agreement:
 - annual vacation leave;
 - statutory holidays;
 - sick leave;
 - floating days off;
 - special leave under clauses 22.19 or 22.19A;
 - special leave under Article 25;
- leave for union work remunerated by the employer or reimbursed by the union when the person concerned is scheduled to be at work;
- training offered by the employer and scheduled during working hours;
- leave remunerated by the employer under Section 59 of the Act respecting industrial accidents and occupational diseases (CQLR c A-3.001) or Section 36 of the Act respecting occupational health and safety (CQLR c S-2.1);
- The periods of disability set ou in paragraph b) of clause 23.17.

The retention premium is non-contributory for pension plan purposes.

The retention premium ends on ~~September~~ March 30, 20230.

Method and formula for adjusting the premium¹

The percentages of the two (2) premium levels are reduced by any adjustment in pay² except for the general parameters of raises in pay provided by the collective agreement.

The reduction in the premium is applied using the following method and formula.

The percentage to be attributed to each of the two (2) levels is determined using the hourly base rate of the maximum echelon on the pay scale. The two (2) reference percentages for the retention premium for the first adjustment to occur are those in force on the date the collective agreement comes into force on April 1, 2015.

Mathematically,

$$\% \text{ Prime de rétention}_{\text{Palier } i, t+1} = \left[\left(\frac{\text{Taux de base horaire de l'échelon maximum}_t \times (1 + \% \text{ Prime de rétention}_{\text{Palier } i, t} - 100)}{\text{Taux de base horaire de l'échelon maximum}_{t+1}} \right) - 1 \right] \times 100$$

When,

i = the number of the retention premium level

when $i = 1$ for Level 1 and $i = 2$ for Level 2;

t = the date preceding the increase in the hourly base rate at the maximum echelon;

$t + 1$ = the date when the hourly base rate at the maximum echelon is increased.

The result of the numerator must be rounded off ~~to the dollar³ if the base rate of the echelon is annual, or to the cent.⁴ if it is an hourly rate.~~

¹ The retention premium is calculated by the Secrétariat du Conseil du trésor in accordance with the provisions of this letter of agreement.

² Including adjustments in pay related to the evaluation of the maintenance of pay equity or pay relativity awarded after April 1, 2015.

³ ~~For rounding off to the dollar, when the decimal point is followed by one or more digits, the first (1st) and following digits are dropped if the first (1st) digit is less than five (5). If the first (1st) digit is equal to or greater than five (5), the dollar is increased by one unit and the first (1st) and following decimal places are dropped.~~

⁴ For rounding off to the cent, when the decimal point is followed by three (3) digits or more, the third (3rd) and following digits are dropped if the third (3rd) digit is less than five (5). If the third (3rd) digit is equal to or greater than five (5), the second (2nd) is increased by one unit and the third (3rd) and following are dropped.

The percentage obtained for the retention premium at each level is rounded off to one place after the decimal point.¹

If the retention premium is reduced in accordance with the premium adjustment method and formula during the life of the collective agreement, the Comité patronal de négociation du secteur de la santé et des services sociaux notifies the union.

Provisions for part-time employees

The provisions of this letter of agreement apply to part-time employees with the following adjustments:

- Benefits for part-time employees that are paid with each pay are applied to the retention premium.
- Hours of absence remunerated as benefits coinciding with a day of work scheduled for an employee are considered to be hours of work for purposes of eligibility for the retention premium. The retention premium does not, however, apply to the absences.

¹ Thus, when the decimal point is followed by two (2) or more digits, the second (2nd) and following digits are dropped if the second (2nd) digit is less than five (5). If the second (2nd) digit is equal to or greater than five (5), the first (1st) digit is increased by one unit and the second (2nd) and following digits are dropped.

LETTER OF AGREEMENT 35

REGARDING THE ADDITION OF STAFF, UPGRADING OF POSITIONS TO FULL-TIME, INCUMBENCY, CERTAIN TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR MAKING FULL-TIME ATTRACTIVE AND FOR THE USE OF OVERTIME, AVAILABILITY OUTSIDE NORMAL WORKING HOURS AND INDEPENDENT LABOUR FOR NURSING AND CARDIO-RESPIRATORY CARE PERSONNEL

CONSIDERING the particular nature of the work done in services in which service is provided by nursing and cardio-respiratory care employees twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week;

CONSIDERING the reality of the use of overtime, availability outside normal working hours and independent labour in the nursing and cardio-respiratory care class of personnel;

CONSIDERING that the parties want to continue efforts to reduce the use of overtime, availability outside normal working hours and independent labour;

CONSIDERING that the parties want to maintain the contribution made by the public health and social services sector workforce and give preference to having work done in house;

The parties agree as follows:

SECTION I ADDITION OF STAFF

1. Residential and long-term care centres (CHSLDs)

A total of one thousand (1,000) full-time equivalents will gradually be added across the entire health and social services system to increase staffing levels in the nursing and cardio-respiratory care class of personnel working at public and private CHSLDs under agreement, in order to support care teams and improve care and services for seniors.

The plan for distributing the additional staff among the various institutions in the health and social services system will be sent to the FSSS-CSN as soon as possible. The distribution plan is subject to change, however, and the FSSS-CSN will be informed of any changes in advance.

2. Other services provided 24/7, excluding CHSLDs

A total of five hundred (500) full-time equivalents will gradually be added across the entire health and social services system to increase staffing levels in the nursing and cardio-respiratory care class of personnel working in services provided twenty-four (24) hours, a day seven (7) days a week, with priority to medicine-surgery, in order to support care teams and improve public care and services.

The plan for distributing the additional staff among the various institutions in the health and social services system will be sent to the FSSS-CSN as soon as possible. The distribution plan is subject to change, however, and the FSSS-CSN will be informed of any changes in advance.

SECTION II UPGRADING OF POSITIONS TO FULL-TIME

1. Target percentage of full-time positions

The parties set themselves the objective of reaching a percentage of full-time positions in each group of job titles and each service equal to:

- a) 80% for each CHSLD service at an institution;
- b) 80% for each emergency service at an institution;
- c) 80% for each obstetrical care (mother-child) unit service at an institution;
- d) 70% for each service at an institution in which service is provided twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week, with the exception of those mentioned above in paragraphs a), b) and c).

The above-mentioned percentages of full-time positions are calculated as a percentage of the total number of employees holding positions.

2. Process of upgrading positions to full-time

The process of upgrading positions to full-time is implemented as follows:

- a) Within sixty (60) days of the date the collective agreement comes into force, the following steps take place simultaneously:
 - The employer posts all vacant positions (full-time and part-time) as full-time in the services covered by Article 1 of Section II of this letter of agreement;
 - The employer offers all part-time employees the opportunity to upgrade to full-time in the same service and shift. Employees who agree to this are confirmed as full-time employees no later than sixty (60) days following their acceptance.
- b) Within eight (8) months of the date the collective agreement comes into force, the employer once again carries out the exercise to upgrade positions to full-time according to the process in paragraph a) above, for each group of job titles and each service in which the percentage of full-time positions has not been met, as applicable.
- c) When the step in paragraph b) is complete, the employer posts vacant full-time positions for each group of job titles and each service in which the percentage of full-time positions has not been met, as applicable.
- d) Within eighteen (18) months of the date the collective agreement comes into force, the employer once again carries out the exercise to upgrade positions to full-time according to the process in paragraph a) above, for each group of job titles and each service in which the percentage of full-time positions has not been met, as applicable.
- e) Once the target percentage of full-time positions is met according to the terms of Article 1 of Section II of this letter of agreement, the employer ensures this percentage is maintained. Consequently, posting of part-time positions for a group of job titles for services covered by Article 1 of Section II of this letter of agreement is only possible if the target percentage is met.

The union party undertakes to recommend the upgrading process to its affiliated unions in order to reach the targets for full-time positions in Article 1 of Section II of this letter of agreement, notwithstanding any local and national provisions in the collective agreement or any individual agreements.

SECTION III INCUMBENCY FOR PART-TIME EMPLOYEES

Within six (6) months of the date the collective agreement comes into force, the employer carries out the upgrading of positions in accordance with the provisions of clause 2.01 of Appendix V, subject to the exceptions provided in clause 1.02 of Appendix V.

To carry out the incumbency process, the local parties undertake to identify terms and conditions for application that provide the staff needed to deliver care and services in a way that is balanced between the various services.

SECTION IV 9/14 SCHEDULE FOR EMPLOYEES WHO HOLD FULL-TIME POSITIONS AND WORK A STEADY EVENING SHIFT

The local parties may agree under a local arrangement to allow an employee who holds a full-time position and works a steady evening shift whose regular work week is spread over five (5) days in a service in which service is provided twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week, to have a work time arrangement with a schedule of nine (9) days of work per fourteen (14)-day period.

In all cases, such local arrangements must not entail any additional cost.

An employee who wants to have a schedule of nine (9) days of work per fourteen (14)-day period for twenty-four (24) fourteen (14)-day periods obtains one (1) paid day off per fourteen (14)-day period, as follows and in the following order:

- ii. and by converting part of the enhanced evening shift premium into paid time off for the equivalent of twelve (12) days for twelve (12) fourteen (14)-day periods.

For the purpose of applying the previous paragraph, the rate for converting evening shift premium into paid time off is as follows:

- 6% equals twelve (12) days.

When an employee ceases to be covered by this letter of agreement in the course of a year, the reduction in the number of statutory holidays and days of sick leave provided for in paragraph i) of this section is prorated to the time between the last anniversary date of the implementation of the letter of agreement for the employee in question and the termination date, compared to a full year.

In such a case, the employer also pays an employee working on a steady evening shift an amount corresponding to the part of the premium that has not been converted, prorated to the number of days worked between the anniversary date of the implementation of the letter of agreement for the employee and the termination date in relation to the number of days of work included in this period. For the purpose of this clause, days of leave stemming from the application of paragraphs i) and ii) of this section, as the case may be, are deemed to be days worked.

By December 15 of each year, the employer makes the necessary monetary adjustments, as the case may be, in respect of the enhanced evening shift premium used or not used for the purpose of conversion into paid time off.

This premium is payable for hours eligible for the evening shift premium provided for in clause 9.07, in addition to the evening shift premium or enhanced evening shift premium, as the case may be.

b) Night shift:

- two per cent (2%) of the hourly rate of pay plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided for in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O, starting on the date the collective agreement comes into force;
- an additional one-half of one per cent (0.5%) of the hourly rate of pay plus, if applicable, the responsibility premium or supplement and the additional remuneration provided for in Article 4 of Appendix B, Article 5 of Appendix D, Article 8 of Appendix N or Article 2 of Appendix O, once the target of 70% full-time positions is met in each institution for services in which service is provided twenty-four (24) hours a day, seven (7) days a week, notwithstanding the established percentage for upgrading positions to full-time provided for in Section II of this letter of agreement.

The employer grants the applicable premium, as the case may be, to an employee holding a full-time position on rotating shifts for each hour worked on the evening or night shift.

For the purpose of the employee's remuneration, clause 8.40 applies to the attraction and retention premiums provided for in this section and the premiums are not considered in the calculation of the monetary compensation provided in Article 7 of Appendix A.

The attraction and retention premiums end on March 30, 2023.

k) Layoff

If the employee is laid off, the contract is terminated on the date of the layoff, and the provisions of paragraph l) of Article 7 apply.

If, however, the employee has job security under clause 15.03, they continue to participate in the plan as long as they remain employed. If this is not the case, the contract is terminated on the date on which employment ends, and the provisions of paragraph l) of Article 7 apply.

l) Breach of contract due to termination of employment, retirement, abandonment or death

- 1- If the leave has been taken, the employee must reimburse, without interest, the pay received during the leave, prorated to the time left in the plan in relation to the period of contributions.
- 2- If the leave has not been taken, the employee is reimbursed, without interest, an amount equal to the contributions retained on their pay up until the time of the breach of contract.
- 3- If the leave is in progress, the amount owed by either party is calculated as follows: the amount received by the employee during the leave minus the amounts already deducted from the employee's earnings in fulfilment of the contract. m) Dismissal

n) Recovery of amounts owed

In the event of a breach of contract, the amounts owed are payable within ten (10) days of being claimed. Furthermore, if the employee owes amounts to the employer, the latter may recover the amounts owed to it from the employee's final pay. If this amount is insufficient, the balance becomes a debt payable in full by the employee or their heirs within ten (10) days of notification of the employer's claim being sent to the employee's last known address. Failing payment, interest at the legal rate is then due.

The parties may modify the conditions for recovery in this paragraph through local arrangements.

o) Part-time employees

An employee holding a part-time position may apply for the plan for leave for family-work-studies balance with pay averaging for family or study reasons as defined in Article 4.

When the leave is taken at the start of the plan for leave for family-work-studies balance with pay averaging, the pay that the part-time employee receives during the leave is based on the number of work hours stipulated for their position and the applicable percentage according to the length of the leave and the plan selected, as set out in paragraph a) of Article 7 of this letter of agreement. ~~When the leave must, however, be taken during the final weeks of the plan, the pay that a part-time employee receives during the leave is established on the basis of the average number of hours worked, excluding overtime, during their contributions period as set out in the plan.~~ participate in the insurance plans by paying the contributions and premiums required for this as if they were not participating in the plan for leave for family-work-studies balance with pay averaging, all subject to the clauses and stipulations of the insurance contract in force.

During leave of more than thirty (30) days, an employee continues to benefit from the basic life insurance plan and may continue to participate in the insurance plans by paying all the contributions and premiums required themselves, all subject to the clauses and stipulations of the insurance contract in force. However, and subject to the provisions of clause 23.14 of the collective agreement, their participation in the basic health insurance plan is mandatory and the employee must pay the total contributions and premiums required for this.

Regardless of the length of leave, during the plan the insurable pay is that set out in paragraph a) of Article 7. The employee may, however, maintain the insurable pay on the basis of the pay they would receive if they were not participating in the plan by paying the additional applicable premiums.
